Conference on the part of the sentiment. The attitude of

Conference on the part of the bulls in the con market was pased chierry on the smallness of the supply here and the shadness of the supply here and on the leathess with which current receipts were absorbed. A good dead of mode was taken also of assertions of the falline of cambaigns to reduce living costs. The ensuing upturns in the corn market, tho, encountered more and more profit-taking sales with a flattening out of demand. This was supplyed. ing out of domaind. This was especially the onse after a report was circulated that National Wheat Director Barnes and recommended removal of the import duty on Canadian oats, Subsequent denials of the report failed to act as an dist. Oats commanded the unexampled price of $1 a bushel for No. 2 white, but then receded owing to import duty

Provisions were strong with hogs and corn. Temporarily a few uneasy shorts bid pork up $2 a barrel. COMMODITY PRICES

Wholesale commodity prices in the United States show a long-expected turn in the rising tide of costs, as indicated by Bradstreet's March 1 themselves in w "Fortune's index number, which fell off three-tenths of one per cent. from Februst., Boston. ne Main 8155, ary 1, the first decline to be recorded since September 1 last. The index pumber of March 1 totals $20.7950, and marks a gain of 20.7 per cent. over March 1 last year, of 3.9 per cent. over August 1, 1919. when the anti-high price campaign was launched at Wash-ington, and 138.8 per cent. over August VELL

Hughes, Harcourt & Co., 307 Royal Bank building, received the following wire at the close of the Chicago market yesterday: The bull market in corn has been in process for 38 days and an advance of practically 36 cents a bushel for May has resulted in a change of position. Instead of being change of position. Instead of being oversold, it is now overbought. Hence the technical position of the market has been weakened and the receipts may be light and other conditions favor ultimately higher prices, a decline could come from an overbought condition nevertheless. Cash corn was from 1c to 2c higher and shippers were good buyers.
