Home Letters from an Officer at the Front

Introductory Chapters by

Capt. A. J. Dawson

Border Regiment

12°. $1.50 net. By mail, $1.65

Frank, unstudied letters written from the front by a regimental officer who, prior to the war, was a clerk in a suburban office somewhere in Blighty. It should appeal strongly to all men in training camps, to all men liable to be called up, to their parents and relatives, as an absolutely real and documentary record of actual experience in the war of one who, like themselves, had never had a thought before of military service.

The chapters provide an interesting and representative series of experiences: The First Letter; The First March; The Tale of a Tub; The Trenches at Last; A Dissertation on Mud; Taking Over on a Quiet Night; “What It’s Like”; The Dug-Out; A Bombing Show; Over the Parapet; The Night Patrol; In Billets; Bombardment; The Day’s Work; Tommy Dodd and Trench Routine; Stalking Snipers; An Artful Stunt; The Spirit of the Men; The Unhealthy Bit of Line; They Say—; The New Front Line; A Great Night’s Work; The Coming Push; Front Line to Hospital; The Push and After; Blighty.
