G.W.V.A. branches thruout the city will hold meetings within the next three weeks in a campaign for compensation to make up for the loss on the dollar sustained by ex-members of the C.E.F. during the war. W. E. Turley, secretary-general of the G.W.V.A. for Ontario, stated yesterday that there was no truth in the report that the Dominion secreary, C. G. McNeill, was opposed to the proposed compensation, since it was the chief resolution passed at the Dominion convention held last year. The whole idea involved was that houses hed been that bonuses had been granted to many other branches of public ser-vice and that the soldiers had been no less servants of the state.

It is understood that the ex-ser vice men are reaching an agreement as to the best means of presenting the case for re-establishment before

The Referendum Ballot And the Provincial Law It May Bring Into Force

Reprinted herewith is a cut showing the form of ballot to be used in the coming prohibition referendum on April 18 next. If the electorate decides not to stop the importation of liquors into the province, it is likely the situation in regard to prohibition will remain unchanged, but if the vote favors the stopping of the importation, the law known as the "Sandy bill" will come into force upon its proclamation by order in council. The "Sandy bill" is reprinted herewith.

It will be noticed that the operation of the "Sandy bill," which is then to be a part of Ontario law, follows closely upon the O.T.A. in its operation and in the penalties provided for those who transgress its rulings. It will be noticed also that the sale and transportation of native wines as at present allowed is not affected by the "Sandy bill." The law reads as follows:

THE "SANDY BILL." 10-11 George V c 80 (1920)

An Act Respecting the Transportation of Intoxicating Liquors.
Assented to June 4th, 1920. His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:

REAL ESTATE MEN AGAINST RENT LAW

Think Legislation Would Result in Less Than Pre-War Returns.

If the city decides to take advantage of the fair rents legislation now proposed it will be necessary to pass a bylaw, said Assessment Commissioner Forman yesterday. He had not had a chance to study the proposed legislation, but thought off-hand that the intention to fix the standard rent as of Jan. 1, 1919, would not be far out.

The bill provides regulation of rentals of $100 a month or less in cities of 2005-000 or more, and of $60 or less in smaller places; rents must not show more than 10 per cent, increase on the rent paid on Jan. 1, 1919, the an additional 10 per cent, increase is allowed on the cost of any structural improvements aside from ordinary repairs. The bill is retrocent. Increase is allowed on the cost of any structural improvements aside from ordinary repairs. The bill is retro-active to Oct. 8 last, on which date the attorney-general gave warning of pro-posed legislation. That is, a landlord who was receiving, say $40 a month on Jan. 1, 1919, could claim only $44 a month under the new act, unless he ex-acted the increase prior to last October 8th

Real estate men declare that the legislation would be most unfair and would result in many owners, especially of apartment houses, getting returns on their investment, less than the pre-war returns. They give the following cases to show the effect of the bill:
