

expressed the eloquence of silence can best declare the remainder.

Let the fact that our Brethren in Britain are both able and willing to render us assistance, rather stimulate us to put our shoulder to the wheel, than induce us to cry to Hercules alone.

Your Committee, before retiring, performs a pleasurable duty in presenting their thanks to those Ministers, and —colleagues, and Friends, whose influence and energies, and means, and prayers have, during the past, been enlisted in carrying out the objects of this Auxilary Society. Much has been done and they shall in no case lose their reward.

In conclusion, your Committee while thankful to God and the people for past liberality, would remind the Subscribers and Friends of the Infant Auxilary that, after all that has been done, we are not yet able to attend to every call that entreates assistance. Notwithstanding the increase of our labourers, and the increase of our funds, neither are sufficient to enable us fully to supply the spiritual destitution of those who in plaintive accents exclaim —“come over and help us.” Let our honour and, a connexion, let a desire to co-operate with our transatlantic Brethren, let the symyathetic tones of Christian Benevolence, arouse every latent energy of our minds to proceed in this laudable enterprize.
