

WESTERN EUROPEAN DIVISION

A graduate of the University of Manitoba, Mr. Molgat attended also the Institut d'Études politiques de Paris. He is a Rhodes scholar. He has had postings in Hong Kong, Rawalpindi, Islamabad and Washington. He is currently Director of Western European Division.

Canada and NATO

RIDDELL, G.G. (See biographical sketch on page 1)

Mr. Ridzell is currently Director of the Western European Division of the Canadian International Affairs Centre. He has held postings in various countries and is the author of several articles on the Canadian foreign policy. Mr. Ridzell is currently Director of the Western European Division.

Canada's relations with Western Europe and North America are of central importance for the West. At the University of the Western Ontario, Mr. Ridzell has been a Fellow at the Centre for International Affairs and has held various positions as Director of the Historical Division, as well as being an Ambassador in Warsaw. Other assignments in the past include Berlin, Bonn, London, Ottawa, Paris, and Saigon and Hanoi.

Canada's relations with Western Europe are of central importance for the West. At the University of the Western Ontario, Mr. Ridzell has been a Fellow at the Centre for International Affairs and has held various positions as Director of the Historical Division, as well as being an Ambassador in Warsaw. Other assignments in the past include Berlin, Bonn, London, Ottawa, Paris, and Saigon and Hanoi.