THE Subscriber, grateful for the patranage extendish of him since opening his AMBRO-TYPE ROOMS begre to inform the inhabitants of Amstoryer, which he claims as his own discovery, and which he has worked into fea shed userale Pictures, in the opinion of competent judges, we far superior to have albert stile taken upon glass. They are superior of the raised Ambrotype, which have attracted so much attention—They tone is sett addition. Being taken on glass, they are exceedingly brilliant, perfectly distinct in any angle, very dilarent from the Daguerrectype, which must be held for particular light to see the Picture. The havently and elements of the light, and the insertacy of the middle time, give them a superiority over every other style of picture in light and chade.
