will be in custody.

Annie is well-known in the district. She is a petite, good-looking girl of German extraction, 22 years of age, and has light hair and fair complexion. Her family ued to live at Victoria-square, a small hamlet lying to the north of East Toronto village, but on the death of the father, who was a laborer, they proved into Markham, where Annie entered service as a servant. A little later the mother died also, and the girl was left relationless. The case is exciting much interest in the East end. The excitement hasn't reached the climax yet.

diminished; it is a Christian duty incumbent upon every man with others dependent upon him, to make ample provision for them in case of his untimely death.

Such provision can best be made, if you are in good health, through the medium of life insurance. Under the favorite semitontine and compound investment plans of the North American Life Assurance Company, absolute protection is afforded to a man's dependents in the event of his death within the fivestment period selected (15 or 20 years, as the case may be), and should he survive such period, he has amongst other valuable options, that of a life annuity, i.e., a definite, specified, guaranteed annual income payable to him during the remainder of his life.

Full particulars of these attractive forms of investment insurance, furnished on application to the company's Provincial Managers: Dr. Chas. Ault, 180 St. James-street, Montreal, Que.; Geo. E. Northwest mission field before going to St. Paul.

He is still a Canadian, When asked how he liked living in Minnesota, he said:

"Man is very much like a tree, transplant him when he is young and there is a fair chance of his growing into the country, but when a man is older it is different.

"There are a great many Canadians in Minnesota, about 5000 in St. Paul and 10,000 in Minneapolis, seemingly satisfied with their condition and highly esteemed by the American people. There are greater opportunities for money-making, but work such as mine is not so satisfactory, for the people lack moral stability, owing in part to the large foreign element there.

THEIR NORMAL SCHOOLS.

"There are five large Normal Schools at different points throughout the state, but their system compares very unfavorably with that of Ontario, taking young people at a very early age, in fact, at almost any stage of their educational development, and, after three or four years, turning them out as teachers. That they do not confine themselves to giving a simply professional training he considers the weak point of their system and also the lack offuniformity in text books, so that when a family removes from one city to another the school books are useless, necessitating a new supply.

to uplift and remove fallen women from temptation. Of these, fewer have been taken in than in former years, but as there have removed.

Mr. Alex. Johnson, who has for a long time past been a central figure in the management of the State Charities of Indiana, and Mr. H. H. Hart, the General Secretary of the State Board of Charities of Minnesota, are both expected to visit the city to-morrow night in the interests of the large conference of charities which is to be held next July. They will address a public meeting on Saturday night in the Y.W.C. Guild Hall, to which all who are engaged in charitable work are cordially invited.
