

KAISER RESTING IN GREAT STYLE

Up at 7 a.m. and Scooting Around 'Country' in Auto at Sixty Miles an Hour.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Emperor William, concerning whose health there have been circulated various rumors of late, is pursuing a rather strenuous "rest cure" at Highcliffe Castle, on the Isle of Wight.

Yesterday he was at his desk at 7 a.m., and was engaged two hours with state affairs before breakfast. Then both in the morning and the afternoon he took long drives in a powerful motor car thru the surrounding country, in company with members of his suite. The machine ran mostly at a pace not exceeding forty miles an hour, but in some places where there was no danger the speed reached sixty miles an hour. The emperor is sleeping well in the pine-scented country, and his health is steadily improving.

PRESS FOR INJUNCTION.

Mr. Vickers Has Prepared Affidavit in Support of Application Being Made.

W. W. Vickers, counsel for Park Commissioner Chambers, has prepared an affidavit in support of the application being made before Judge More to restrain Judge Winchester from examining books and witnesses privately.

Mr. Vickers says in his affidavit that he believes Mr. Chambers' defence in meeting all charges as well as allegations will be greatly impeded by reason of the private hearing in the presence of the said Judge, Mr. Raney, who has been retained as counsel for the city, the city detectives assigned to the task of obtaining evidence, and others. He says he has been informed that on Saturday last there appeared before the Judge Mr. Raney and Mr. Walter Peay, E. R. French, James McDougall and Fred Dunn.

It is stated that some, or all of these men, who have bought materials from the parks department, have been subpoenaed to attend.

The city architect says that the firm of George H. Hees, Sons & Co., whose water tank collapsed on Tuesday night, did not apply for a permit, and are liable to prosecution for such neglect.

LOCAL VETO IN WEST.

Rev. Dr. Chown Returns From an Important Conference.

Rev. Dr. Chown returned yesterday from the west, where he attended two large and successful conferences, called in the interest of moral reform. Resolutions were passed in favor of the local veto, which was turned down here, local option, while in the great west the English form is used—and the abolition of the bar and of treating, but no definite conclusion was reached on the question of direct control or ownership of the license system by the government.

It is believed, however, that if anything of this kind is attempted, it will not be an exact copy of the system adopted in the state of South Carolina, but something similar to this system, with a number of modifications, deemed necessary to meet the conditions generally existing throughout the Dominion.

Members of the Anglican, Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and other churches, as well as trades and labor, fraternal's brotherhood and royal temple organizations, participated in the conventions.

BURIED IN TRENCH.

Two Laborers Badly Hurt by Cave-in of Earth.

Working in a trench at the corner of Pape and Danforth aces yesterday, Luigi Moschetti, 240 Chestnut-street, and Antonio Queda, 117 Broadview-avenue, were buried in a cave-in, sustaining severe injuries. Several other workmen had narrow escapes. The injured men were sent to the general hospital.

Queda had his collarbone broken as well as several ribs. Both men were unconscious when dug out.

Aeronaut's Danger.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Count Henri de Launay, the well-known French aeronaut, had a narrow escape from death while experimenting with a new aeroplane near this city. The machine collapsed while speeding thru the air at a rate of 30 miles an hour, and crashed to the ground with great force. The count was pinned under the mass of wreckage. The gasoline caught fire. Friends, however, succeeded in releasing him in the nick of time.

Small Investors Increase.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The extent to which small investors are buying railroad stocks is indicated by an increase of 3050 in the number of stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for Oct. 2.

RECIPE FOR COLDS

THE OLD TOLENE AND WHISKY MIXTURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ETC., ONCE MORE.

From an eminent local druggist we learn that the old, reliable, mixture of whiskey and Tolene is as popular today as it was years ago, and that it is better than many of the so-called cure cures advertised extensively. Here is the recipe:

Fluid extract Licorice..... 1/2 oz.
Fluid extract Cascara..... 1/2 oz.
Elixir Tolene..... 1 oz.
Best rye whiskey..... 6 oz.

Take a dessertspoonful every two or three hours. Children in proportion.

These well-known ingredients can be bought at any drug store at small expense and mixed at home.

CROWN WITNESS SAYS SIFTON PAID OUT MONEY

George Ardy in the Box—Sensational Evidence May Be Expected To-Day.

A dozen witnesses from London, including George Ardy, the defendant, who was discharged to be used as a crown witness, gave evidence in the London conspiracy trial yesterday. Crown Prosecutor Staunton expects to close the crown's case to-day. E. I. Sifton and Tom Lewis will be the new crown witnesses.

At the afternoon session Mr. Staunton asked permission to read the evidence of two witnesses who were absent. He then read the evidence of John Cox and Andrew Robinson, voters in the by-election of 1905, relating to the receipt of envelopes containing money from W. J. Mulloy.

Edwin Ramsay, for many years a resident of London, said that a polling booth was held in his house in the Beck-Rumble election of 1904. In the Hyman-Gray election he tried to let it for a similar purpose, but was too late in his application. After the election was over he was handed five-dollar bills, but he could not swear who gave him the money.

Edward Jeffrey, at one time secretary of the London Liberal Club, said that he had made up the list of deputy returning officers at the Gray-Hyman election. He appointed Jeffrey Collins because he was an active worker.

Mr. Jeffrey wanted to explain his answer, but was stopped by Mr. Staunton.

"Lawyers are the rottenest witnesses," said the prosecutor. "They talk too much."

Mr. O'Gorman had asked the witness to look after certain people "because the Tories were after him."

There was a bedroom in the Liberal building and Mr. Staunton tried to get the witness to say that O'Gorman occupied this room, but Jeffrey would not admit that he knew the occupant of the room, altho he had been told O'Gorman had slept there.

Witness knew that the Conservatives had protested against Jerry Collins and Bradwin as deputy returning officers.

"Did you ever know an election in London during the past ten years in which O'Gorman did not work?"

"He was there."

"What did he do?"

"I don't know."

"What did he do?"

"He did most of the ordering."

"Was he the boss?"

"I don't think so."

"Did you ever get any money from him?"

"Yes. Liberal Club expenses, maybe $100 a day for a reception to Mr. Hyman."

Where did O'Gorman live during the last election, asked Mr. Jeffrey.

"I don't know exactly."

Mr. McEwen cross-examined the witness briefly.

Thou Art the Man!

George E. Cooper, several times a deputy returning officer in London elections, was subpoenaed. He went to Collins Hall, where a man sitting near him gave him $15.

I have been looking for the man since I came to court," said the witness.

"The only man who looks like him is that man there," he pointed to Harry Fowler, reporter for the London Advertiser, who was sitting in the press box busy with his "copy."

Amid general amusement Fowler denied the charge.

Oscar Wootton contradicted his previous evidence at the police court. He claimed that the $10 he got was his wages from the tannery. He admitted taking Sifton to see some voters.

"This money was paid by Mr. Hyman in spite of the fact that you had been away canvassing votes," asked Mr. Johnston.

"Yes," replied the witness.

George Ardy, who was discharged on the conspiracy charge and subpoenaed as a crown witness, deposed to finding six voters who were "out for the job." Witness saw three alone and the others were interviewed in company with Sifton. Sifton gave them the money for voting for Hyman.

George Stephenson was seen and bought up by Jerry Collins. Collins was with Billy Mulloy.

"What was doing?"

"A $10-spot."

"Where did you get it?"

"At Lewis' Hotel, shortly after the election."

"What did you do with it?"

"I took it home." (Laughter.)

To Mr. Johnston witness said he was half drunk.

"Were you sober when you sold your vote?"

"A damn site soberer than I am today."

George Washington the Second.

William Spence and William Servis gave evidence at the morning session. Servis was sleepy and his evidence—the same story as he told in the police court—did not please the crown.

Francis Jones said that he had paid out $48 in the Hyman-Gray election, and only got $41 back. He was questioned about an envelope he sent to a Mr. Witte.

"When did you give the envelope to Witte?" asked Mr. Staunton.

"I didn't give it to him. I sent it to him by my little boy."

"The day of the election?"

"Possibly, but not probably."

"What was in it?"

"I don't know."

"Tell the truth," thundered Mr. Staunton. "You're horrified at the whiskey seller. I want to find out what you think of the truth. You have been lying here as a virtuous citizen. Witness persisted that he didn't know what was in the envelope.

"Don't make a further spectacle of him," said Mr. Staunton, when Mr. Johnston rose to cross-examine the witness.

"Your own witness," returned Mr. Johnston.

"Yes, and I'm ashamed of him."

Fruit Institutes.

G. A. Putnam, superintendent of Forgers' Institutes, is arranging for fruit institutes in various parts of the province, and meetings will be held at Grimsby and Trenton near the close of December. At these meetings addresses will be given by experts on the suitability of the soil, the selection of stock, pruning, packing, and other matters of interest to fruit growers.

TO DRAW HERRING ACROSS PLANS FOR CHEAP POWER

Dr. Riordan's Suggestion That Filtration Bylaw Come First Eyed Askance by Controllers.

The board of control yesterday considered a letter from Dr. Bruce L. Riordan, the writer giving the opinion that the city was much more in need of a bylaw to provide for water filtration than one for cheap power.

Controller Hubbard, commenting on the low death rate from typhoid, said that the impurity of Lake Ontario water had yet to be shown.

"They are drawing a red herring across the scent in the power plan. The doctors ought to be ashamed of themselves in writing stirring letters," he remarked.

Controller Hocken questioned whether the letter would have been written but for the power issue. The letter was filed away.

Exhibition Improvements.

The board of control looks favorably upon the proposed exhibition improvements. These include the new transportation building at the foot of Dufferin-street, to cost $250,000, a new entrance to the grounds on Dufferin-street, to cost $6000 or $7000, and an eastern street railway entrance. The bridge in connection with the railway will cost about $30,000.

Manager Orr said that the Historical Society and Army and Navy Veterans had no objection to the railway line going thru the Old Fort grounds, provided that no damage was done to the buildings and the grounds were maintained as a park.

Will Cancel Lease.

Cancellation of the lease of a portion of Stanley Park to D. McDonald for the establishing of a horse market, was agreed upon by the board. Mr. McDonald having found himself unable to finance the project.

As a result of the collapse of George H. Hees, Sons & Co.'s water tank, the board decided to have City Architect MacCallum inspect the supports of the various sprinkler tanks thruout the city.

City Treasurer Condy will report on the exhibition finances, and the amount of money at the disposal of the management.

LABOR WILL NOT BRING OUT TICKET IN BROCKVILLE

Compromise Agreement Comes to an End—Independent Party Formed.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—There has been considerable talk of the local labor unions bringing out a ticket at the next January elections to get control of municipal affairs. The Trades and Labor Council has passed a resolution restraining from taking any part in the fight and leaving labor men free to vote.

When an independent party formed which will put a full ticket in the field for the purpose of defeating the compromise council. Three years ago the Grists and Tories agreed to elect the mayor and councillors without a contest, each party taking the mayor's seat alternately. The compromise expires at the close of 1908.

There is anxiety thruout the Township of Prescott over the disappearance of J. Kennedy, a local politician. He has been missing from his home for two days, and no trace of him can be found.

The treasury department has received a cheque for $13,188 from the estate of the late S. H. Breesse, a private banker of Chateaufort, this being full of amount of succession duties for the province under the act. The estate amounted to $263,760 and was divided among nephews and nieces. The province gets one-twentieth.

Sudden Death at Penateng.

PENATENG, Nov. 20.—James Sinnett came here about 1880, when match-making was started at the time for boys. He worked in the mill for some years and since then he has been employed most of the time by the C. Beck Manufacturing Co. He fell into town this afternoon with Mr. Denure of the asylum. He had called at the postoffice and crossed the street to the North-west corner when he fell forward on his face and died.

BOYD TELLS HIS STORY JUDGE'S CHARGE TO-DAY

Counsel for Defence Asks for Verdict of Manslaughter—Crown Presses for Murder.

With the defence resting on an argument advanced by a lawyer now deceased, the fate of John Boyd will be determined by the jury to-day. He is charged with the murder, by shooting, of Edward Wandle on June 11 last.

After addresses by T. Phelan, counsel for the defence, and by G. T. Blackstock, crown prosecutor, the jury was last evening directed by four sheriffs' officers and lodged in the Elliott House over night.

Mr. Phelan urged the plea of provocation and availed himself of a suggestion made by the late Nicholas Murphy, K.C., who, in talking over the Boyd case with T. C. Robinson at the time of the police court hearing, said: "Remember that colored blood takes long to cool." Mr. Phelan asked for a verdict of manslaughter.

Mr. Blackstock urged upon the jury the duty of protecting the citizens. The shooting, he held, was deliberate and brutal.

It is better that many guilty should go free than that one innocent should suffer, it was also true that the action of juries was watched by the criminal classes, who thus gauged their own chances in future crimes, so that when a jury weakly acquitted a prisoner, he would be encouraged to repeat his mental convictions and call to their aid some trumped-up doubt, they committed a grave offence against society at large.

Boyd's Story.

Boyd went into the box in his own defence. He had been in Toronto three years, he said. On the fatal day he left the hotel where he had been working, and went with a young fellow to Bayview and Avenue roads to get his laundry from Naomi Carl, with whom he had been living. He was told he would find her at Wandle's. He went there, asked for her, persisted that she was in the

BANK ISSUES MAGAZINE ON ITS OWN PREMISES

Staff of the Nova Scotia Go Into Journalism — Contents of First Number.

The Nova Scotian is the title of a unique twenty-four page magazine; it is edited, printed and published by the staff, and on the premises of the Bank of Nova Scotia in this city. It will be issued quarterly for the discussion of banking topics, and as a means of keeping a widely-scattered staff in touch with one another and fostering an esprit de corps. The contents of the first number are: Introductory; "The Vital Importance of Maintaining the Standard of the Profession," by Prof. Goldwin Smith, LL.D.; "The Bank of Nova Scotia," by H. A. Flemming; "Yan-couver To-day," by H. D. Burns; "Diagrams and Microbes," by Rev. W. T. Allison, M.A., B.D.; "The Bank Clerk's Study Club," by S. McAdam; "The Bank of Nova Scotia, Some of its Facts and Figures," by J. Cowan; "E."

T. Hammett, "An Appreciation," by Hector McInnes, K.C.; "Bank and Criticism," by A. H. M. Hay, M.A.; "Athletics Among Maritime Branches," by R. A. Sutherland, and social notes, illustrations, etc. The cover design is especially attractive.

Mr. Hay in his article says: "I would propose that in times of extreme money stringency an incorporated bank be allowed to issue notes in excess of its paid-up capital (by not more than 50 per cent. thereof) upon satisfying certain conditions, the following of which I would lay down as essential, viz.:

"(1) Such bank must have a reserve fund equal to at least 100 per cent. of its paid-up capital.

"(2) Must have been paying for not less than say five years a dividend on its capital stock at the rate of not less than 10 per cent.

"(3) Must submit its books and accounts to an independent and external inspection.

"(4) In addition to the ordinary 5 per cent. deposit in 'bank circulation reserve' fund, an additional deposit to the fund amounting to 10 per cent. of the excess of circulation must be made by the bank.

"In addition to the above essentials, if the opposers of the proposed amendment insist on further safeguards for the public, let the present 'double liability' of shareholders be increased in proportion to the excess of note circulation over paid-up capital."

Goldwin Smith, in his contribution says: "It would be well, as I have always thought, if, to other inducements
