Canadians also served on a number of FAO expert panels such as:
Panel of Experts on Integrated Pest Control; Working Party of Experts on Pesticide Residues; Seminar on Experts to Advise on Soil Map of the World Project; Expert Panel of Nutrition; Advisory Committee on Marine Resources Research; Advisory Committee on Forestry Education; FAO-WHO Expert Group on Vitamin Requirements.

Canada continues to be active both in its support of the FAO and its participation in the Organization. It has been a member of the Council, the Committee on Commodity Problems, the Fisheries Committee, the Sub-Committee on Surplus Disposal and the Group on Grains since their inception, and has participated in the Study Groups on Fats and Oils, Bananas and Hard Fibres, as well as in groups involved in food-standard work. Canadians served as chairmen of the FAO Conference and the UN-FAO World Food Program Pledging Conference, the Intergovernmental Committee of the World Food Program, the Fisheries Committee, and the Committee on Commodity Problems, and as First Vice-Chairman of the Council, Chairman of the Finance Committee, Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the North American Forestry Commission, and chairmen of various working parties.

Canada recognizes the role of the Food and Agriculture Organization.
It also recognizes the need of the FAO to be flexible, to adapt itself to changing conditions and to meet new challenges. Canada's contribution has matched the growing responsibilities of the FAO in the war against hunger and in the struggle to attain freedom from want.
