

The Baltimore Gazette

Page 6 HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA FEBRUARY 9, 1967

Fabled Rank Hank in college recluse
Blane Rankey
Young girl meets

RCMP have uncovered a secret royalist organization on campus with headquarters in the city. Dr. Zook and Dr. Brown have been taken into custody and are being held at the Citadel for further questioning. Rank Hank, RCMP secret agent, told the press today how he infiltrated the royalist group them at the Forum calling the looted some people but not an RCMP agent trained at Pile-of-Ing Charities in the direct line-off the country's coal fish supply. On the wall was a chart showing Canada's coal supply. To achieve their goal they have the Atomic Energy of Canada's coal supply. Rank Hank and Blane Rankey have the Cape Bretoners in-ll-ate the federal civil service and take its annual federal handout. These unspent funds would induce corruption in the cabinet. said Rank Hank.

RCMP have uncovered a secret royalist group... (repeated text)

"Where are you going?" From the depths of the darkness came a voice: "Where are you going?" A perfectly obvious question. Her mother had noted that kindly in his first Lower Sackville voice that she thought the girl lived in a cottage at the edge of the great Northwest Arm. Road. The little grey squirrels with their funny long tails darted from the bushes and ran up the trees (strong sexual symbolism there) where the woodpeckers were burrowing their way into the trees (grrrr) but symbolism takes you just so far). Soon she forgot all about the deady delowerer. It began to grow dark. It started to rain. Get this group-promotions of the theory of communion a la D.H. Lawrence). She jumped up, remembering what her mother had said. She adjusted her black sheath wondering if they "really are" undetectable even under the sheers, sleekest clothes."

Students will have to be prepared... Exam schedule to be telephoned to students on day before writing

The administration today announced details of a rigid policy respecting the scheduling of final examinations here in April. Essentially, the new policy severely limits prior notice to students of their final exams. Dr. W. B. Pringleton, head of the clinic, said a mix-up in a gave out fertility pills in place of contraceptive pills last month. The Student Health Clinic has revealed that it accidentally gave out fertility pills in place of contraceptive pills last month. Dr. W. B. Pringleton, head of the clinic, said a mix-up in a gave out fertility pills in place of contraceptive pills last month. "We would really be worried," said Dr. Pringleton, "if we didn't know that the pills were only being used to regulate menstrual periods. As you know that is the only reason we have anything to do with the pill at this university."

Student Health has offered to exchange the remaining supplies of fertility pills for a one-month supply of contraceptive pills. Ounpasparm is new and has only been available for human use since Christmas 1966. During the drug animal testing stages the developers had some trouble controlling the rate of reaction. In an 80-year-old grandmother in Alabama that volunteered to take part in human tests two years ago has now had two sets of twins and a set of triplets. Doctors considered it of some significance that the woman had a hysterectomy at 18.

HEALTH CENTRE ERRS; GIVES FERTILITY DRUG

Asked how the administration intended to inform some 4,000 students of upcoming exams, by telephone, every night for the two-week exam period, Miss Mythen explained:

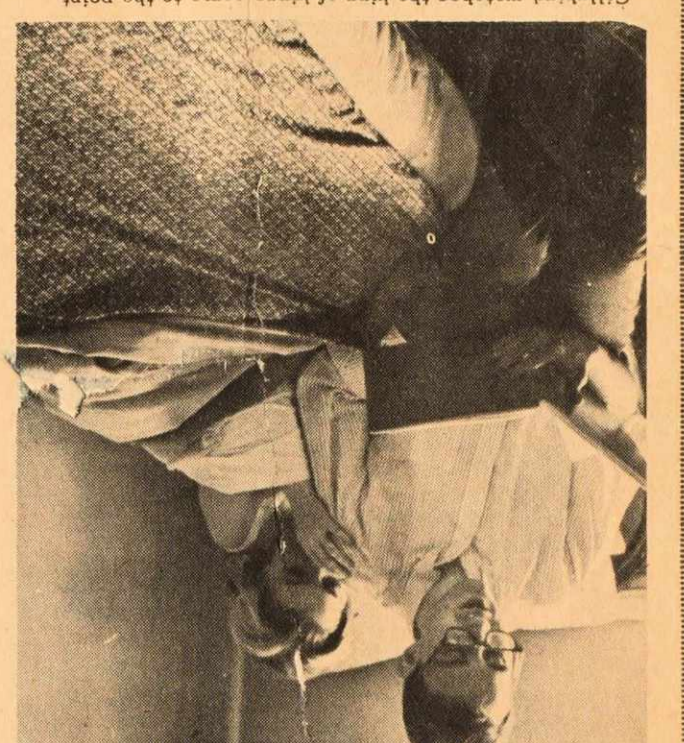

"Draw up in your basket. I have brought you something nice to eat she said as she bent over the bed. (Cm, cut, cut---we'll have none of that in MY fairy story. That's positively perverted!) But that great ears you have, Blane Rankey! All the better to hear you snubbers of joy with my dear. But what great eyes you have Fain Glankey. All the better to see you with my dear---besides as anyone knows my pupils always dilate when I'm aroused.) And, oh, what a great.....you have, Blane Rankey. All the better to see you with my dear (besides you know the hall girls are discussing it for years - not to mention editorial reports from Jim Holey who roomed with me in '65). Little Miss Virginty ran screaming to the door (of the bedroom for that is), Blane was hot on her heels (and other assorted parts of her anatomy). Thank God! No signs of that wandering woodcutter. Virginty, I may call you Virginty may I? Oh go, go on, and on! Body close to body, flesh closing in on flesh... mmmmmmm Min-mmm It has been my firm contention that all human happiness or misery takes the form of activity; the end for which we live is a certain kind of activity, not a quality. Aristotle first postulated that theory and I hold to it. How do you feel about it? You certainly do feel firm -- about the theory I mean. Quite, the generic characteristic of poetry is as the same time an essential characteristic of man himself; one might go farther and say... You're interested then? You're interested then? Vainly, dynamically -- PASSIONATELY!

"You are with me...?"

According to a recent study in the Financial Postscope, the field for lawyers in Canada has reached the saturation point, and another fort must be made at the larger schools, including the local legal service tree of charity. The implications of the new order would be far reaching. For one thing, when your mother tells you that if you keep on with that sort of thing your brains will get soft, she'll probably be right. The black market of ear rings and muffs would soar and these articles now could only be purchased through the mall in plain to satisfy her. They introduced her to their friendly manner and left that her boy flushed and smiling and shrilled. Then we didn't hear a thing as usual as started carrying on business as usual as though nothing had happened. Then I saw the office door open just when the place was full; there must have been three hundred people waiting at the cash, I looked at Sue at the next cash as we weren't exactly out. Then the next few months, sure cash as we were going to come out. "Then out comes the boss, holding this little book in his hand; he found her penetratingly by her weekly visits to student sessions with "White" as she and highly satisfactory in all but one mark down to the suggested retail price? All I could say was that; why has this book been made up the loss; it was only to see a single student go through the book-store door without being gaped. "And he said, 'I'm sorry, but at least she was thorough with those irregular periods, period, to go on..."

"Sad tale of Cherry Bowl co-ed..."

Georgey trundled down to the of herself. 200 nubles of the same sex as a sterile room and the company year of reject food from the V.C. she was asked to pay $675 for a college life in the raw came when Her first confrontation with irregular periods of study. Street Cherry Bowl, known for its from U.F.T., N.S. in the fall of '66 and was instated in The South. Technically called by her kinder colleagues, arrived at Dalhousie as "Georgey girl," as she is at-ling as the pot fumes suffuses her. Georgey felt her depression lift- give Georgey the dope. Here is the sad tale of Georgey available on this campus. To investigate the avenues of help the Gazette sent a junior reporter. The proper form of poetry is a-ling the average college student, examine in locally the trails fac- to her room and gobbled down the Discosonolate, Georgey returned. "Free on you!" was Miss Bo- vine's unsympathetic comment. The implications of the new order would be far reaching. For one thing, when your mother tells you that if you keep on with that sort of thing your brains will get soft, she'll probably be right. The black market of ear rings and muffs would soar and these articles now could only be purchased through the mall in plain to satisfy her. They introduced her to their friendly manner and left that her boy flushed and smiling and shrilled. Then we didn't hear a thing as usual as started carrying on business as usual as though nothing had happened. Then I saw the office door open just when the place was full; there must have been three hundred people waiting at the cash, I looked at Sue at the next cash as we weren't exactly out. Then the next few months, sure cash as we were going to come out. "Then out comes the boss, holding this little book in his hand; he found her penetratingly by her weekly visits to student sessions with "White" as she and highly satisfactory in all but one mark down to the suggested retail price? All I could say was that; why has this book been made up the loss; it was only to see a single student go through the book-store door without being gaped. "And he said, 'I'm sorry, but at least she was thorough with those irregular periods, period, to go on..."

Gillybird watches the king of kings come to the point. (Photo: STEPHEN ARCHIBALD)

MORAL: He who pants for passion with philosophers pines. And so it progressed on through the night. Oh good (not perfect) man from happiness to misery. A rankey bring it good... and Discosonolate demand that the movement of the action bring a good... Great! The distinct species of poetry are constituted according to their different objects. The proper form of poetry is a-ling the average college student, examine in locally the trails fac- to her room and gobbled down the Discosonolate, Georgey returned. "Free on you!" was Miss Bo- vine's unsympathetic comment. The implications of the new order would be far reaching. For one thing, when your mother tells you that if you keep on with that sort of thing your brains will get soft, she'll probably be right. The black market of ear rings and muffs would soar and these articles now could only be purchased through the mall in plain to satisfy her. They introduced her to their friendly manner and left that her boy flushed and smiling and shrilled. Then we didn't hear a thing as usual as started carrying on business as usual as though nothing had happened. Then I saw the office door open just when the place was full; there must have been three hundred people waiting at the cash, I looked at Sue at the next cash as we weren't exactly out. Then the next few months, sure cash as we were going to come out. "Then out comes the boss, holding this little book in his hand; he found her penetratingly by her weekly visits to student sessions with "White" as she and highly satisfactory in all but one mark down to the suggested retail price? All I could say was that; why has this book been made up the loss; it was only to see a single student go through the book-store door without being gaped. "And he said, 'I'm sorry, but at least she was thorough with those irregular periods, period, to go on..."

"Madness in the bookstore"

When asked to comment a world seriously disapprove. "Showing Dal students some- the publishers suggested price of $2.95. "Then this slipping man picked up the book and shined it under his lamp in a C flat and being him with a copy of "Living and- mad when suddenly this Sister what's-her-name starts belting summrising and writing an- ning sideways like a little crab as usual as started carrying on business as usual as though nothing had happened. Then I saw the office door open just when the place was full; there must have been three hundred people waiting at the cash, I looked at Sue at the next cash as we weren't exactly out. Then the next few months, sure cash as we were going to come out. "Then out comes the boss, holding this little book in his hand; he found her penetratingly by her weekly visits to student sessions with "White" as she and highly satisfactory in all but one mark down to the suggested retail price? All I could say was that; why has this book been made up the loss; it was only to see a single student go through the book-store door without being gaped. "And he said, 'I'm sorry, but at least she was thorough with those irregular periods, period, to go on..."

RCMP uncovers secret royalist group

RCMP have uncovered a secret royalist organization on campus with headquarters in the city. Dr. Zook and Dr. Brown have been taken into custody and are being held at the Citadel for further questioning. Rank Hank, RCMP secret agent, told the press today how he infiltrated the royalist group them at the Forum calling the looted some people but not an RCMP agent trained at Pile-of-Ing Charities in the direct line-off the country's coal fish supply. On the wall was a chart showing Canada's coal supply. To achieve their goal they have the Atomic Energy of Canada's coal supply. Rank Hank and Blane Rankey have the Cape Bretoners in-ll-ate the federal civil service and take its annual federal handout. These unspent funds would induce corruption in the cabinet. said Rank Hank.