

DISCUSSION.

3

herd what he would have done in a case in which the clinical symptoms were clear, as in the case described, had he not found the bacilli?

Dr. SHEPHERD knew of the fact mentioned by Dr. Morrow, but in the case reported there was absolutely no nasal secretion.

He expected to find the lepra bacillus in the excised portion of the nerve, and was not disappointed.