By the will $1,000,000 is bequeathed for the benefit of the negro race. Some time ago this bequest was paid over Burke Frissell, as trustees, and a codicil, dated Feb. 27, 1907, revoked that particular provision of the will. Among the institutions benefited are Swarthmore College and a score of hospitals in this city and elsewhere. The will bequeaths to Swarthmore College all the testator's coal and mineral lands and five-eighths owenrship in the Rebecca Steadman tract in the Hazle Brook Collieries, on condition that the management abandons all participation in intercollegiate sports and games.

participation in intercollegiate sports and games.

The sum of $250,000 is bequeathed to the trustees of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting as an additional donation to the Joseph Jeanes fund for quarterly meeting houses, the income to be used in the establishment and assistance of hospitals connected with such meeting houses.

Miss Jeanes also bequeathes a farm of 47 acres at Oxford Pike and Old Township line to the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, the proceeds to be devoted to the aid of disabled women and to the Home for Aged and Infirm Friends.

Bequests of $20,000 each are made to the Fairhill burying ground for the encouragement of cremation and to the Friends' Yearly Meeting, to be applied to the Freedman's Schools, while the Philadelphia Hospital for Women, the Hahnemann Hospital and the Philadelphia Home for Incurables are each given $10,000. Nine relatives are given $5000 each.
