SUNDAY'S FRESHET

The prolonged and terrific rain storms of last week was the cause of the great damage done to dykes and other property throughout the two provinces.

The Cornwallis river and the brooks leading into it became choked, over-flowing the streets and dykes. On Saturday evening the road leading to Coldbrook, about a mile and a half out was flooded, the water being up to the hubs of the wheels.

All day Sunday the water surrounded the Nova Scotia Carriage factory wetting the coal and lumber which was outside. Mr. Leslie Eaton lost a large number of logs which were carried over the two dams on the Mill Brook some were washed upon the banks of the Cornwallis and others carried away to the port.

The damage done in this county was nothing to that done in the other counties of the province and also in New Brunswick. In New Brunswick several of the rivers rose six or seven inches, bridges and pieces of the railroad were washed away thus delaying trains.

The popular topic—How is your arm? Mr. Tod Woodworth left on Tues-day for Halifax.

Mr. W. W. Pines of Waterville was in Halifax on Wednesday.

Conductor Will Clarke has been housed for a short time as a result of vaccination.

Mr. Archibald Taylor has purchased from Richard Taylor land at Millville for $525.

Mr. J. Alfred Elderkin of Wolf-ville, has a quantity of good hay for sale. See his ad.

Elizabeth Brown of Boston has conveyed to George Wallace et al, property at Wolfville for $55.

The annual Easter fashion parade of fashionable millinery and smart dress-ess was a failure at Kentville this year.

H. KIRWIN the Eye Specialist of Boston will be in Kentville about the first week in May. If your eyes trouble you wait and consult him. If

Mr. B. R. Rishop has a new de-vice of his own invention in his store window to attract the atten-tion of passers by.

Mrs. (Dr.) Kirkpatrick of Halif-ax and Miss Wickwire of Canning arrived in town yesterday morning and left for Canning.

Mr. Arthur Moore of this town who has been attending Business College in Halifax has accepted a good position with John Tobin & Co. Halifax.

As there are so many stories with-out foundation being sent broadcast, making affairs in town worse than they really are, we will say to those who have given the town the go by the past two weeks, that we are here and slive at that. Trade is quiet but for all that the merchants report doing a little.

It is to be hoped that by next week the small pox will have died away and our outside friends will make their daily or weekly visits.

Lots for sale extra-ly located in town. First lot on Aberdeen Street on Cornwalis St. fine location for dwelling and another lot adjoining, suitable for small dwelling. For particulars apply to J. W. Margeson.

Policeman Davis has been making his annual spring tour of the town and gave the usual strong hint to owners to clear all rubbish from their premises.

Evidently the disease of small pox has run its course in Kentville and by careful quarantine and vaccination it has been confined to the two cases. The members of Mr. More's family who were liable to catch the disease have not shown any signs of it and vaccination will probably prevent it hereafter.

Mr. Hardy's daughter is improving rapidly from her mild form of the disease. Careful inquiries from all over the town and the county show that no other cases of small pox exists. There seems to be no fear of anyone in town who was not in the quarantined quarters coming on with the disease as now over 13 days has elapsed since they were liable to catch it.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. JAMES BURNS

The funeral services of Mrs. James Burns an old resident of Wolfville, were held on Tuesday from her late residence. Father Kennedy of Windsor officiated at the burial.

The deceased was 97 years of age and came to this county from Ireland when nineteen years of age. After being married at Windsor she with her husband took up their abode at Black River, where Mr. Burns made a farm for him-self from unimproved lands. They had five sons, Patrick, John, Edward, Mar-tin and James, and two daughters, Mrs. Bernard Farrell of Kentville and Mrs. Thomas Kelly of Wolfville, where Mrs. Burns spent the last twenty years of her life. Edward lives on the homestead and James is a prominent citizen of Danvers, Mass.

MRS. JAMES G. PATRIQUIN

The residents of Wolfville, were greatly shocked on Monday on hearing the news of the death of Mrs. James Patriquin an old resident of Wolfville, which occurred at Halifax last Monday. The remains were forwarded to Wolfville, where burial took place on Wednesday.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Deacon William Pick, for a great many years a standard bearer in the Baptist church. She has been a widow for many years, and her children all survive her. They are Charles A., George H., Ella (Mrs. Blankhorn of Canning,) Bella and Grace.

A recent article published in the Wedge gives a wrong impression as to the condition of the back yard at the store of the late A. C. More. It conveyed the idea that the place was never cleaned. The health authorities in the town allows no places centrally located in the town to go for any length of time with-out being cleaned up. If the prop-rietary neglects to do so he is not-ified that it must be done.

Mr. More was always very tidy about his premises as everyone knows who visited his store and his back yard never went longer than a month without being cleaned. Mr. Wm. Waters who did this work for Mr. More said in a conversation on Tuesday that it was usually cleaned about every three weeks and he performed the job about a week before Mr. More was taken sick and about the usual time elapsed when he cleaned it up last week.

Instead of their being leads of filth and disease breeding germs, the stuff removed consisted of about a dozen good flour barrels, 20 or 30 grape baskets a table, a step-ladder, a $20 ice cream freezer and part of another freezer and several other articles of value that had been stored there about the time Mr. More was taken sick. Only a very little was decaying or refuse matter that could be scraped up after the frost had left. Mrs. More regrets exceedingly that any one should get a wrong impression of the way Mr. More kept his premises and so we make this explanation in her behalf.

The Baptist Sabbath School at Lower Canard held a very successful Easter concert last Sunday night. The church was nicely decorated for the occasion and the readings, solos, duets and choruses were excellent. R. O. Chisholm is superintendent of the school and Mrs. Chisholm exer-cised great pains in the training of the scholars for the concert.

Clement B. Eaton, one of the oldest and best known residents of St. Stephens, N. B., died on Fri-day evening, March 29th. His wife died on Wednesday evening follow-ing, husband and wife thus passed away within a few days of each other. Mr. Eaton was a native of Cornwallis, N. S., and was 77 years of age.

James Sealy, president of the Board of Trade returned on Satur-day from a trip to Montreal.

CANNIBALISM

The Singapore correspondent of the Daily Express, London, on April 4th wires a ghastly story of cannibalism at sea brought to Singapore by two survivors of the Nova Scotia barque Anglea, wrecked six days sail from Manila October 23rd last. The cor-respondent says:

The survivors—Johnson, a Swede, and Marticornu, a Spaniard—asserts that the Anglea struck a reef. Two rats were built. The smaller bear-ing five men, disappeared. The lat-ter, with twelve, drifted for forty days. The sailors ate barnacles, seaweed and finally their boots.

On the twenty-fifth day two be-came insane and killed themselves. On the 26th a Frenchman quickly killed the mate with an axe, drank his blood and tried to eat his brains, but was prevented by others. Next day the Frenchman was killed while attempting to murder the captain. The survivors all of whom are now insane, ate the Frenchman's body.

Cannibalism continued until only Johnson and Marticornu remained. On the forty second day the raft stranded on Subi or Flat Island in the Natuna group (northwest of Bor-neo). Johnson and Marticornu were awfully emaciated. Friendly Mal-ays sent them by junk to Singapore.

[The only vessel corresponding to the above is the Windsor barque An-gola, Captain Crocker, which left Manila October 13 for Newcastle and return to Manila. She registered 1,550 tons and was built in 1890 and owned by Wm. H. Mosher, of New-port.]
