

VANCOUVER

CANADA

A Busy Financial District in Vancouver

BANKING FACTS

As a financial centre Vancouver is rapidly assuming a most important position in Canadian money matters. For the five years ending December 31, 1910, Vancouver bank clearings increased 410 per cent. There are sixteen chartered banks in the city with fifty-seven head offices and branches. There are under construction at the present time two handsome bank buildings, both situated on Hastings Street; a six-storey building for the Molsons Bank, and a three-storey building for the Merchants Bank.

BANK CLEARINGS

1910	$244,988,818
1911	543,484,354
1912 (five months)	251,925,333
Week ended June 15, 1912 ..	12,800,239

MANUFACTURES

Manufacturers will find unlimited opportunities to engage in money-making enterprises in Vancouver. There are two electric companies in the competitive field supplying light and power at a small margin of profit. Opportunities for the handling of raw materials and finished products by water and rail transportation are unexcelled. There is absolutely no civic taxation imposed upon buildings, improvements or stock.

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION 1911

Factories within city limits ..	92
Workmen employed	8,201
Gross output	$15,566,575
Total investment to date	$16,116,802

Let us send you particulars of the wonderful possibilities of Vancouver and British Columbia. Write Department C.

PROGRESS CLUB

652 Granville Street
VANCOUVER, CANADA