

TWO PICTURES.

This is what the great Edmund Burke says of the duty of a Representative. We want Mr. Snowball and his friends to read it:—
"It is the duty of your parliamentary representative to sacrifice his repose and his pleasures to yours, and above all, to prefer in all cases your interest to his own."

AN IGNOMINIOUS BACK DOWN.

Few British subjects on this side of the Atlantic, have read of the ignominious back down of the British Government on the American claims for damages in re the Fortunate Bay affair, with other feelings than disgust and contempt. In October last Earl Granville sent a despatch claiming that the grounds upon which the Americans rested their claim, were not tenable—that the claim had been made as if there was nothing binding upon the American fishermen in the treaty made between the two governments.

Some of the Colonial papers thought the document a substantial declaration that the British Government would resist the payment; but it was our opinion that serious mischief had been done in opening the case at all in arguing about it and handling words, instead of waving it pompously out of court. Our fears turn out to have been well founded; the same government which in October repudiated the amount, in April issued a check for £15,000,000, in payment of it.

We consider this more than a back down—it is a positive outrage; and especially so if the Newfoundland Government will be asked to pay the amount. A lot of lawless, infidel Yankee fishermen, of a Sunday morning get on board their boats, and cast out their nets to haul fish, though it was contrary to the local laws to so take it, and the American Government, by the wording of the treaty, had only rights in common with Newfoundland fishermen. Unwashed though the Island fishermen were, they knew the Americans had rights only in common with themselves, but they knew the local laws would not allow them to take fish on Sunday, and that apart from this the Americans were going outside the terms of the treaty. So they cut the Americans' nets adrift, and drove the fishermen from the shore. For a few fathoms of net—destroyed unlawfully of course, as the people should not have taken the law in their own hands—these same treaty and Sabbath breakers get fifteen thousand pounds sterling!

A GARTER FOR SIR JOHN.

It is said Sir John Macdonald is to be invested with the order of the Garter while in England. While less worthy and brilliant statesmen have received this distinguished honor, it is not likely the rumor will prove correct. The British Government is very conservative in the disposal of garters, and we do not think they would easily consent to see one go to a Colonial Minister, however distinguished, or however worthy. After Beaconsfield had become Prime Minister of England, he did not think he had reached the top of the ladder till he got a garter. But it was not till after his return from the Berlin Congress, bearing the laurel "peace with honor," till he had received the Freedom of London, and till the people looked at him much as the Romans did on Caesar after his famous return, that the desire of his heart was gratified. However, we may be disappointed—agreeably so—and Sir John may come home Lord John, wearing the garter.

Note.—Our readers may pardon us for introducing a short note on the origin of this order, since the question has come up. The order of the Garter is the most ancient and honorable order in England. It was instituted by Edward III about the year 1350. This prince having engaged in a war with France, to which country he laid claim in right of his mother Isabella, he drew to his banner all the brave and eminent spirits he could find. On his return from France where he was victorious he rewarded 26 of his faithful knights with this distinguished badge and honor. There is a romantic story told of the origin of the garter. The fair Countess of Salisbury was dancing with the king, Edward III, and her garter dropped. The king immediately picked it up and tied it around his own leg. The Queen being jealous, and the courtiers smiling the monarch gave back the garter to its fair owner with the words "Don't say that I did not see you," Norman French being the court language, the words meaning, Evil to him who thinks evil of it.

ARCHBISHOP CROKE'S ADDRESS.

We publish elsewhere today all we have been able to get, of the powerful, and eloquent address of His Grace Archbishop Croke at Thurles on Wednesday last. Such a speech we have never had the privilege of printing before. It is the outburst of a great and good mind, a lofty appeal through constitutional, legal and moral means to the lofty and better nature of Mr. Gladstone and the Irish people. No one needs now to have any doubts about the aims of the Land League, or to foolishly think the people who go to the League, carry weaker arms than moral force. Ireland tomorrow armed with guns and swords, would indeed be but a harmless foe to England, but armed with those moral, lawful, and constitutional weapons, of which the eloquent Archbishop speaks, she is simply invincible. How finely His Grace disposes of the hopes and the fears of those who fancied that the Land League had yet to develop the gun and the bayonet, and what a rebuke too does he not give to the ill-conceived, and impotent schemes which in past times some adopted in their country's cause, to but eventually plunge her in deeper misery. "We will enlist in our behalf," he says "not the swords nor the guns nor the cannon of France, or of Spain, but the intelligent opinion of the intelligent nations of the world."

We need not quote more. Our readers will be better rewarded, by reading His Grace's words for themselves.

GREAT ROADS.

We are glad to be able to announce that the Chief Commissioner of Public Works has placed at the disposal of Mr. Supervisor McNaughton, the sum of $600, to be expended on the great road from Chatham to Ulocks, on the Ritchieboro Road so called. This is a handsome sum for this portion of road, and in excess of any amount granted for the same service this many years. From year to year the necessity of a handsome grant along this road had been felt and at last through the strong and persistent representations of our two members, Mr. Davidson and Hon. M. Adams, a suitable grant has been made. This road has been in a wretched condition for many years, waggons sink, and to the axle in the mud, the amounts granted barely sufficing to fill up the ruts, while turnpiking had been entirely neglected. But there is a great deal of traffic along the road, because of the large number of thrifty settlers living along it, for which reasons we are glad to say that the exertions of our two members toward securing a sufficient grant, have been successful.

THE LAND BILL.

Those who read the reception, the Land Bill got in the house of Commons, must see what public sentiment is, on the land question in Ireland. In a house of 528 members, the bill got a second reading by a majority of 176 votes, the vote standing 352 for and 176 against, or two to one. The extreme home rulers who would have voted for the measure had it been in danger, numbered 28, which would have swelled the majority up to 204. Since the vote, speculation is beyond its depth as to what the Lords will do. Some think they will pass the Bill, and some that they will reject, or mutilate it, that it will be the same bill only in name. If so they will do a very foolish thing. Mr. Gladstone is determined on passing that bill, substantially just as it is, and if the Lords reject or mutilate it, they will be obliged at no distant day to pass a far more sweeping measure.

DR. KINGDON.

Dr. Kingdon, the Protestant Coadjutor Bishop of New Brunswick, arrived in Fredericton Friday last. He conducted both services at the Cathedral on Sunday, and a Fredericton correspondent describes him as a rapid speaker. "His voice, though sharp, is clear and distinct and, by the way, it filled the church, and his peculiarly musical and lengthened tones at times, conveys the impression that he is accustomed to large buildings and chanted services."

SUPERANNUATIONS.

It is reported that Mr. Wm. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine is to be superannuated. We all have our short comings, and so too no doubt has Mr. Smith, but by his superannuation the public service will lose an efficient officer. What a pity the Government does not take it into its head to superannuate Mr. Whiteher, in the interest of our fishermen.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

Some farmers in Russel County, Ontario, are so overcome by Mrs. Ship on's prophecies, that they have not put in any crops this spring, believing the world will come to an end on the 19th of June. They mope around, letting things go to the dogs, waiting for the dies true.

Sir Charles Tupper will probably visit the Maritime Provinces, with Sir Hector Langevin. Both will get a hearty welcome if they come to the North Shore, and our hospitable people have plenty for both—and for Mr. Blake with them. On behalf of our readers, we extend the distinguished gentlemen a hearty invitation.

Senator McLellan it is thought will be elected for Colchester by a 400 majority. The election of the other Government candidate for Pictou, is not expected. The election takes place in both counties on the 18th inst.

The press association of Toronto, lately gave Professor Goldwin Smith a banquet. The Professor goes to Europe shortly, and his paper the Bystander will read in the interim.

Mr. Snowball is now so much ashamed of himself for his small act in preventing ships from going to Mr. Crimmon & Co.'s ballast wharf, that he denies having done so.

A Bailiff in New Pallas, Ireland, on Sunday last, shot one man dead, and wounded others. The bailiff and his three sons are now in jail.

It is said Mr Brunel the obnoxious Deputy of Inland Revenue is to be superannuated. The sooner the better.

Action in the ballast wharves matter, is not taken any more soon.

There are now 30,000 soldiers in Ireland.

A GLANCE AT DAVITT IN PRISON.

Mr Davitt was visited in prison today by Mrs. A. M. Sullivan. She had a long interview with the imprisoned leader of the Land League in presence of the governor of the goal. Mr. Davitt is in good health and spirits. He is not compelled to associate with the other prisoners, and by order from the Home Department he is treated with exceptional consideration. His work consists in taking care of the governor's garden, an occupation which evidently agrees with him, as he looks hale and sunburned. He is kept, however, in complete ignorance of all that is passing in the outer world. Even the news of Mr. Brennan's arrest had evidently not reached him, because he requested Mrs. Sullivan to convey to Mr. Brennan some instructions about his private affairs. Under the conditions on which the visit was allowed it was impossible for the visitor to inform him of the arrest of his friend. But the way in which the request was received evidently conveyed to Mr. Davitt a correct idea of the situation, for he laughed, and asked if Secretary Forster had arrested any of the ladies yet, expressing his opinion that the Chief Secretary was equal to that or any other disgraceful work. Mr. Davitt has made up his mind to remain in prison for the four years necessary to complete his original sentence. He says he will come out all right. The interview concluded by his furnishing Mrs. Sullivan with a long list of books which he desires to be sent him, as he says, for winter reading.

ADDRESS TO SIR HECTOR L. LANGEVIN.
Sir Hector Langevin was presented on the 2nd inst. in Ottawa, with an address from the staff of the Department of Public Works congratulating him on the high honor of knighthood recently conferred on him by Her Majesty. The occasion was a pleasing and interesting one, and well calculated to enervate the esteem and regard entertained for the popular Minister by those in the service of his department. The following is a copy of the address:—
"To the Hon. Sir Hector L. Langevin, K. C. M. G., C. B., Minister of Public Works:
"HONOURABLE SIR,—Although as public employes we take no share in party politics, we consider we may be allowed to express our sincere and respectful felicitations on the occasion of the high dignity recently conferred on you by her most gracious Majesty Queen Victoria by appointing you Knight Commander of the most illustrious order of St. Michael and St. George. The many services you have rendered to the country, and your unceasing labors for its welfare, have entitled you to this royal favour. It is, therefore, with feelings of great pride and pleasure that we come in a body before you, honourable sir, to unite with those who have already greeted you on your elevation to so distinguished a dignity. We also beg to congratulate Lady Langevin on this new mark of distinction which your talents and merit have won for her.
"Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, June 2nd, 1881.
(Signed) "G. F. BAILLIARGE,
"and the whole staff of the department."
Sir Hector made a very happy reply. BISHOP SWEENEY'S RETURN FROM ROME.
The Allan steamer from England arrived at Rimouski at one o'clock yesterday morning, and landed the mails and passengers for St. John, among the latter being His Lordship Bishop Sweeney and Rev. Father Michaud, returning from a visit to Rome and other cities in Europe. The train with the passengers and mail left Rimouski at 4.50 a.m., and arrived at the station here about 7.30 p.m. Word that His Lordship was on board the train was telegraphed from Moncton, and, as a consequence, a large number of the Catholic congregations of the city, Carleton and Portland, and others, had gathered at the station to witness his arrival. When the train stopped, His Lordship and Father Michaud stepped from the car and were met by a reception committee from the Cathedral and Portland congregations. Barouches were in waiting, and His Lordship and Father Michaud were driven to the Palace on Waterloo street. The route was up Dorchester street to Union, thence to Waterloo street to the Palace. There were five barouches, in the first being Bishop Sweeney, Very Rev. Thos. Connolly, V. G., Hon. T. W. Anglin and H. F. Quigley, Esq. The occupants of the other barouches were Rev. Fathers Ouellet, Menhan and Michaud, and several lay gentlemen. Several hours were very pleasantly spent at the Palace, His Lordship giving very interesting descriptions of his visit with Father Michaud to the Eternal City. Large numbers of visitors also called on His Lordship during the evening to welcome him home. St. Vincent's Convent on Cliff street was brilliantly illuminated in honor of his return.

In the evening at seven o'clock the Cathedral congregation (including the Carleton congregation) presented Bishop Sweeney with an address accompanied by a handsome purse, and His Lordship replied, after which the Portland congregation presented an address. The Cathedral bell began to ring at 6 o'clock and the presentation took place at 7 o'clock.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST HYDROPHOBIA.
The Prefect of Paris has placarded the walls with instructions as to the treatment of wounds inflicted by rabid animals, or animals suspected of being mad. These instructions have been prepared by a special commission of distinguished men, and deserve to be widely known. They state (1) that the wounds, whether deep or slight, should be made to bleed freely by necessary pressure, and then to be washed by a stream of water to the moment of cauterization. (2) Cauterization should be effected with Vienna, beaure d'antimoine, chloride of zinc, and better still by a red hot iron—any piece of iron, even a key or nail made red hot will do, if only no part of the wound be left untouched. (3) The success of the cauterization being dependent on the promptness with which it is performed, everyone should be ready to perform the service before the arrival of a doctor. (4) Cauterization with ammonia and different kinds of alcohol are completely useless.

BRIEF.
Mr. Gladstone said there was no foundation whatever for the statement that the Irish Executive represented to the Cabinet the necessity for suppressing the Land League.

BY ELECTRICITY!

No more trouble in getting children's pictures taken. I am now working in connection with my Camera, an ingeniously constructed Apparatus, worked by Electricity, enabling me to produce a beautiful Picture of any child in one second of time—All we need now is a wink from the little folks, and we have a facsimile of their securely made.

In thanking the people of Miramichi for their very liberal patronage during my stay in Chatham, I can assure them in future of getting even better work done by me than in the past. For the greater the facilities, greater will be the results. I have just procured at a great expense the very latest improvements in apparatus. I keep on hand a large stock of pictures, such as Oil paintings, Chromos, and Me'toer. Also a very large stock of picture frames and mouldings. Pictures framed in any style desired, with but short notice and prices to suit the times. I do not wish as I am the only photographer here to exact unreasonably high prices. Old faded likenesses and pictures that have been taken by inexperienced workmen, can be renewed by me, enlarged and finished in Ink, Oil, Water Colors or Crysol. Rooms—Opposite Masonic Hall.

Call of Salmon.

The price of salmon in the States has fallen from 40 cts., 13 cts. per lb. This is due to enormous quantities of fish, especially caught in other waters.

Why?

Why should our fishermen their salmon in the U. S. market they have frozen to keep their fish November, when they could brigantine for England?

Bank Charge

The Bank of Nova Scotia, established at Newcastle, charges only an eight cent. on drafts the same as which our business men have been paying a quarter per cent.

Salmon.

The value catches so far, has comparatively good; especially the Islands down the Miramichi Mr. T. Williston who fishes on Vin Island, seems to be in very luck.

Hay for Sale.

Gaspareaux.

Gaspareaux are becoming more full every year since the liberty there has been taken away. After the privilege being cancelled more than 300 bbls. were taken North, while so far this season more than 2,000 bbls. have been caught gaspareaux is taken in a net net.

Boom Meeting.

A meeting of the S. W. Woodcutters was held yesterday in Junctions office, Newcastle. They taking steps to have the mill opened on the South West next. Owing to ill health Judge Williston signed as Sec-Treasurer of the C. and W. A. Park, Esq., was elected his stead.

Shad

Is more plentiful this year, than number of years past. They are especially about Bay du Vin. For this reason Mr. W. S. Loggie decided to fill one third of his trees shad. In consequence of the catches of shad in United States does not pay to ship salmon to the United States markets. The caught in salmon nets.

A Caution.

The Harbor Master has informed proprietors of the different ballast that they will be obliged to buy side blocks to their wharves, to the ballast falling into the river Hutchison wharf is in a scandalous and the proprietor should have brought to book before this for its condition. And this is only one.

Personal.

The Governor General will talk to Great Britain after his return to the North-West.

Sir A. T. Galt and family the 30th inst. He will visit the West, discuss emigration with the Government and return to London in October.
