Conn. Cropley, of North Lake, Elected Warden.

(By our own Reporter.)

The January session of the York Municipal Council apened at 10.30 a. m. Tuesday, Werden McKeen in the chair. All the councillors were present except Heron of St. Marvs. Sec.-Treas. Black announced that sinc the last session the election in the parish of McAdam had been held and councillors Baskin and Hoyt were present from that parish. The council was found to be constituted as follows:

Bright-John McKeen, Spencer Inch. Canterbury-Geo. F. A. Jamieson, James

Douglas - Wm. Kinghorn, W. Harvey Lawrence.

Dumfries-John Scott, Thomas Simmons Kingsclear-John C. Murray, A. E. Cliff. Manners Sutton-John Mowatt, Robert New Maryland - David M. Fisher, Ab-bsalom A. Nason. North Lake-Geo. S. Inch, David Cropley. Prince William-W. W. Graham, Archie MeMullin.

Queensbury-Alanson McNally, John W. St. Marys-Alex. Heron, Calvin L. Estabrooks.

Southampton-James K. Pinder, Patrick bckard. Stanley-Donald Fullerton, Thos. B. Boice. McAdam-J. Wesley Hoyt, Geo. T. Baskin. Coun. Cropley of North Lake was nomiated for warden on motion of Coun. Scott, sconded by Coun. Inch, and there being no her nominations, Mr. Cropley was unanimously elected. The new warden on taking the chair, thanked his fellow councillors for the confidence reposed in him, and said he would do his best to carry on the proceedings of the board in a business like way, knowing that he would have the support of the members in that direction.

Coun. Graham moved that the presen Secretary-Treasurer and auditor be reelected at the same salary. Coun. Cliff said Coun. Graham was going too fast. It was not usual for the Secretary. Treasurer to be elected until his account had been passed upon. Coun. Nason agreed with this view, and the Secretary-Treasurer said it was the usual course to wait until the accounts were

The Secretary-Treasurer submitted his accounts, which were referred to a committee Mowatt, Cliff, Scott. In submitting his accounts Mr. Black said that the past year had been a very hard one. There was great difficulty in getting the collectors to respond to the demand he had frequently made upon them. On Nov. 36th, 1894, there was an overdraft in the bank of $4,800; but yesterday when his accounts closed there was a balance of $57.18. On Dec. 28th last only $9.992 of the $18,000 assessed in 1894 had been collected. The income from other sources included $917 received from the city on account of administration of justice, $700 from debentures and two or three small sums for jury fees etc. In the meantime accounts came in that had to be paid, consequently he had to make overdrafts at the bank upon which the county had to pay interest. He said that during the year there had been some exceptional expenditure, among which might be named $500 paid to the Gibson fire sufferers, $500 paid the estate of the late Hon. R. Bellamy, an old loan, and $480, balance due the York Agricultural Society. In addition to these amounts the county had to pay certain expenses of criminal prosecutions which had been ordered by recent legislation.

The Secretary-Treasurer read a communication from P. Tole of the P. L. Asylum calling the attention of the council to the fact that three pauper lunatics in that institution-1 from Canterbury, 1 from Marysville and 1 from Manners Sutton-are under the law chargeable to the county of York. place in the meantime Coun. Kinghorn opposed the resolution The county treasury was depleted, and a new valuation would cost a great deal of money. The expenses and pay of the valuators alone would cost $700; the cost of the assessors would be at least $50, and in addition to this there would be the expenses of printing, making, he believed, in all not less than $2,000. Coun. Nason took the same view; action should be postponed for one year at least. Coun. Spencer Inch said he would not be scared by the proposed valuation. He wanted it and would do all he could to bring it about. Coun. Cliff moved the matter lay over till tomorrow morning.

Coun. Pinder wanted the question settled now, as some of the members wanted to go nome. He thought Coun. Kinghorn's anxiety was as to his own parish. He (Kinghorn) was a valuator ten years ago and probably took good care of Douglas. Couns. Scott and McMullin favored a new
