Hands-on, Modern Optical Branch of K. W. Epstein & Co., Optometrists, in Dufferin Hotel Bldg.

Modern Equipment and Scientific Skill Reach Highest Mark in Fine, New Branch of Progressive Optical Firm For Proper Fitting of Eye Glasses.

The last word in modern eye-testing equipment is found in the handsome, new branch just opened at No. 4 King Square in the Dufferin Hotel building by K. W. Epstein & Co., Optometrists, who are so well and favorably known throughout the city and province. The bright, cheery appointments are cosy, restful and homelike. Only properly qualified optometrists are entrusted with work in the testing room, thus ensuring the very most and best in scientific optical service.

The reception room, which commands an excellent view of King Square, is finished in a soft, pale green tint contrasting nicely with woodwork in American oak, and antique oak furniture. An abundance of light reading matter goes far in entertaining the waiting patron.

In the testing room the equipment is of the most modern and approved type with every facility for accuracy to the smallest detail. This department is in charge of an optometrist of long and widely varied experience who treats each case with the consummate skill so vitally important to the correct fitting of glasses for the correction of even the most complicated disorders of the sight and muscles of the eye.

Another essential feature is the business office wherein is a record of every case, with a duplicate prescription, which makes it possible, without a second test, to supply a second pair of glasses, even if the first pair has been totally destroyed. Visitors to the city, as well as local residents, who are suffering from defective eyes, will be amply repaid by an early visit to the progressive optical branch of K. W. Epstein & Co., Optometrists, Dufferin Hotel building, 4 King Square, where satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed.

CHARLES RAY A HIT AGAIN

In James Whitcomb Riley's "The Old Swinmin' Hole" at the Imperial.

Time turned back the pages of life yesterday on the screen of the Imperial Theatre when "The Old Swinmin' Hole" with Charles Ray starring as Ezra was presented to an appreciative audience.

The Ray vogue has become such an institution that if the popular young star appeared in "Hamlet" his admirers would doubtless declare that he was surpassed, but Ray knows he is happiest in juvenile roles and his good judgment has again been shown in "The Old Swinmin' Hole." In the character of the barefoot country boy in James Whitcomb Riley's delicious poem Ray scales the heights of nature's joys and chases each other up and down the throat as one beholds the joys and griefs of boyhood so vividly portrayed as to recall one's own experiences. In the "Old Swinmin' Hole" the audience's chuckles of the exhibition week crowd, every male in the theatre was living over again his childhood days.

In each succeeding release this young star has won new laurels but in "The Old Swinmin' Hole" he crowns all past achievements. It is a First National production, presented by Arthur S. Kane, and was adapted for the screen by Bernard McConville. The well balanced cast deserves mention for their excellent support. James Gordon appeared as His Pa, Blanche Rose as His Ma, Laura La Plante as Myrtle, Marjorie Prelost as Esther, Lincoln Steedman as "Skinny" and Lon Poff as the Schoolmaster.

A scenic picture "In Beautiful Maori-land" and "Topics of the Day" completed the programme which delighted crowded houses all day. The same will tonight.

JIMMY EVANS OPENS HIS FAREWELL WEEK

"A Night in Chinatown" was played last night by the popular Jimmie Evans Company at the Queen Square Theatre. It is one of the prettiest bills his company has put on. The stage was beautifully set and the costumes, which were all Chinese, were very beautiful.

As usual, last evening there was standing room only at both shows. Miss Mary Clark, the juvenile violinist, played some of her favorite selections and was received very warmly. One of the outstanding features of the bill was a Stunty and Leader number, sung by "Kittens" Frazer, assisted by the chorus. It was a scream and received a big hand. They were compelled to answer several encores. Some of the stunts were very difficult and it was a treat to see some of the girls trying to do them. Irene Finlay, assisted by the chorus, sang "Take Me" which went over very big. Joe Devine, better known as "The King," sang "Oh Ma' He's Kissing Me." It is a brand new song and it was a hit. Miss Grace Maxwell's beautiful voice was heard to advantage and she had to answer several encores. She sang "The Last Little Mile is the Longest" and "Chinatown." John Clark and daughters, Agnes and Mary, sang and danced a waltz e-log which was a riot.

This was followed by Robert Elsworth with "Sunkiss." It is a beautiful song and was written by Joe Devine, the Hebrew comedian, with this show. And last but not least Jimmie Evans, or "Jerry" as he is better known, sang "If I Knew That Old Ireland Was Free." He stopped the show until finally he gave a recitation from Kipling entitled "The Fool." A Chinese finale closed a very entertaining performance.

The same bill will be presented today. This is the farewell week of the company here and they will give three changes instead of two. Wednesday will be the opening of the new bill.

DODGE BROTHERS BUY LAND AT SANDWICH Intend Erecting Big Assembling Plant in Border Town.

Windsor, Sept. 6.—Thirty-five acres of land in the town of Sandwich, with 350 feet river frontage, have been acquired by Dodge Bros., Detroit, auto manufacturers, who intend to erect an assembling plant in the country town to care for its Canadian and British export trade.

For some weeks rumors have been in circulation that the Dodge Company planned such an extension, but no confirmation of the report could be had until today. The property was purchased from the Gauthier heirs in Sandwich, and was sold for $287,000 cash.

The announcement is expected to exercise an almost immediate effect upon realty values in Sandwich, where property is already held at high figure on account of the expectation that work on the Detroit River Bridge will be begun within a few months.

The Eyes of Youth!

Youngsters will not tell you when their eyes are not right. It is the duty of the parents to investigate.

Defective vision in children, if taken in time while the eyes are young and tender, may overcome by properly fitted glasses, so that they will need glasses only a year or two.

School days are at hand. To do justice to their studies children must have good eyesight. You may bring them here in full confidence that they will get just the attention they need.

LABOR DAY IN SOME LARGE CITIES

(Canadian Press.)

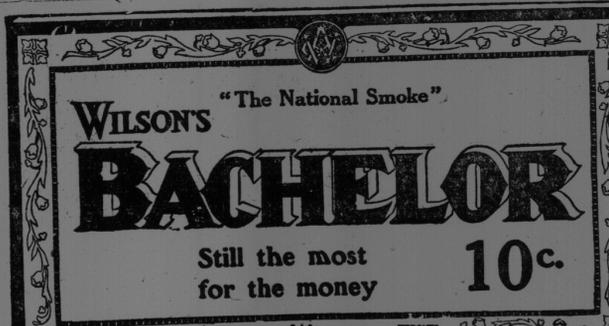

Montreal, Sept. 6.—Bright warm weather favored the annual parade and celebration of organized labor in Montreal, several thousand union members wearing the insignia of their various crafts, turned out for the procession through the city streets. Members of two organizations now on strike, theatre employees and job printers, carried banners and signs denouncing capitalistic oppression; the former giving the names of several theatres here said to be acting unfairly to labor.

A large number of floats were conspicuous among the most elaborate being that of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Linemen who had arranged several telegraph poles in the centre of a truck with linemen playing their trade on the cross-arms.

New York, Sept. 6.—For the first time in many years New York witnessed no Labor Day parade. Unemployment and disinclination of labor men to spend money from their slender boards for uniforms and bands were given as reasons.

Boston, Sept. 6.—The first parade of organized labor since 1917 featured the observance of Labor Day in Boston. The marchers were reviewed by Governor Cox and his staff and Mayor Peters.

Certificates of naturalization have been granted to William A. Nicholas, superintendent of the Cornwall and York Cotton Mills, St. John, native of the United States; Max Mandel Vanger, merchant, St. John, native of Russia, and Margaret Adeline MacNichol, native country doubtful, St. Stephen.
