The soul is still in Ireland, Undimmed.unbribed.unbought. As stainless as when neath our day The gallant Sarsfield fought; That self-same flag we'll lift to-day Trom Lagan to the Lee.

Shall rise upright and free! Hurrah! hurrah! God speed the day When chains no more will brand The emerald breast An i the shamrock crest Of our own dear Leish land.

They thought their paltering acts would lure Our fealty from our Queen, That for their pirate flag we'd yield Our own immortal Green; They thought that oe'r the shamrock spray We'd set the English rose, And kiss, like serfs of sou s bereft,

The hand that stunned with blows. But faithful still By mount and rill We stand unquelled to-day, For the matchless green Of our only Queen That floats "in the dawning grey."

For centuries long our fathers fought Through sunshine, storm and rain, Our bravert died, our boldest bled, To burst the galling chain.

Shall we, their sons, in slavery pine A race of worthless slaves, From well-tilled fields of golden grain To reap but famine graves?

Oh, no, hurrah! Let cowards stay, The web of fate is spun, One stubbern stand For our life and land, And the long-fought fight is won! J. T. K.

MOSES JACOBY AND HIS LOVE.

THE RUSE BY WRICH A HERRRY AND A CATHOLIC WERE MARRIED.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 23 - Mr. Moses Jacobs is a middle-aged man employed by the American Express Company. He resides in South Boston, and has always Mrs Bridget Flaherty, a widow and a casher woman, aged about forty, bas for several years resided near Mr. Jawhs. Some time ago an intimate friendship sprang up between the two, which later on rinemed into a well-developed case of old fashioned love. Mr. Jacoba is of the Jewish faith, and Mrs. Brid get Flaherty is a devout Catholic

One week ago to day Moses and Bridget were made one. Naws of the nurriage soon spread, and before nine o'clock in the evening the couple were treated to an impromptu concert on a large scale by the street hoys, in which the musical instruments used were combs covered with paper, tomato cans, drums, and a one-stringed fiddle. For several hours this concert continued, much to the musement of the passengers in the Bry View ars, but to the inconvenience of people who wanted to sleep in the houses in the neigh borhood. The boys were treated outwardly with ice water several times, but they con tinued the concert until driven away by the

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Wilson, of St. Peter and St. Paul's Church. Everyone wondered how a Catholic and a Jew could be married by a tholic pricet, in view of the fact that Catholic Church forbids a marriage with a Jew unless the latter embraces Christianity. It seems that Mr. Jacobs had a friend call at the parochial house of St. Peter and St. Paul's Church and represent to the priest that he Mr. Jacobs's friend, had a friend who wishe ! a dispensation from the Bishop to marry an Irish Protestan', and he wished to please his bride by being married in the Catholic Church and by a Catholic clergyman. The clergyman asked the name of his triend, which the emissary claimed was Donnelly.

The priest heard the story with interest and gave the man a note to Archbishop Wil liams, begging him to grant this dispensation. It was granted, and Mr. Jacobs and Mrs. Flaherty called at the parsonage and were married Meantime Archbishop Williams had learned that D annelly was not an Irish Protestant ; that his name was not Donnelly, but Jacobs, and that he was a Jew. Yesterday Father Wilson denounced the marriage from the pulpit at the solemn High Mass, and said that the marriage was no marriage according to the rites of the Church, which provide that a Jew must obtain a dis-pensation from the Pope before he can marry Catholic. He denounced Mrs. Flaherty for her acquaintance in the matter, and said that the affair was a disgrace. Father Wilson's remarks created great excitement mong the congregation.

It is said that an attempt may be made to have the couple arrested for being married under false pretences.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The massacres of Christians in the E st sent a thrill of horror through France. The superior of the college and a whole host of Christians were slunghtered. lome were thrown into the sea with hands t.od behind their backs. Some missionaries tried to pening their packs. Some missionaries tried to make a stand with muskets but were soon defeated. Churches, schools, and dwelling houses were everywhere burned, and Christians who escaped had to walk for days without food or shelter to reach places of refuge. Gen. De-Courcey is accused by the missionaries of having taken no steps to says them. taken no steps to save them.
