THREE MEMBERS OF THE GIANTS

New York, June 13.—Every time the Giants are apparently about to be wrecked by the loss of playing stars through injury or illness some of the boys that John McGraw has had bet side him on the bench leap forward and the Giants go right along with an unbroken front. An injury to "Larry" Doyle gave Arthur Fletcher a chance for duty in the infield. This youthful understudy had already been smoothly with all pitchers, bats well and has the knack of snapping the ball to the sacks in a way that curbs base runners' ambitions. "Josh" Devore is a regular, but his present rating is so high that it can hardly be recalled that McGraw has been grooming the fleet outfielder for several seasons on the Giants' bench, as a New York farm hand and finally as a promising candidate for a regular's berth.

MATT WELLS HAD BETTER OF PAL MOORE IN BOSTON GO

Boston, Mass., June 14.—Matt Wells, the lightweight champion of England, was given the decision over Pal Moore of Philadelphia in their 12 round bout at the Armory A. A. last night. Wells was entitled to it, but not by a great margin. Some of the large crowd present figured that Moore should have been given a draw. The Englishman did not impress the fans and it was general opinion last night that there are at least two lightweights in this country who can take his measure. He was the aggressor about all the time last night, but he does not appear to have the effective punch one would expect from a man of his build. As the pair boxed at catchweights last night Wells must have had at least six pounds' advantage. The Englishman is a well set up fellow. His style is much after that of most English boxers. He hits straight most of the time and can step away from returns pretty fast. Moore did not box up to the form he has displayed on other occasions here. The blows Moore landed on the face and wind were effective ones. From the start Wells forced matters. A straight left to the wind and face was the blow he used the most. For the first few rounds he did some boxing at close range, but when he (Fredericton Gleaner.) Johnny Dolan has been indefinitely suspended for failure to live up to the club rules after a couple of warnings, and he will not appear in the line up tomorrow and probably not again for some time. It is felt by the management that the rules of the club must be observed by all the players and that if one or two players were allowed to get away with frequent infractions of the rules without a penalty the result would be to have the players all feel that they were privileged to do likewise. One other player has also been disciplined for his first failure to observe club rules and it is now believed that there will be no further trouble along this score. To take Dolan's place in the line up tomorrow some other local player will probably be used. It may be that Dick Malloy will get into the game in his old position in the outfield or George Walker may be the choice. If the position cannot be filled satisfactorily with local men the club will import a player, but on Monday Capt. Griffin of the Bates College team, who has been engaged as a catcher and outfielder, will probably join the team and he and Johnny Murray will then be available to alternate between catching and the outfield.

FREDERICTON BALL PLAYER SUSPENDED

TWO JOKE "WHITE HOPES" ASPIRING

Sydney, Australia, June 13.—It is not given to everyone to see two hopes of the white race in action. Fate, somehow, continues to keep these young men of promise apart. It was the writer's privilege, however, to witness the great boxing bout between Jack Lester and Colin Bell, each of whom has designs on a championship laurels. Lester, of Cle Elum, as all the sporting world knows, is Tommy Burns' "hope." He is in this country preparing for a match with Bill Lang, the Australian champion, who in comparatively recent times was worsted by Sam Langford, the Boston negro. Colin Bell was a protégé of Larry Foley, the old-time champion of Australia, who developed Peter Jackson, Bob Fitzsimmons, George Dawson and other antipodean ring men whose fame became world-wide. Colin Bell is under Foley's wing no longer. It is said that after seeing Bell under fire a few times, Foley made up his mind that Colin wasn't cut out for a world beater and cast him adrift on the pugilistic sea. But Bell's estimate of his own powers remains unchanged. He believes he will lick all the heavyweights in Australia and get around to Jack Johnson after a while. As Jack Lester has mapped out a similar course for himself, it can easily be understood that there was quite a gathering at Lester's training quarters the other afternoon when it was learned that the two hopes were to engage in a few friendly rounds. Well, there was nothing of a particularly friendly nature about the proceedings nor was there anything particularly interesting about them, who bears a fatal and striking resemblance to Jack Munro, and who is bald headed in the bargain, would be a mark for Jim Flinn, Jim Barry or Al Kaufman, and it would be actually inhuman to turn him into a ring with Sam Langford. He is fairly willing, but that is about all that can be said for him. He stood close with Lester and they thumped each other around the floor. Lester had a bloody nose and a bruised ear to show at the close of three clumsy rounds, and those who watched were satisfied that Lester would have done the Australian completely if things had gone much further. "I went easy with him because I want him to come out and spar with me again," said Lester when it was all over, and even those who felt in their hearts that Jack was under a full head of steam during the bout, murmured that it was very nice of him to show such consideration for the Australian "hope."

HOLMER FOR CORONATION MARATHON

NEW YORK, June 14.—Hans Holmer, one of the champion professional marathoners, has sailed for England, where he will compete in a twenty-five mile race in connection with the coronation at Douglas, Isle of Man, on June 29. He called at "Sparrow" Robertson's room yesterday and bade farewell to a number of athletes who were swapping stories. Holmer looked fit and said he felt fine. He declared that he was never in better condition. He expects to win easily. The winner of the 1911 Powderhall marathon has been in the running game for nine or ten years. He is credited with having established the world's record for the Edinburgh race, an Englishman by birth, Holmer's parents took him to Canada when he was only three years of age. He ran his first race at the age of sixteen in that country, winning a mile affair in good time. Then he came here. Holmer is credited with having captured first honors in four marathons within ten days. He achieved this wonderful stunt at Lowell, Mass., two years ago. He will represent America in the coronation marathon. His parents live up in West Farms. Friends of Holmer expect him to romp away with the honors, and they don't conceal the fact they are willing to bet all they own on his chances. If Holmer is in as good shape as he was when he and Billy Quess captured
