

opportunity of association with all peoples of the world, all of us no doubt with somewhat special problems of our own, but all of us united in the belief that solutions to the world's problems must be the consequence of joint action, of joint discussion, of reason, of persuasion, and of a sense of world community which, it is our conviction, UNESCO of all the United Nations agencies has perhaps the greatest responsibility and the greatest opportunity to further.

---

S/C