

TRIBUTE PAID TO DEAN HAND'S WORK

Congregation Presents Him With Illuminated Address and Purse.

CELEBRATES JUBILEE

Members of Church Overseas Also Send Greetings.

Immediately following the celebration of 11 o'clock mass yesterday morning at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Queen and Power streets, the congregation, as a mark of their esteem for the valuable work performed by Rev. Dean Hand, parish priest, in his 25 years' connection with the parish, presented him with an illuminated address and a very valuable purse. The address was read and presented by Controller John O'Neill, who added his deep appreciation of the services rendered by the dean. Rev. Father Doherty of Mimico delivered an eloquent address on the work of the parish priest.

Rev. Dean Hand made a very neat reply and referred particularly to the valuable assistance which had been given him in carrying out his work in the church. Many of the old parishioners were specially mentioned by the dean in connection with the support they had given him.

The address paid a noble tribute to the worth of Dean Hand and his splendid organizing ability. The 25th anniversary of the dean's entrance to the parish, it said, was an occasion for rejoicing and, in fact, a family festival, as he had been so long identified with the life and activities of the church. Such had been his devotion to their interests that they had one and all learned to look upon him as a true father in the midst of many spiritual children.

The occasion marked the completion of a period of singular prosperity and wonderful development of St. Paul's, which has been 31 years in existence. He had entered the church when it was burdened with great financial obligations, but his remarkable skill as a financier had enabled him to clear the church of all its indebtedness within a few years after assuming charge of the congregation. The church stood as an enduring monument to his zeal for the worship of Christ and was eloquent testimony to his executive and administrative ability. He also received an address from St. Paul's A. A.

Large Honor Roll.
Rev. Dean Hand who was ordained in 1892, succeeded the late Bishop Timothy O'Mahony who died on September 9, 1912, taking charge of the parish on October 14, following. St. Paul's was built by Bishop O'Mahony, but was completed by Dean Hand, who added the marble altars and embellished the interior of the edifice. A few years ago he opened St. Paul's parish house, one of the finest institutions in the city for the social recreation of the young men of the parish.

Dean Hand was the recipient of numerous congratulations during the day on the celebration of his 25th anniversary as parish priest, but none gave him more satisfaction or pride than the cable of congratulations from the young men of his parish overseas.

Since the war started he has been very instrumental in organizing church associations for the aid and comfort of the men. Approximately 600 members of the church have reached the firing line in Flanders. This is probably the finest record of any church in Canada.

PROTEST AGAINST WASTE.

Sault Ste. Marie Organization Passes Resolution.

The Men's Christian Workers' League of Sault Ste. Marie and Steelton, at a meeting held on Sunday, October 7, drew up and sent to the various denominational and other organizations of the Dominion, a resolution putting itself on record as emphatically protesting against the alleged enormous wastage of foodstuffs occasioned by the manufacture of intoxicants. The resolution also called upon the Dominion Government to "show its sincerity in its endeavor to conserve the foodstuffs of the country by prohibiting forthwith the destruction of food occasioned by the manufacture of intoxicating beverages." At the same time the league recorded its hearty approval of the government's efforts to save the country's food supply.

SMOOTH RUNNING OF SERVICE ACT

Starts Off Saturday Morning at General Postoffice Building.

MANY EXEMPTIONS

About an Hour Before First Active Service Man Was Secured.

Saturday was a history-making day for Toronto's military service machinery was started at 9.35 in the morning when registration commenced, and as each hour passed new methods were employed to handle the large crowd. At the first all the forms were filled out by the postal clerks as the applicants made their way into the general postoffice, but later the new registration depot was opened at 48 East Adelaide street, and about 10.30 over 50 applications had been signed. The claims for exemption were in excess of those for active service, for it was not until 10.40 that the first active service form was filled in. Arthur McCormack of 37 Elgin avenue being the first man to whom fell this honor, while the first registration was made by T. H. Dickenson of 40 College street.

Of 460 men who called at the general postoffice 300 made out papers asking for exemption, and 150 others reported for service. At postal station F eight applied for exemption to none for service; at G nine claimed exemption and one reported; at H three claimed exemption, none reported; and at K two claimed exemption and none reported.

W. B. Rogers, postmaster, stated that from now on the work will be carried on at the following stations: Postal station C, Queen street, opposite Lascar street; postal station D, Keele and Dundas; station E, Bloor and Markham; station F, Yonge and Charles; station G, East Queen and Sault; station H, Gerard and Main; station K, North Toronto, and at the head office, 48 East Adelaide street. He stated that it is hoped, in order that the work may be well divided, that the various parties will apply as far as possible to those stations nearest where they live. At each station a staff will be kept in attendance to accept applications and to take application for exemption from 8 in the morning until 11 at night.

The forms are not allowed to be taken out of the office, but they call for the applicant's name and address, the name and business of his employer, and submit about eight different forms for which exemptions may be claimed. After the applicant has signed he obtains a receipt from the postmaster, and the forms are then forwarded to the registrar, who in turn will arrange a date when the applicant may present himself to the board of exemption. With reference to those that sign on for active service these are forwarded to the military authorities.

The proclamation briefly summarized announcements: "The C. E. F. is engaged on active service overseas for the defence and security of Canada, the preservation of our empire and of human liberty." It goes on to state the necessities of the war to provide reinforcements for the expeditionary forces, and because of the large number who have already left the agricultural and industrial pursuits, it has been determined expedient to secure by selective draft the men required, such reinforcements not to exceed 100,000 men. The first six classes to consist of single men or widowers who have no child and who at any time since August 4, 1914, have been residents in Canada, who have attained the age of 20 years and who were not born earlier than 1883, and were on the sixth day of July, 1917, unmarried.

How Work is Done.

The forms are issued in numerical order and no form is allowed to leave the building. A receipt is given by the postmaster, and this alone is all the applicant receives.

Considerable differences of opinion exist among the officials in Toronto in connection with the operation of the act. Judge Winchester, senior county judge, has appointed one member on each of the local tribunals, and he believes that the regulations which will be issued from Ottawa will be so explicit that there will not be much necessity for the tribunals to exercise their own judgment. But Glyn Oester, K.C., the official registrar, is of the opinion that the members of the tribunals will have a wide scope in exercising their own judgments; and Col. R. H. Green, who represents the military authorities in military district No. 2, in investigating the exemption claims, said that he thought the regulations will be voluminous. Col. Green will have a representative at each tribunal, 75 per cent. of which have already been appointed, and the full list most likely will be ready for publication by next Thursday.

Tribunal Locations.

Although practically no arrangements regarding the dates on procedure of the sittings of these tribunals can be made until this date, City Property Commissioner Chisholm is co-operating with Judge Winchester with a view to using all the available civic buildings and the following is a list of the buildings that may be possibly used:

Have You a Troublesome Drive?

In every plant there is a power drive that is a bugbear. A drive that is hard on belts. A drive that is costly and troublesome. Try Extra Power on that drive in your plant.

Almost daily we hear from some customer whose hardest belting problem has been solved by Extra Power. It may be a "wet" drive. It may be a high speed drive. Or a drive with turns. Or just a long, hard pull.

Extra Power is efficient and economical on all kinds of drives—large and small, continuous and intermittent. But it is built good enough for the hardest drives. It has features of construction that make it a superbelt. And the harder the drive, the more enthusiastic is the Extra Power user.

High quality, properly designed fabric—fine rubber—sound construction—these give Extra Power its long life. Rubber forced through and through the fabric prevents ply-separation. Adds flexibility, too, so that Extra Power hugs the pulleys. Solid rubber seal guards this belt at the seam. A friction surface grips the pulley, prevents slipping, delivers more power.

The next time that troublesome drive bobs up, phone or write for a Goodyear belting man. The nearest branch has a man trained in solving such problems as yours.

EVERYBODY HELPS ON FOOD MATTERS

Co-operation With Controller's Office Marked During Week.

FISHERMEN'S QUANDARY

Needed Fuel for Motors and It Was Secured Thru Local Activity.

Co-operation in the handling of necessities and a willingness to utilize every facility in order that the Canadian people may not want has been manifested during the past few days.

From the food controller's office comes a story which is an example of the manner in which all those who can are lending assistance. Fishermen in British Columbia use motor boats and burn as fuel what is termed "distillate," or crude gasoline. Recently they faced a shortage which meant the falling off of fish, and consequently a lack of this food. When the food controller was advised of this condition he set his traffic manager, W. E. Ireland, to work, who immediately got into touch with Prince Rupert, fishing headquarters for this district.

It was discovered that the difficulty lay in transportation, so he telegraphed C. E. Dewey at Montreal, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific. Mr. Dewey promised help and got busy, then Mr. Ireland communicated with G. M. Bosworth of the C.P.R., who also set wheels in motion. Next he wired to President Cunningham of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Vancouver, who arranged with the Union Steamship Company and secured at once quick response. All this means that the fishermen got a small supply of distillate—enough to see them thru for the present—and more will be on hand by the first of this week. Canada will get its usual supply of fish from that section, and there will be no hardship on that account. Thus are the officials co-operating with Food Controller Hanna, and every facility being used to meet the extraordinary demands of war time.

POLICY OF CHURCHES MAY NEED RENOVATION

Spiritual Victory Over Evil Must Result From Present Conflict of Nations.

"From every rostrum we hear assertions that at the end of the war international conditions will be bettered so as to bring about a brotherhood of nations," said Dr. A. E. Ribour of St. Alban's Cathedral on Sunday evening. "But there cannot be any guarantee that such will be the case unless local and national conditions are sanctified first."

"Man's Chief Greatness," was the subject of the speaker's sermon. He declared that a spiritual victory in the lives of men was a necessity at this juncture if the world were to reap any benefit from this war. Spiritual victory over the evils and wrongs perpetrated was almost as important as material victory over the foe of temporal freedom. "To accomplish this transformation and this spiritualization of the heart of man is the definite work of the Christian Church. For the attainment of this noble end all the Christian denominations ought to be willing to co-operate, even if this necessitates the complete renovation of their church's policy.

"The present war is not the war of France or of England, or of Russia, or of Italy, but the war of the allies of the entire world against the central powers. Victory will come only thru unity of action on the part of the allies in encircling their foe, and so it must be done in the moral conflict with the forces of evil."

"When Christians everywhere become one in spirit and motive, they are controlled by a love that takes in God and every human being, when divine service is made to consist primarily of ministry to the poor and the suffering, when the Christian name is greater than all sectarian names, when brotherhood is a reality, when the vital truths of religion are proclaimed and become the law of the

On Saturday afternoon the new quarters of the Heliconian Club, 808 Yonge street, were opened. The event was marked by a large turnout of members and friends. Tea was served and the spacious and well-appointed rooms much admired. An exhibit of pictures by Toronto artists of the Heliconian Club was also on display. The executive were happy cases.

GRAVEURE, THE GREAT BARTONE.
On Thursday night in Massey Hall this celebrated baritone singer will be heard in a most delightful program. Graveure is a wonderful artist. To hear him sing is a privilege, and there is no doubt that a large audience will listen with rapt attention at the forthcoming concert. It is a pure joy to hear a man sing who sings as if it were the easiest and most delightful thing in the world—and this describes the effect produced by Graveure's singing. As The San Francisco Examiner puts it: "He sings as the wind blows, as the brook flows, and if we are to judge by this program and performance, he is a poet and an actor as well." He will be assisted on Thursday by Rosamund Young, a new Boston soprano, and Samuel Gardner, the eminent violinist. The sale of seats opens this morning at Massey Hall.
