

WERNER HORN HAS LODGINGS CHANGED

Alleged St. Croix Bridge Dynamiter Transferred from Plymouth to Dedham Jail.

Boston, Nov. 17.—Werner Horn, the former German lieutenant, who is held in connection with the attempt to blow up the railroad bridge at Vanceboro, over the St. Croix river, last February, has become tired of his lodgings in the Plymouth jail and today he was removed to the jail at Dedham. The reason assigned for the transfer is the impaired condition of Horn's health. He has been in the Plymouth jail since spring. Before that he was in the jail at East Cambridge.

ST. CROIX TRAMP IS AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Belfast, Me., Nov. 17.—According to the records of the Waldo county jail William Murdoch, a veteran gentleman of the road, who hails from the vicinity of Calais and St. Stephen, must move as methodically as an eight day clock. Every year about this time, William, who is 77 years of age, puts up an appearance at Belfast and manages to have himself lodged in jail, where he is assured of a fair bed and three meals until the warm weather comes.

The veteran tramp from the St. Croix put in his appearance here rather earlier than usual this year, but so did winter, hence a slight alteration in Murdoch's itinerary.
