From JAMES SMITH, M.A., Head Master High School, Cornwall.

"They are admirably suited to supply a long-felt want, and will save teachers a large amount of trouble with beginners. I have already ordered their introduction. Other teachers to whom I have shown them are unstinted in their praises."

From D. McDIARMID, M.D., I. P. S., Glengarry.

"I consider the introduction of your really excellent series of Blank Exercise Books for Grammatical Analysis will fill a want felt by teachers, as often grammatical exercises have been handed in, written in a slovenly manner, on slips of paper of various sizes. When these are preserved in books, liable to be inspected by school visitors, neatness and greater accuracy in the work will be the result."

From J. MACMILLAN, B.A., Ottawa Collegiate Inst., etc.

"I have carefully examined your series of Exercise Books for Grammatical Analysis, and find them in every way suited to aid pupils in acquiring a thorough knowledge of that important subject. They should be in the hands of all such pupils of our Public Schools that are studying English Grammar."

From C. A. BARNES, Inspector of Public Schools, Division No. 1, Lambton.

"I consider them well adapted for use in our public schools. They will supply a want which has been long felt by teachers."

From W. C. MIDDLETON, M.A., Head Master Arnprior High School.

"The introduction of your 'Grammatical Analysis' will tend to promote neatness and method in the preparation of exercises."
