OF THE

TEMPORAL COMMITTEE.

---

The Temporal Committee report,

That the accounts and statements of revenue and expenditure, with statement of liabilities and assets, are presented herewith, as usual.

These exhibit a rather more favorable financial condition than those of last year. Yet it cannot be said that the value of outstanding debts, and accrued rents, together with the cash on hand are more than sufficient to meet existing liabilities, including the Bazaar money; but it is matter of congratulation that they are equal to that burden, although not all immediately available, and that the engagements of the congregation have all been faithfully fulfilled during the past year.

In consequence of the demolition of the old Church, and there being now no pews to let, it has become a question of importance how the ordinary annual revenue is to be raised during the year just commencing, so as to enable our successors to maintain unimpaired the present condition of the Congregational accounts; this question calls for your careful consideration this evening.

Your Committee recommend that the Pew rents charged last year be repeated in 1872-3, and that each member of the Congregation be requested by the Treasurer to pay the same, hoping that such request will be generally complied with, and that any adherents
