

ANNUAL REPORT
—OF THE—
CAMBRIDGE STREET
METHODIST CHURCH,
LINDSAY,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 30TH. 1898.

The Official Board again presents to the congregation the annual Report of the church. It is with a deep sense of the goodness of God that we record our gratitude for the blessings of another year.

The condition of the church is in an encouraging state. A good deal of interest has been manifested in all branches of our work. The Sunday School and Young People's Society are of special importance. If these should languish it would be a serious matter. That they do not languish, but grow and prosper, is an encouraging fact. The Ladies' Aid and Women's Missionary Society have had a useful year. The comforts of religion have been felt in many homes of affliction and bereavement. The power of the gospel has been exemplified in winning disciples for Christ.

The current revenue meets the current expenses only by the congregation contributing regularly in the weekly envelopes.

We would urge for another year a more faithful attendance upon the weekly prayer-meeting, a more watchful interest in family religion.
