Bullish Manipulation is Resumed market for ten years. on Wall St. Market-Toronto Market Inert.

World Office, Thursday Evening, July 18. Inert and apathetic the Toronto market to-day represented exactly past. There was less manipulation in prices to-day, due perhaps to the poor response which has met recent ef-forts of this variety of trading. In no one stock did the buying as indicated from the sales have the slightest effect upon quotations. It is conceded that the only real transactions at present are from investors, and this being the case, the floating stock will have to show a sharp diminution if current purchases are to have any beneficial effect upon quotations market situation was apparently uninnenced by anything save the technical position of holdings. The Bank of England statement for the week presented a substantial increase in reserve; the Wall-street market preserved a firm and improving appearance, ut neither of these carried any influence as far as local securities were concerned. Price changes in to-day's transactions were not of a character sufficient to create the presumption that any material improvement or depreciation is likely to transpire for the present.

The market to-day has ruled irregular, but tended higher and sentiment continued to improve. Investors are showing fresh interest in short term notes, and are buying bonds a little more freely.
