SONS OF TEMPERANCE
Portland, Me., July 16.—Reports submitted at the annual meeting of the National Division of Sons of Temperance of the United States and Canada, which opened here today, showed that the total number of divisions at the present time is 409 and the membership 29,638, a loss of 113 for the year.

Regularity
of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion, sickening and headache. Salts and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—regulate the bowels effectively without weakening, sickening or griping.

CONSIDER THE EFFECTS OF A MARTYR TO HAY FEVER

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured After 15 Years' Suffering
Cornwall Centre, Ont.
November 27th, 1911.
I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and tried every treatment, and I tried every remedy. A friend of mine told me of Fruit-a-lives and I bought a box. It cured me after 15 years' suffering.

ITS MANAGEMENT
County Secretary Criticises Hospital Board for Refusing to Look After Improvements to Be Made to the Jail, Etc. No Addition Just Now—Other Business of the Municipal Council.

Wednesday, July 17.
The quarterly meeting of the municipal council took place yesterday in the council chamber at the Municipal Hospital.

When it was proposed to provide the policeman in Simons with a horse, several members of the council objected to the council to the condition of the roads in the town.

Fire Danger at Hospital.
Councillor Black asked about the danger of fire in the hospital and Mr. McLellan answered that the attention of the council to the condition of the roads in the town.

Some Influences.
William E. Marshall for such is our poet's name—was born April 1, 1859, at the pretty river-town of Liverpool, Nova Scotia.

Artistic Temperament.
This achievement, accomplished twenty-four years ago (1888), in the intervals of leisure in a life busy with routine of the legal profession and accomplished without the slightest training in drawing and modelling or in the sculptor's technique.

W. E. MARSHALL, NOVA SCOTIA'S RISING POET, LAUDED BY CRITIC WHO QUOTES EXAMPLES OF HIS WORK

Next to signaling the merits of a neglected poet, the most important and pleasant of a literary critic's constructive functions is the throwing of the full light of day on the worthy poet who, either through obscurity or through modesty, obscures himself and his verses from general public appreciation. The first function is strictly a critical performance, and may be no more than the perfunctory fulfilling of a professional task, which, of course, will have its incidental pleasure. The second function is virtually a process of "discovery" by a literary "investigator," and has for such an one all the pleasures of excitement and ecstasy which come to those who have revealed to the world some new truth or some new fount of delight.

THE LEGEND OF VENICE.
Some general remarks are now in order. Mr. Marshall first presents himself in his book of verse as the author of a somewhat long narrative poem called The Legend of Venice. The legend is formed of material of a sort story some years ago by Mrs. Marie Van Vorst. It is a legend of the tragedy of Love, and our poet, adopting an eighteenth century style, tells the story with a grace and tenderness and with a lyrical flow that carries the mind of a reader to the end without the slightest loss of interest. The story is beautiful, and the pathos simply grippingly expressed, far surpassing any prose version of the story in these respects.

FAME ASSURED.
Both it and the two sonnets I have quoted should be found in the next Anthology to be one on William Lloyd Garrison, should certainly find a place in some of our advanced school texts. Mr. Marshall's volume contains sixty or seventy other short poems, all of which are of a high quality and of a high standard. The volume, entitled The Hero as a Free Man; the Essays will be published this fall. In closing I call attention to Mr. Marshall's fine sonnet, The Hero as a Free Man, in the April number of the University Magazine.

A REAPTOUR FOR LOVERS.
Mr. Marshall is an expert sonnet writer, and his love poems in this form are gems. The following sonnet is remarkable for its music, color, passion and sincerity. He names it The Lover's Rhapsody.

Borden Trying to Obtain Conditional Offer
Ottawa Journal Declines to Report
Montreal Star's Policy Has Every Blunder Embodied in a Loss and Taxation Representation

Ottawa, July 17.—The story appearing in a certain section of the Montreal Star, that the Premier is endeavoring to the imperial government a permanent arrangement for the naval policy of the government, is indefinite and uncertain in its details.

Practically the only thing stated definitely is what has been stated by your correspondent in his despatches, namely, that Mr. Borden is endeavoring to make Canada a permanent ally of the imperial government.

Let this serve, then, to introduce Mr. Marshall as a genuine poet and to signalize the fact that Nova Scotia now possesses a poet of the highest quality.
