Dry Goods A good indication of a live busines

house is to see its advertisement in the local paper. A merchant who is afraid o tell what he has, hasn't much worth telling about. A merchant who is afraid to quote prices before the eyes of competitors has'nt got the right prices to quote; and yet, while this is true it s not to be supposed that all we read n newspaper advertising is gospel truth. Sharpers have taken advan-tage of honest success and often buy space to cheat the public. Such cases re rare, thank goodness.
Our business is Dry Goods, Mantles Mantle Cloths, and Men's Furnishings. We have made those departments a study and buyers will find prices right Ladies who live out of town, if you Startling Figures Showing the Depression in the United States.

New York, Dec. 30,—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Starting with the largest trade ever known, mills crowded with work and all business stimulated by high hopes, the year 1893 has proved in sudden shrinkage for trade. In commercial disasters and depression of industries, the worst for fifty years. Whether the final results of the panic-of 1837 were relatively more severe the scanty records of that time do not clearly show. All-Hope the New Year may bring brighter days, but the dying year leaves only a dismal record.

In thirty-seven years covered by the records of this agency the number of failures has only once risen a little above 16,650 in a year. In 1898 the number reported has been 16,650. This year the strictly commercial liabilities alone have exceeded $881,429,999, the liabilities of banking and financial institutions have hear $210,956,864 and the liabilities.
