Sadly the weeks follow swiftly,
Sad, oh! more sad grow they still,
By months and years they are number
Yet never the promise falfill!
Storm and sunshine visit the earth,
The seasons expectant roll,
And bring peace and plenty to all,
All save the poor waiting soul.

Years sadden the fair, patient face,
Weary the gentle blue eyes
Grow with their watching and waiting
For one who never strives.
At length comes the welcome message,
She meekly bows neath the rod,
Death claims her one of his victims,
Her writing soul is with God.

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy baloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so may pull him through. that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the of is Allen's Lung Balsam.
