100 YONGE STREET, February 13.

ERHAPS you discount our ability to sell as cheap as we say. The idea that fine new furniture can be sold at less than cost seems preposterous to some people. But the fact remains that present prices here are below the cost of manufacture. However unusual it may seem, the certainty of saving much money is bringing buyers in great numbers. In addition to the regular stock we bought recently over twenty carloads of furniture at prices that meant sacrifice to the makers. Ready money was a great factor in making the purchases, and prices were lower than usual because the season was dull. The result is such extremely good bargains as these :-
