Mining on Vancouver Island. Mining on Vancouver Island.

While mining is advancing on the mainland of British Columbia, activity is also noticeable on the west coast of Vancouver Island. A lot of development work is under way, and the sale is announced of the Alberni consolidated group to the Alliance Mining Syndicate, an English organization. The syndicate, which has taken over the property, is to pay $25,000 cash on November 1, and is to do $3000 worth of development work each month until the balance is paid.
