The various events created much interest and the entertainment was enjoyed by everybody. The club management deserves credit for the success of the affair. The winners in the various sports were as follows:

Single Canoe race—Capt. F. A. Smith and F. A. Smith.

A relay race between the married and single men was won by the latter, who also won the tug-of-war, the day being an off one for the benedicts.

Considerable interest was excited by the challenge race between E. Bates and Geo. R. Wetmore. This was a race from Renforth to River side station, and was won by Mr. Wetmore.

RACES AT MOOSEPATH.

Two races were scheduled for Moosepath track Saturday afternoon.

The races were advertised to start at 2:30 o'clock. Upwards of eight hundred people journeyed to Moosepath to witness the events. The crowd arrived on time and had to supply their own amusement until nearly four o'clock. One heat was then pulled off but there were other delays. Finally the events were run but there was much murmuring among the crowd. Lena Bell was first and P. K. second in one of the races while Aloy E. was first and Jubilee was second in the other.

losses through indemnities which the United States would demand from the German government in the peace treaty.

New York, July 17.—The Cunard Steamship Company, owners of the Lusitania, sunk on the Irish coast on May 7, 1915, by a torpedo from a German submarine, was made exempt from damage actions aggregating between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 begun by relatives of the victims, in a decree signed recently by Judge Julius M. Mayer in the Admiralty Branch of the United States District Court.

Judge Mayer's decree, which supplements the opinion handed down several months ago in which the imperial German government was blamed for the sinking, drops the curtain on the greatest single tragedy of the war so far as the courts of the United States are concerned. It absolves the steamship company from all liability, while only limitation of liability was asked, and strongly emphasizes the fact that the deaths of the passengers were not due to any negligence on the company's part.

Allan B. A. Bradley of Lord, Day and Lord, submitted the draft for the decree to Judge Mayer. The petition the Cunard Steamships Company, Ltd., was not liable to any extent for any loss, damage or injury suffered as a result of the attack on the Lusitania and the subsequent sinking of the vessel.

Judge Mayer in the decree finds that the sinking of the Lusitania and the subsequent loss of life and property were caused solely by the illegal act of the imperial German government acting through its instrument, the submarine commander, and were not caused or contributed to by any fault or neglect on the part of the petitioners or any of its officers, agents or servants, and were incurred without the privity or knowledge of said petitioners.

In the opinion handed down by Judge Mayer several months ago he intimated that the claimants probably would be reimbursed for their

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

The horse races at Moosepath Saturday were fair after they got started but the delay was caused on the crowd. The horsemen should get together and have their arrangements completed before the spectators arrive. Horse racing is the best sport going when properly handled but exhibitions such as Saturday's will kill rather than help the sport. At that the officials were not to blame. They did all in their power to get things going.

Over at Seaside on Saturday the letter carriers pulled off some interesting picnic events. There are some coming athletes in the city, when they get properly trained. The far men made remarkable time.

Out at Fair Vale the outing club had a grand day. All sorts of sports were carried out. Some of the athletes got some good training. Fair Vale is a coming place as a sport and amusement centre.

Calais and St. John broke even in the games on the Queen Square diamond Saturday. Large crowds were in attendance at each contest and thoroughly enjoyed the sport. Considering the difficulties of the ground and the interruptions caused by the street cars, the play was good.

SURGEON GENERAL

Medical Health Officer and Minister of Health for Province Ask Authorities in Washington to Lift Quarantine.

Dr. G. G. Meivin, medical health officer for the province, sent a telegram to Washington on Friday, and on Saturday Dr. Roberts, minister of health sent the following telegram: To Surgeon-General, U. S. A. Washington, D. C.

I have had an official advice from you as to quarantine of this province, only learned of it from newspapers. Transportation authorities threatening to close service between St. John and Boston because of your order. Such action highly injurious to business interests. Perfectly willing to submit to such quarantine should conditions warrant, but my department has been particularly assiduous in combating contagious diseases, so that at present there exists practically no smallpox. If such has been your order concern New Brunswick would much appreciate your consideration of the foregoing so as to without delay free province from quarantine.

St. Peters Won
Two At Halifax

Halifax, July 20.—Over 5,000 spectators attended the three baseball games here on Saturday between St. Peter's team of St. John, and the Allieflax players, the visitors winning two of the games. The brand of ball was excellent throughout.

In the morning contest the locals batted Hanson, Donnelly and Callahan for a total of nine runs and won an easy victory.

The afternoon contest was won by the visitors, the score being 9 to 1. The evening game was one of the greatest played here for years, St. John winning 5 to 4. On Sunday they were the guests of St. Mary's Boat Club and were escorted through the principal sites on the Northwest Arm.

who know the local conditions.

The writer is not perturbed by the suggestion that the police, as electors in Berlin, would exert an undue influence on their own superiors. As socialization proceeds an increasingly large proportion of the electors will have personal interests involved, and they will simply have to learn to vote on unselfish grounds.

The exception is the department of criminal investigation, which should be national and not local, as the more important crimes and professional criminals offer problems that can be dealt with only by a special technique.

The police in Berlin, says "The London Times," have at present semi-military character and are controlled by a branch of the Home Office. The Social Democrats now propose to transfer them to the municipality.

The "Berliner Tageblatt" is quoted as favoring the change with certain exceptions. It thinks that no valid argument can be drawn against the proposal from the "present wave of criminality which is sweeping over all Germany." That is a consequence of the war, not peculiar to Germany although more violent there than in Allied countries, and will subside as food and work become abundant. Most of the functions of the police are local in character and can be superintended most usefully by magistrates.
