Additional Locals

Born—at Theodore, Sask., on Thursday, 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. S. Herbert Sherman, a daughter.

The inequalities of our board walks proved too much for John Ball this week, and he was prostrated on several occasions. These falls served only to arouse his warlike spirit and he boldly attacked a barb-wire fence. This saw his finish, and at the close of the day he was seeking surgical treatment.

Charles Hawkins held a kind of Old Boy's reunion with himself this week, and Chief Hillis was called to quell a disturbance he was creating in the home of his parents. The offender was looked up and later appeared before Magistrate Holmes and was fined $3 and costs. He was given time to pay.

An experienced fair-goer says, "If you can go to only one fair this fall, let it be Delta." You will there see the best the county can produce, attractive meat all your friends, have a good dinner at a moderate price, witness a good program of races and sports, and return home rested, refreshed and satisfied.

The analysts of the inland revenue department at Ottawa have carefully examined fifty-four samples of honey collected during March and April last in different parts of Canada. Of this ten were found to be adulterated. When those analysts want to get a little honey for their own use, they should communicate with the proprietor of the Athens Apiary, Mr. M. B. Holmes.

In discussing the shortage of teachers, the Prescott Journal says: One of the reasons for the small number registered at the Model is the fact that the lack of qualified teachers has become so acute that many students from the high schools who wrote on the recent examinations are going out to small rural schools to teach without any professional training whatever. It is a case of either employing these untrained inexperienced teachers or closing the schools.

This fall, Messrs. Chas. R. Rudd & Co., Brockville, are specializing on harness and horse blankets. Their high-grade low-priced goods delight both the horse and its owner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barber and child leave Athens this week for Nyack, N.Y., where Mr. Barber takes a responsible position with the firm with which he was formerly connected. Mr. Barber's health has benefited greatly by his sojourn in Athens, and he returns feeling fully equal to the efficient discharge of his new duties. Socially, as well as in a business way, citizens of Athens regret the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Barber.

Frankville Fair Directors are arranging for the greatest show in its history, and it looks as if their expectations were going to be realized. Frankville always offers a good clean show, with no questionable features, and its popularity is growing. This year visitors on the second day (Sept. 28) will see all prize-winning live stock and witness the best programme of sports and speeding contests ever put on. Remember the date, Sept. 27 and 28.

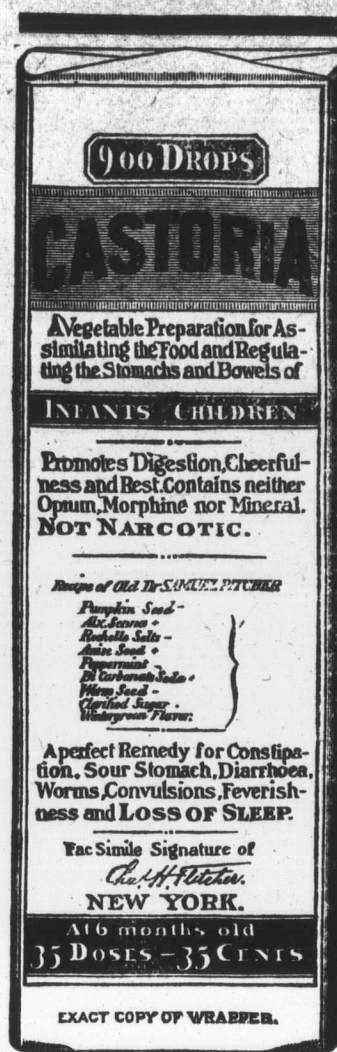

Fifty Against Two

It is not reasonable to expect two weeks of outing to overcome the effects of fifty weeks of confinement.

Take a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla along with you. Three doses, daily, of this great tonic will do more than anything else to refresh your blood, overcome your tired feeling, improve your appetite, and make your sleep easy and restful.

Neither Food Nor Medicine

Alcohol as a medicine is a back number. Sir Victor Horsley, surgeon of the University College, London, and one of the delegates to the British Medical Association meeting in Toronto told the Dominion Alliance that the value of alcohol as a medicine is practically nil. The movement against alcohol in England, he said, really began with the surgeons. It was, however, no credit to them, but to Lord Lister, the great man to whom they owed everything, and was one of the innumerable benefits resulting from the discovery of the principles of antiseptic surgery.
