TO SEE FRANK MORAN

Heavyweight, Who Is Willard's Business Men's League a Tie -Most Formidable Opponent, to Box Here.

It is not often that one has a chance of seeing so many boxing champions in one ring as will be afforded Toronto in one ring as will be afforded Toronto fans next Friday night at Riverdale Roller Rink, when the Toronto Bowling Club stages a boxing tourney in aid of the 110th Irish Regiment. Frank Moran, who boxes Bartley Madden, is a scrapper who is in the limelight now owing to his sensational defeats of "Jim" Coffey, reputed to be one of the cleverest boxers of modern times. Moran knocked him out in three and nine rounds respectively, and is now matched to box Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion of the world. And there are many who think that after this bout there will be a new champion. That is why so much interest is being taken in Moran's appearance here.

Moran knocked him out in three and nine rounds respectively, and is now matched to box Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion of the world And there are many who think that after this bout there will be a new champion. That is why so much interest is being taken in Moran's appearance here.

Moran has only sprung into prominence lately, altho he has been boxing since 1911. His first bout of any account was with Al Palzer, the pair boxing a 10-rounds, no decision contest. He then lost to Jim Savage at New York, in 7 rounds, and beat Fred Drummond in a similar number of rounds. Moran could not get any matches so he went to England. There he won his first three battles, two by the knockout route, and one on a foul. He went to Paris and beat Storbeck, the South Africap champion, in 12 rounds. Moran returned to the States and boxed Al Kublak and Tom Kennedy, no-decision contests, and lost to Tony Ross in Cleveland in ten rounds. Of his next dozen contests he won nine and lost three.

His defeat of Al Palzer in seven rounds focussed the eyes of boxing fans on him, with the result that he was matched with Jack Johnson for the world's championship at Paris, France, with the first series of the Business in its have been substituted and should a more appulation of the same a more appulation for the list and seed the eyes of times and sown the first series of the Business in its have been of the cleve in the same population of the same and sown the states and south that a first series of the Business in its have been substituted and should a more appulation of the same and sown in the same population of the states and there will be an order to the first series of the Business in the heat been substituted and should a more population of the world. Moran stayed the distance and put up a splendid battle, such a good one in fact that he began to be touted as the next champion. His next bout was with Bombardier Wells, next bout was with Bombardier Wells, in the English champion, at London, which the latter lost in 10 rounds. Moran then whipped Gordon Sims in six rounds, and returning to New York, met Jim Coffey, a heavyweight championship aspirant. The result of that battle, and the more recent one stampied Moran as one of the greatest heavies of the day. Just how good he is will be seen when he boxes at the Riverdale Rink next Friday.

COLLEGE TRUNDLERS

MET THEIR WATERLOO Saunders' Colts Handed Them

Trouncing in the Touring League. On Tuesday night Herb Gillis' crew from the College alleys dropped into Saunders' bowling academy to fulfil Saunders' bowling academy to fulfil three scheduled games with Saunders' Colts. Bob Stewart, the captain of the Colts, had been working overtime whipping his team into an extra strong combination, and decided that now or never the College rollers had to be stopped in the first series of the bkg four. How well he succeeded is shown by the score—three straight wins for his team, which put them well out in front in the race. Every player of Saunders' Colts were on their toes the entire night, and altho all their counts were most creditable the high three games went to H. L. Glendenning, who, by the way, holds the record for three consecutive games on the new alleys, with scores of 230, 265, 237 for a grand total of 727 pins. In the Canadian Goulding is scheduled to appear in New York City at the Millrose A. A. games in Madison Square Garden on Jan. 26. The event in which he will take part is to be over the two mile distance. As this will be a special handicap, with a limited number of men invited to take part, it is well within possibility that he will eclipse the world's best indoor mark for the distance, viz., 13 minutes 38 3-5 seconds, held by himself, and made in Brooklyn nearly four years ago.
