BRANTFORD C.O.R. MEN BEAT HAMILTON

Won With Five Wickets to Spare at Niagara Camp Last Week

An interesting cricket match took place on June 20th between the 1st Battalion 2nd C.O.R. of Hamilton and the 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R. of Brantford at Niagara, resulting in a win for the Brantford men by six wickets.

The 1st Battalion 2nd C.O.R. batted first and amassed the respectable total of 88, of which Corp. Skitt made a well placed 39 and C.Q.M.S. Church a very patient innings of 12.

The 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R. innings opened disastrously as Sergt. Bugden had the misfortune to be caught off the third ball. Sergt. Stokes and Sergt. Franklin succeeded in putting on 32 before being separated. Sergt. Franklin being brilliantly caught at short slip off a very hard chance for a hard hit 25.

Disaster again overtook the 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R. as C.S.M. Smith and Sergt. Roberts were bowled in consecutive overs, but C.Q.M.S. Winyard and Sergt. Stokes then proceeded to put the game on ice, and were never separated.

Sergt. Stokes batted for an hour and a quarter for a very stylish 44 not out, in which he saved but one chance, and C.Q.M.S. Winyard looked set for a century, had they been needed.

All donations, such as bats, balls, pads and gloves would be most gratefully received for the Brantford boys by C.Q.M.S. Winyard, c/o 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R., Niagara Camp. The Brantford boys are the only team in camp without an outfit.

HULL WOMAN HAD FAINTING SPELLS

Mrs. Thibault Overcomes Troubles by Taking Tanlac—Husband Praises It Also

The value of Tanlac in the treatment of stomach trouble with its many ills, is further evidenced in the case of Mrs. Valada Thibault, who resides at 27 Populnea avenue.

Hull, Mrs. Thibault, is the wife of J. A. Thibault, a life long resident of Hull, and what they have to say concerning Tanlac will be of much interest to the people of their community.

"I had been suffering," said Mrs. Thibault, "from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run-down condition for over a year, and I just don't know what I would have done without Tanlac, as I had reached the point where I don't believe I could have held out much longer. I always suffered terribly with indigestion after meals and what I ate seemed to do me no good. Every-thing I would eat would do me no good, causing gas, bloating and much pain, and such tight, depressed feelings in my chest that I could hardly breathe. My nervous condition kept me from getting any sound sleep and I was unable to do my housework, would have fainting spells and sometimes just fall to the floor completely exhausted. I couldn't even sweep the floor and while I just tried everything I kept getting worse."

"One day an aunt of mine told me how Tanlac had helped her and advised me to try it, and the results are I am feeling much stronger and better in every way. I have taken three bottles and feel about the best without the least trouble. Gas has stopped forming on my stomach and no matter what I eat I'm never bothered with indigestion. My health is better already than it has been in a long time and I'm just improving every day. I rest well at night and my nervousness with all that tired feeling is gone, and I am certainly very thankful to Tanlac."

Mr. Thibault, who witnessed his wife's statement, said: "Yes, it's really remarkable how my wife has improved in health since she began using Tanlac and I heartily endorse every word she has said in recommending it. She had been in such wretched health for more than a year that I had become uneasy and bought all kinds of medicines. But Tanlac is the only thing that has ever done her any good and I will be glad to personally tell anybody just what it has done for her."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by William Voemans; in Mississauga by William Peckley; in Mississauga by Neil McPhadden.

HOW TO WIN A WOMAN'S HEART

Different Receipt is Asked For But Dorothy Dix Makes a Stab At It

A young man who is in love asked Dorothy Dix for a reliable recipe for winning a maiden's heart.

She replied that it was a hard question to answer. However, this is what she said: There are many women with many minds and each woman has a hundred moods about what she likes in a man. What pleases her one minute may bore her the next. What she longs for most she may tire of as soon as she gets it, so that any advice one might give in the matter is subject to endless change to suit the time, the place, and the girl.

There are some roads, though, that come so near to always leading to the feminine fancy that it seems worth while to erect a few guide posts along them for the benefit of anxious lovers.

I was sent once upon a time by the newspaper upon which I was employed to interview a convicted man in March, but strenuously throwing in various parts of the conversation. He was a most ordinary and common-place creature, with neither good looks, education, a prepossession, nor any of the things which tend to dazzle a woman's eyes and capture her imagination. Therefore it was with unbounded curiosity that I asked him to reveal to me the secret by which he had won so many female hearts.

"Oh," he said contemptuously, "it's dead easy to make a woman fall in love with you. All you've got to do is just talk her blind about herself."

It was putting the matter brutally, but it was the opinion of an expert, and there is undoubtedly much truth in the contention. Women do like to be talked to about themselves. It is the one subject of which they never weary, and no matter how dumb they are about their own merits, to them it is tipped with the wisdom of a Solomon and the eloquence of a Demosthenes.

When girls are very young they like to hear about their eyes, their hair, their lips—their looks generally. When they are older and their tastes a little more subtle they prefer to be made to feel that a man is analyzing their thoughts, and reverse this rule and praise their emotions, and their intuitions. It is at this time that a woman falls for the assertion that there is something mysterious and inscrutable about her.

Bear this in mind, however. Always praise a homely woman for her eyes, her teeth, her smile, or her figure and not for her cleverness and reverse this rule and praise the pretty woman for her wit and her cleverness. Heavens know why, but a woman is always more flattered to hear of her intelligence than of the things she is.

FILMETS

Most anybody can make a rabbit run, out is a real trick to make a rabbit run in a desired direction and a still greater one to make him pursue his natural enemy, man. Yet that is just what Br'er Rabbit is made to do in the Mack-Sonnett comedy "Two Tough Tondrests," and they say he gives Charley Lynn and Ben Turpin the run of their lives. Nor is the cotton-tail the only animal which joins in the fun-making. There is the famous Mack-Sonnett lion, the little calico pony and a chicken, but the chicken has a silent though nevertheless funny part. He's roasted.

Like any well-brought-up small boy in the Spring, Mabel Normand is devoted to top spinning. Look in the big Goldwyn "dolls" around the noon-hour and you'll not find the sprightly star sunning herself in a steamer chair as Madge Kennedy does, nor gathering butterflies with Mae Marsh, but strenuously throwing one top after another. A circle of juvenile admirers always surrounds her, but not one of them is younger in spirits than Mabel Normand.

Olive Tell, the Empire All-Star Corporation's beautiful star, has a fact that is as unusual as it is old for Miss Tell collects all sorts and sizes of beads. In Miss Tell's collection are some very curious and valuable beads given her by an Indian—a Chippewa Chief—which had formed part of the ceremonial dress of his tribe for years.

Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle recently received a letter from an expert blacksmith, who admitted that "Fatty" could do something at the trade of blacksmithing that he couldn't do in "A Country Hero," the mammoth one is seen shaping a horseshoe when it is cold. "This goes me one better," writes the expert blacksmith.

BRITISH ARMIES IN MANY RAIDS

Series of Successful Operations Carried Out Sunday and Monday By Courier Leased Wire London, June 26.—A series of British raiding operations by an independent air force in which important points behind the German lines were attacked and many tons of bombs dropped, is reported in an official statement to-day. It reads: "Sunday evening the weather cleared somewhat and our bombing squadrons carried out a series of attacks on the Metz-Sablons station. Three raids were made during the early evening and a fourth after midnight. Clouds prevented observation of the results obtained. Over six tons of bombs were dropped on this objective.

"On Monday, in spite of high winds and clouds, attacks were successfully carried out on factories and sidings at Saarbrücken, factories at Dilligen and the railway sidings at Metz-Sablons.

"Our formations were attacked by enemy airplanes, one of which was sent down in flames and another driven down out of control. All of our machines returned."

By Courier Leased Wire Hammond, Ind., June 25.—Alonso Sargeant, engineer of the train which caused the disaster to the circus train near Gary, Ind., last Saturday was arrested charged with manslaughter while at the inquest to-day. Sargeant, called as a witness, declined to testify on advice of counsel.

WRESTLED ON STREET CORNER

By Courier Leased Wire Chicago, June 25.—A wrestling match at the busiest corner in Chicago attracted such a crowd yesterday that the police had trouble in handling the traffic.

At State and Madison streets in a sixteen foot ring plotted on a truck, Danny Goodman and Walter Jacobson, professional lightweights, mauled one another while a crowd cheered. The motor truck on which the ring had been constructed, moved from corner to corner for the purpose of advertising a benefit boxing show to be held at Camp Grant, July 4, when "the soldier boxers of the Rockford cantonment meet" those from Canada in bouts.
