MONDAY, June 10, 1918.

THIRTY-FOUR YEARS AGO.

There came into our possession a few days ago two copies of the Evening Telegram of dates Monday, May 12th and Friday, May 16th, 1884, therefore these issues of 34 years back are perhaps the oldest extant of any newspaper published in Newfoundland, apart from the Royal Gazette. The Telegram of the period mentioned was a four page, five column (broad) sheet the first page of which is devoted to advertisements and local items, the second to advertisements and reports, from exchanges, the third to advertisements and the usual instalment of the ever popular serial story, and the fourth to general news, correspondence, births, marriage and deaths and shipping intelligence. From the first page of May 12th issue we call the following items:

"H.M.S. 'Tenedos' left for Halifax this forenoon."

"The Bishop of Newfoundland did not arrive here by H.M.S. 'Pantome' on Saturday afternoon, as stated by the Mercury."

"At a sale of a likely lot of cattle to-day at Messrs. Clift's, Mr. Henry B. Dyer knocked down the first ox of course in auctioneer's, not butcher's style—to Mr. D. Dooley for $24. A bullock sold at Messrs. Pitts' last week fetched $25. Who will be rash enough to say after this that Newfoundland is a fish eating country?"

"That the finances of the Colony were not considered by the Telegram to be under capable management at this time (how history has the habit of repeating itself) the following goes to prove:

"The largest collection yet made in payment of monthly dues by the Total Abstinence Society was that received yesterday at its usual monthly meeting, when the sum of $113.26, 11d. was handed the Treasurer. This admirable result is largely due to the prudent business like management which characterized the administration of the foundation, and the fact that the determination enforced by them never to depart from the rules laid down in the Constitution. The expenditure on account of sickness and deaths amongst the members during the past quarter, amounted to $2.00. We advise Mr. W. J. S. Donnelly, the financial officer of this Colony, to ascertain from one of his humble but worthy subordinates, Mr. Patrick Reardon, of the department, the secret of the admirable financial management which has brought the T. A. Society to its present flourishing state. Were he to do so and apply those principles to the monetary affairs of this Colony what a superior condition would it find its finances soon exhibit. Mr. Donnelly may rest assured that the T. A. Society, the Colony would, instead of having to mourn over the fourth of the million dollar award having been paid away in liquidation of a floating debt extravagantly contracted (how like the present time) and the rest of it swallowed up in a dock and Railway of frightfully exaggerated cost, would find its exchequer invigorated by the possession of the whole sum of the award, with interest added, and the possession of handsome yearly surpluses, and the rest of it used to the interest of the accumulations we have named."

The award of one million dollars referred to was Newfoundland's portion of the sum accorded by the Halifax Commission to Canada and Newfoundland amounting to five and one-half million dollars which the United States Government paid over as compensation to these countries for certain privileges allowed United States fishermen in Canadian and Newfoundland waters. The award was signed at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on the 23rd of November, 1877. The dock named is the present Dry Dock and the Railway built at exaggerated cost was the St. John's-Harbour Grace line, otherwise known when the first and was turned in 1881 as the Hall's Bay Railway. As these past events are most interesting, especially to those who remember them, we shall refer again to them in subsequent issues.

Notes and Comments

Of two evils it is better to choose neither.

That is the position in which the Newfoundland Press finds itself today.

There has only been one successful Food Controller in the history of the world. One who made five loaves and two fishes feed a multitude. (Lloyd George.)

About now the German people are being shown photographs of the sunken en Vendictive at Zeebrugge as a proof of another great German Victory. (Vancouver Daily Sun.)

A man with a garden does not need an alarm clock to get him up early. He has to be on deck to shoo away the neighbors hens; those fastidious hens which find nothing to please them in the gardens of their owners.

Speaking of Daylight Saving would it not be a good idea for the Regimental authorities to allow the soldiers in barracks to remain out until 10.30 at evening, instead of having them report at 9.30. We presume that the extra hour would be appreciated by the men.

Sing a song of prescience:

Just a brace of Censors

Crew of Torpedoed Schr. Missing.

Messrs. A. E. Hickman & Co. have been shown photographs of the sunken crew of the schooner "Ceil Shave" which was torpedoed on May 24th. Both Lloyds and the Admiralty have been enquiring into the matter, but no information can be received and it is feared that the captain and crew have either been taken prisoners or drowned. The "Ceil Shave" left Cadiz for here on February 16th, with a cargo of salt. Those comprising her crew of 20 men were: Captain, St. John's, formerly of Flower's Island; Scobie McKie, St. John's navigator; Charles H. Hart, Fogo; John Turpin, St. John's; Robert Hunt, St. John's, and William Leonard, British Hr. T.B. seamen.

Magistrate's Court.

DOG CASE.

A case of a dog biting a horse was heard in the Magistrate's Court this morning and after considering the evidence, His Honor Judge Morris, dismissed the case. It appeared that there was another dog in the case and as dogs are not always agreeable to each other, there was no information can be received and it is feared that the captain and crew have either been taken prisoners or drowned.

WIFE DESERTER.

For deserting his better half, a labourer of Turk's Gut, was sent home by this morning's train in charge of the Constable Hunter, and will be tried before the Magistrate at Brigus.

PURCHASED STOLEN GOODS.

For purchasing goods that were stolen from the summer residence of Mr. W. P. Shortall by an escaped prisoner, named Robert, on or about the 20th of April last, a woman who runs a second hand store on New Gower Street was fined $50.

Reids Boats.

The Argyle arrived at Placentia at 8.10 a.m., to-day, and sails this evening on her way to Lewisport.

The Dundee left Port Burford this morning.

The Home is leaving Lewisport to-day.

The Diana left Daniel's Harbor at 3.45 p.m. yesterday, going north.

The Petrel left Clarendville this morning.

The Fogata left Belleoram at 4 a.m. to-day, coming east.

Train Movements.

Yesterday's outgoing express left Gar Topsails at 8.50 a.m. to-day.

The incoming express is due at 7.30 p.m. to-day.

BODY TO BE SENT HOME.—The remains of Pte. John S. Cains who died in hospital here on Wednesday last, have been sent to his late home at Great Jervis, Hermitage Bay, are to be sent out to Placentia by tomorrow morning's train, and from there will be taken to that place for interment.

13 V.C.'s for C.L.B.

The thirteenth Victoria Cross has just been put to the credit of the Church Lads' Brigade, whose battalion of the King's Royal Rifles recently made such a heroic stand at Neuve Eglise. Forces, who have been awarded the V.C. for conspicuous bravery in an attack, was until 1913 Sergeant in the C.L.B. Company of St. Matthew's, Buckley. He then went out to Australia, and on the outbreak of war, joined up, and served in Gallipoli, the Dardanelles, Egypt and France. He was awarded the Military Medal when in France, and later given a commission in recognition of his work. Unhappily, the gallant V.C. was killed in the achievement which won him his last distinction. He is the first overseas member of the Church Lads' Brigade to win the Victoria Cross.—Weekly Mail and Record.

THE GORDON C.—The Gordon C. Capt. Perry which left here a few days ago for Little Bay Islands to load her, leaving for Little Bay Islands on Saturday afternoon.

At Cochrane Street Centennial Church.

There was a large congregation at last evening's service in Cochrane St. Centennial Church. The song service consisting of a number of well known hymns, which were specially printed for service, was much appreciated, the entire congregation joining heartily in the singing. The solos in the anthem by the choir were taken by Miss Vincent and Mr. C. Hatcher. Miss E. Mews rendered "The Prodigal Son" as a solo, and the male quartette, "Remember me oh Mighty One."

Special prayer was offered for the King, the nation and our allies, following which the Women only sang "God bless our splendid men," followed by all singing the National Anthem. The Rev. Dr. Bond delivered a short address on the "Catching of men" and cited several very striking instances of effective work done by real live Christian men—these sort of men the Church needs to-day. An able plea was made for the formation of a Y. M. C. A. which was badly needed in this city.

Assaulted at Conception Harbor.

As Mr. P. J. Griffin, school teacher, of Conception Harbour, was returning from church on the morning of Sunday, May 12th, he was assaulted and knocked down by one, H. Wade, of that place in consequence of Mr. Griffin having taken an active part in the recent movement for securing recruits for the Regiment. Mr. Griffin was also jeered and insulted by some of Wade's companions on the same occasion and came to town to obtain redress for the treatment he had been subjected to. The Returned Soldiers' and Rejected Volunteers' Association interested itself in the case and a writ was issued in the Supreme Court for damages against Wade for his share in the outrage. The case has been settled out of Court by payment by the defendant to Mr. Griffin of a considerable amount in satisfaction for the unwarranted assault, and it is hoped that the case will also serve as a warning to any others who may be misguided enough to think that they can insult law-abiding and patriotic citizens and escape punishment.

At Rest.

Yesterday afternoon, there was laid to rest, in God's acre, the mortal remains of the late Wm. White, the quiet of the Sabbath being emblematic of the life just closed. The service at the graveside was conducted by the Rev. N. M. Guy and H. Royle, favourite hymns of the deceased being sung. Many floral tributes expressed the sympathy of friends, amongst which were those from the employees of the Nfd. Clothing Factory, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Howard, Mrs. Edw. White, Mr. and Mrs. G. Knowling, Mrs. Edward White and family, officers and teachers George Street Sunday School, Mr. Mark Pike's Bookery Class, and Miss Viola Joffe, and a very choice wreath expressing the love of the absent son and daughter. "At eventide there shall be light."

Visits Jensen Camp.

On Friday afternoon His Excellency the Governor paid a visit to the Jensen Camp. He was accompanied by Miss Harris, Dr. Grenfell, Major Macpherson, and Capt. Campbell. At the entrance the grounds were lined by Mrs. J. Browning, Sir Patrick McGrath and the members of the Board of Control of Jensen Camp.

The head nurse, Miss Church, and the nursing staff were presented to His Excellency, who enquired closely into the working of the camp and expressed his pleasure with the results obtained. The patients who were lined up on the veranda looked so well and happy that it was difficult for a visitor to realize that these smart looking men in uniform were really the patients to care for whom the institution had been brought into existence by the ladies of the Jensen Red Cross Association. His Excellency and party made a thorough examination of the establishment and were interested in asking how the hospital had grown from a small poorly equipped building only able to accommodate 8 to 10 patients to a sanitary built modern lines with space for nearly thirty beds, with large airy sun room, dining room, and rest ward, as well as a large dressing room well equipped with baths, hot and cold water, etc.

The buildings are heated by a steam plant, and are under the supervision of Mr. Hall, the Government Engineer. The installation of electric light and other improvements are completed.

When it is known that all this has been done by the Jensen Red Cross, it will at once be seen that the patients and the country at large owe much to the energy and work of the ladies who have given so much of their time to the successful carrying on of this work.

BROUGHT SHIP THROUGH.

LONDON, To-day.

A Belfast steamer torpedoed by a German submarine, while bound from England, has been rescued and is safely in port.

The vessel was manoeuvred so adroitly, however, that out of four shots fired three of them missed their mark. The attack was made at night.

At daybreak the vessel was still afloat, but well down by the head. The crew which had abandoned the ship, went back on board, although the forward deck was awash, and determined to take her to port. They succeeded in getting the disabled wireless plant into operation again and dashed an urgent call for help. They were powerless as the ship was unmanageable, and would have been easy prey for a submarine if one had been in the vicinity. Two tugs came up and towed the line steamer safely to port.

The submarine which was faster than the steamer, ran ahead of her in the darkness, and lay in wait until she came alongside. The explosion of the torpedo which was fired at close range tore a great hole in the starboard side. The
