SON EXONERATED FROM ALL BLAME

In Connection With Death of James Gaynor After a Quarrel.

"ACCIDENTAL" VERDICT

Chief Coroner Explained Why He Decided to Hold an Inquest.

The case of George Gaynor, who was taken to court on a material witness after the sudden death of his father, James Gaynor, 327 Mutual street, Saturday evening, was cleared up last night at the morgue, when Chief Coroner A. J. Johnson's jury returned a verdict of death from heart failure, and not from any unnatural cause.

All the evidence was to the effect that young Gaynor, returning home in an intoxicated condition, entered into a heated argument with his aged father regarding money matters, and a statement which the housekeeper was said to have circulated about him. The father became very angry upon hearing his son, and being subject to heart trouble, fell to the floor unconscious, dying in a few minutes. The son testified that he was walking towards his father when he noticed him away from his feet, but before he could reach him he had fallen, striking his head on the floor.

Coroner Johnson, in his address to the jury, stated that he believed that Mr. Gaynor died from heart failure, and that the son, who was charged with the death of his father, was not responsible for the death.

He said that he had no doubt that the son was a good man, and that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man.

He said that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man, and that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man.

He said that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man, and that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man.

He said that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man, and that he was not a drunkard, and that he was not a violent man.

SLICK BUNCO GAME WORKED IN VIENNA

United States Tourist Doctor Loses Thousand to Strange Benefactor.

VIENNA, Sept. 14.—A number of American confidence men have made their appearance in Vienna and have been quite successful. A few days ago they robbed A. J. Caldwell, an American doctor, of Corpus Christi, Texas, of $1000.

Dr. Caldwell was in the bar of a hotel when a man pretended to take a liking to him. The two spent several days together sightseeing, frequenting theatres, etc. Finally one day, while they were in a restaurant, another man walked past them and dropped his pocketbook. Dr. Caldwell picked it up and handed it to him. The man was so pleased that he joined the company.

He introduced himself as Mr. Ryan and said he was traveling to Rome with his wife. He offered to give the doctor and his companion double the amount each had in his pocket to distribute in charity in America.

Dr. Caldwell's companion, calling himself Mr. Lewis, gave Mr. Ryan $4000, while Dr. Caldwell himself gave up $1000 in traveler's cheques. Mr. Ryan was to give them the money immediately, but he had first to go out of the restaurant for a moment. Before going he asked Dr. Caldwell to hand him over his gold ring so that he could have the measure for a new ring which he wanted to present to his wife.

Mr. Ryan went out and when he did not return Dr. Caldwell returned to find that the money had been given to the man who had stolen the pocketbook. Dr. Caldwell reported the matter to the police and they found that the cheques had already been cashed at a bank.

A similar case occurred some time ago when another American was made out of $400, presumably by the same men.

STOP ACCIDENTS ON CITY STREETS

Policy is Being Framed by Representative Bodies in Toronto.

MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Board of Trade Has Taken Great Interest in the Matter.

The campaign to minimize the accident and death toll on Toronto streets is away to a good start. The invitation of the Ontario Railway Board for traffic and vehicle representatives to convene, to this end, might almost have been a mandate compelling attendance, so great was the number who came to the first meeting yesterday. Before the day closed, it became evident that the desire to co-operate in such a movement as close to the hearts of all the representative men present. As a result, a committee was organized and preparations were made to launch out into an active policy. The exact nature of the work to be taken up will be settled at a meeting in the Board of Trade Building, tomorrow, at 5 o'clock.

Varied Interests.

To an audience comprising delegates from the board of trade, Canadian Manufacturers Association, Toronto Railway Co., Metropolitan Railway, Ontario Motor League, board of education, and other organizations, Chairman D. M. McIntyre pointed out the obvious necessity of restriction on the "alarmingly increasing number of street accidents."

The board had not money to back up an anti-accident campaign, but they had the spirit and were merely waiting the settlement of a proper policy. American cities were educating young and old in the way to avoid injury, surely Toronto, the progressive, could follow suit.

Col. Brock and People who are now in the way of education. The view of W. K. George, who urged that a great opportunity to reach the children lay in the board of education.

Not So Strict.

President Henslow of the Ontario Motor League, pointed out that legislation on careless pedestrians was not so strict here as in recognized crossings. Moreover, drivers of all vehicles, as well as motorists, should be compelled to follow the same traffic rules in rounding corners.

The remainder of the speeches all went to show that the formation of a policy following the formation of a policy.

PEASANT BOY IS RAPID TRAVELER

Covers Seven Thousand Miles in Period of Eleven Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—From his home in the Pyrenees, Henri Michel, a peasant boy, is to be brought to his uncle's ranch near El Varano, Sonoma County.

In just eleven days from the time the little fellow leaves the wild and mountainous region of the Pyrenees, he will be in the peaceful valley of Sonoma, dropped out of the clouds, as it were. To this peasant boy, who speaks no English, and whose life has been spent in scaling precipitous snow-clad peaks, it will be a transformation.

Henri, who will make the 7000-mile journey in eleven days, has been taken to San Francisco by a French steamer, and will be taken to his uncle's ranch by a French steamer.
