National Relief Medals Presented

Belgian Gov't Honors Seven Citizens—Presentations by Lieut. Gov. Pugsley.

A most interesting ceremony took place on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the mayor's office when His Honor Lieut. Gov. Pugsley presented the National Relief Medal of the Belgian Government to a number of ladies and gentlemen to whom it had been awarded. The Governor before making the presentation referred to the good work which had been done here in connection with relief for the suffering Belgians and congratulated those to whom the medals had been awarded on the recognition of their efforts which had been made by the Belgian authorities. He then called forward Mrs. J. H. Pritchard, Miss May Travers and Miss J. H. Pritchard, Senator J. W. Daniel, John E. Wilson, G. B. Hasbrouck and Daniel Smith and turned on them the honor of the medals.

Some two years ago Mrs. E. Alford Smith and Mrs. F. H. White were called forward to receive from the Belgian Government the National Relief Medals.

MAJOR MARY BOOTH DELIVERED EARNEST ADDRESS IN IMPERIAL

Daughter of General Bramwell Booth of Salvation Army Captivated Audience Yesterday—Work Praised by Lt. Governor Pugsley—Mayor Schofield Welcomed Speaker to Canada.

Three important meetings were held yesterday in the Salvation Army Congress and the attendance at the opening splendid organization for the betterment of humanity. Meetings were held at the Imperial theatre and very fine addresses were given by the visiting officials.

Morning Meeting. Commissioner Richards was the chief speaker at the morning session which he gave an excellent address on Abraham, dwelling upon the sacrifice of Isaac, and drawing lessons from this subject. Staff Captain Evans Smith, who accompanied Major Mary Booth, spoke on the topic, Jacob, giving a very spiritual talk. Colonel McMillan took part in the service. A solo was well rendered by Colonel Aday.

Afternoon Meeting. It was a most impressive moment when yesterday afternoon at the Imperial Theatre, before a packed house, Major Schofield offered to Major Mary Booth of the Salvation Army, daughter of General Bramwell Booth, welcome to Canada and the thanks of the nation in the name of the Canadian soldiers for her work overseas. It is seldom that a speaker with such a message has been heard on St. John stage, holding a large audience for nearly an hour, moving them to tears and smiles as Miss Booth, in simple words coming straight from the heart told of Canadian boys overseas and what she had been privileged to do for them. Her hearers were in sympathy with her from the first, as introduced by Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, she stepped to the front of the platform. Miss Booth wore her war uniform of khaki with the Salvation "S" on the shoulder straps. The meeting was opened by Colonel McMillan, of Toronto, who led in prayer. Music was furnished by the Moncton Silver Band No. 1 Corps and No. 3 Corps bands.

Governor Pugsley. Governor Pugsley paid a fine tribute to the work of the Salvation Army, saying that they were occupied in making the world a better place for people to live in, and could not be too highly praised for the success of their efforts. He told of Miss Booth's splendid work overseas and of its recognition by the British Government.

Major Mary Booth. Miss Booth, when she was permitted to speak after the ovation extended to her, spoke of the world wide character of the Salvation Army working in every land for people of every color. The folds of the flag wrap all nations as an organization it is young, and in early days of 1882 members suffered persecution, 642 persons being assembled. Its founder was stoned in the streets of Sheffield, but the Army fought for liberty to preach the Gospel and today people take off their hats to members of the Army while on the platform with them at the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province and the Mayor and Commissioners of St. John. Who knows, asked Miss Booth, but that some day the Government may wear a red jersey?

Secret of Success. The secret of success has been the firm holding to first principles. The Army believes in the great truths of the Bible, in a heaven and a hell. Wherever the Army is found there is found the Gospel of Jesus, Salvation.

Annual Service of Thanksgiving

Fine Discourse by Rev. H. B. Clarke of Portland Street Methodist Church.

The annual Thanksgiving Service of the Portland Street Methodist church was held yesterday morning and was attended by a large congregation. The pastor, Rev. H. B. Clarke, gave a fine discourse on the subject, "Workens together with God." The front of the pulpit was nicely decorated with flowers, fruits and vegetables and in the centre the Provincial Shield won by the Tuxis Boys and the City Cup won by the same body and a smaller cup won by the Tuxis Rangers. Today the vegetables and fruit will be distributed among the poorer families of the congregation. Last night Rev. Mr. Clarke delivered the second of a series of sermons on the ten commandments, dealing with the second.

OPENING OF ORPHANAGE FAIR. The Protestant Orphanage Fair will be officially opened by His Honor Lieut. Gov. Pugsley in St. Andrew's Park this evening. The opening address will be given at 7.45, so that the fair will get away at 8 o'clock sharp. St. Mary's band will furnish the music and a good crowd is looked for, as in addition to all the old standbys a number of novel attractions have been arranged, including a game of parlor golf and a novelty moving picture performance. The proceeds will be distributed pro rata among the boards of the various Protestant orphanages. Admission 10 cents, season tickets $1.50 each.

Cliff House, all meals 60c. Mrs. W. E. McIntyre left on Saturday afternoon for Fredericton where she will attend the Baptist Convention being held there.

for all the worst and the best. The Army works among the dregs of humanity. Here Miss Booth paused to congratulate St. John on its fine hospital and Canada on its splendid stand for prohibition.

Referring to General Booth she said his motto was "For others," and that she was proud of her relationship to one who had lived up to that motto.

Canadian Soldier. Although this is her first visit to the land of the Maple, Major Booth said she felt the heart and soul of the Canadian people as she had known the Canadians overseas. The biggest apple and piece of chocolate went to a Canadian soldier. I have seen your boys under unfavorable circumstances, she said, covered with mud and grime, but always covered with glory. She told of standing on Vimy Ridge and of laying flowers on many graves at the foot of wooden crosses. Over there, the secret of the Army's success was the same as in times of peace. Their work is trying to help, to bless those around them, to show them to the Saviour. To the authorities a man was only a number, to the Salvation Army worker, he was some mother's boy.

There was applause when Miss Booth told of the brave English lassie who when her husband was threatened with death, put up a sign "business as usual," and went on trying doughnuts, and of some American girls who, though ordered out of danger, stuck to their post. Many pathetic stories were told of the men's gratitude, not only for the fried eggs and doughnuts, but for the religious influences which the Army carried at all times. Major Booth expressed thanks to the brave Salvation Army Chaplains from Canada, and to the Canadian Red Cross as well as the splendid work done by the Canadian hospitals.

There is still the same work to be done, Miss Booth concluded, fighting the ravages of sin and destruction. Millions of people are in darkness and despair waiting for someone to bring Jesus Christ to them. The call of the Army may seem one to poverty, but it is a narrow path leading to eternal riches.

Vote of Thanks. Mayor Schofield who moved a vote of thanks, after offering to Miss Booth a welcome in the name of the city and at the door of Canada, testified to the excellent work of the Salvation Army in the city, and of its ready response to his calls for assistance. He described the speaker as gifted and inspiring. In seconding the vote of thanks, S. Paster spoke of hearing General Bramwell Booth speak before an immense audience in Toronto and said that all present regretted that Miss Booth's address came to a close. Such speeches and such examples are a great help through the journey of life. Commissioner Richards called for a hearty hand clap for Governor Pugsley as chairman of the afternoon. The meeting closed with the singing of the Doxology and the benediction uttered by Commissioner Richards.

The man was arrested by C. N. R. Officer Pierce in the Union Depot. William Thomas Sealey was sworn in as a special police officer for the Empire Theatre, West Side. Two traffic cases were to have been dealt with, but the defendants in both cases failed to appear.

Engineers Visit The New Bridge

Resident Engineer C. F. Draper Explains History of Construction.

The first excursion of the season of the St. John Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada was made to the new cantilever bridge at the Rivermouth Falls on Saturday afternoon.

The members first met at the office of the Resident Engineer, Major C. F. Draper. A short address was given by Major Draper of the history of the construction of the bridge and of the essential and interesting characteristics pertaining to it. He stated that it was first planned to build it between the road bridge and the old railway bridge, but upon looking the site over it was found that the shelf of rock on the eastern side had a big overhang and to make it safe the bridge would have to be 525 feet long, and because of economic reasons the structure was erected on the present site necessitating its being only 450 feet in length as compared to 535 feet on the other side.

Each arm of the cantilever is 150 feet long and those arms projecting over the channel support a suspended span also 150 feet in length. The total weight of the main span cantilever is 2,000 tons. The anchor arms are 125 feet long and project from the main pier into the shore. The approach to the bridge weighs 315 tons structure 2,315 tons. There are 6,120 cubic yards of concrete and masonry in the piers. The work of erection is practically finished. The only remains some riveting and some painting to be done and the floor of the bridge laid.

Another interesting feature of this work is the fact that the bridge is going to be longer than any other of its carrying capacity so that the bridge will be stretched and all the slackness taken out so that the anchor cables, which run on the east side into the concrete, after the strain comes will be concentered in from the base up to the bridge. The load will be left on the bridge for about two weeks until it is cold.

The party went over the bridge and inspected it and then the photograph of the party was taken with which the engineers concluded the afternoon.

Celebrated The 130th Anniversary

Rev. E. Val Tilton Was Preacher at Queen Square Methodist Church.

Queen Square Church, the mother of Methodism in this city yesterday observed the 130th anniversary of its founding, the preacher of the day being Rev. E. Val Tilton of Central Methodist church, Moncton. Rev. Mr. Tilton was heard with great pleasure and profit by large congregations. In the morning his subject was "Worship" and in the evening "Life's Investment."

Basing his remarks at the evening service on Luke 6:38: "Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again." The speaker stated that in ages man had been stimulated to high endeavor in sowing by the sureness of reaping the crop of which they had sown the seed, and the race and the individual needed this stimulus to urge to good work.

Christ was, however, not speaking of material things when he uttered the words of the text but of the higher and spiritual things of the universe. History was full of examples of the truth of the text and he named a number of men who had given themselves heart and soul to the pursuit of knowledge and had in return received far more than they had given. The one who had given most was Christ and he was receiving more and more of the result of his labors on earth in the form of men trying to follow out his teachings.

Love was irresistible and must eventually conquer the world and all men become brothers.

The following men have served the church as pastors during its history: John Abraham Bishop, William Bailey, James Boyd, William Gradine, Duncan McCole, William Jessop, Din Dalrymple, James Mann, Thomas Oliphant, William Marsden, William Bennett, Joshua Marsden, William Blak, Stephen Bamford, James Knowlin, William Crosscomb, James Priestley, Robert Elder, Richard Williams, Enoch Wood, John Strong, Albert Desbrisay, S.
