The Day of Atonement.

From sunet on Tuesday, October 11th, until sunset on Wednesday evening, October 12th, the Jewish people will, everywhere, gather for the observance of Yom Kippur in their several places of worship and there, in meditation and prayer, forgetful of the world outside, revive their confidence in the eventual triumph of God's love and justice, and the brotherhood of man.

The Day of Atonement, known as Yom Kippur in Hebrew, is mentioned in the Bible. In the book of Leviticus, chapter 16, the elaborate priestly ceremonial of atonement is described. In Leviticus 23: 26-32, the observance of Yom Kippur is enjoined as a holy day whereon affliction of the soul (fasting, etc.) is to be practised.

A traditional observance on this day has, thus, long been fasting. Originally the high priest was the central figure of the ritual. He besought forgiveness for his own sins and those of his household, and then for all the people. The sacrifice of two goats, one for the Lord and the other set aside for "Azazel," was a means of purification from sin.

From these Biblical practices, which sought, in symbolic fashion, to obtain forgiveness for the community as a whole, the celebration of the Day of Atonement was considerably changed in Rabbinical Judaism; and in modern Judaism, the observance of the Day of Atonement emphasizes repentance for shortcomings and misdeed, for failure to live up to one's highest ideals, and for yielding to the lure of indolence and selfishness.

The public service of the Day of tonement begins at sun-down with a olemn and plaintive prayer-melody. known as Kol Nidre ("all vows"), which refers to vows appertaining to the conscience of the individual. Throughout the whole day following, the service is continuous, the intent of which is to awaken within the worshipper a consciousness of his need to orientate himself spiritually, that he may the more worthily do his work in this world. The day-long service culminates in the Ne'ilah service, in which forgiveness is besought for all mankind as fervently as for the individual Jew who utters the prayer. Not the punishment of the sinner, but reentance for his failings and weakesses, and courage to walk under the urden of life, valiantly, is the keynote of the concluding service.

In modern times a memorial service s also a feature of the day. This service reminds the worshipper that death is a consummation of life, and should not be feared. No one who has lived worthily is forgotten, nor is his life void. All who contribute to the attainment of man's hope of redemption from poverty, war, famine, sickness, selfishness and exploitation, hasten the advent of the Kingdom of God, which is established as the result of every person's effort to better conditions of life. The memorial service on Day of Atonement is crowded ender memories, but utilizes the solmn moment to drive home the paramount duty of living for humanity.

Bell Island Poultry Association.

The Committee of the Bell Island Poultry Association decided at a recent meeting to hold their poultry and horticultural exhibition on the 15th, 16th and 17th of November. The success of the exhibition last year aroused considerable enthusiasm, and the Association's Committee are making provision for an increased numof exhibits this year. In addition to a large total of prizes offered the Association, a large number special prizes have been offered by persons interested in poultry dement on the Island. The Minister of Agriculture is offering a cup r the highest number of winnings Barred Rocks, Dr. Carnochan a cup for the greatest number of prizes ken by any owner of birds imported last Fall, the Editor of the Newadland Agricultural Magazine Mr. F. Every man and woman in the country is vitally interested in the cost of all commodities in daily use. On every hand you hear complaints about prices. Thousands of people are not yet convinced that prices have dropped to any considerable extent since this time last year, but a fair comparison of last year's prices with those now ruling—at the Royal Stores at least—will convince the most sceptical that such is the case.

Ve here at this Store have been constant in our efforts to hasten the drop in prices. We feel sure that our policy has been in line with public interests at all points. For some time past we have been collecting evidence and it all serves to confirm our deliberate opinion.

Manufacturers are now offering goods at prices well below those generally assumed to be prevailing. We have accepted a lot of these offers and the buying public get the benefit.

To prove beyond a doubt that prices are much lower, we have compiled a price list of goods that are in daily demand, and Obituary.

MR. SAMUEL HEATH, H.M. CUS-

(H. F. SHORTIS.)

Time like an ever rolling stream Bears all her sons away; They fly forgotten as a dream Fades at the break of day."

During the current year the truth of the words of this old paraphrase has been borne home to the people of this city. Time is bearing away all too rapidly the sons and 'daughters of the older generation. Among those taken is Mr. Samuel Heath, of H.M. Customs, a gentleman of the old school, strong, true and well and favorably known, and of rock-like faith. Like all that is mortal he will some day be forgotten, but not while there lives one who was privileged to know him. The numerous friends and acquaintances in Conception Bay (Harbor Grace in particular), as well an St. John's, will learn with profound regret of the death of Mr. Heath, which occurred at his residence, John Street, West End, this city, on Saturday evening last.

Samuel Heath was born in Harbor Grace seventy-eight years ago, being descended from one of the oldest and most respected families in that town. In his early days he prosecuted the Labrador and sealfisheries for some years, and also made several vovages in our mercantile marine. He was on board the brigantine Alabama, Capt. Heater, in the early sixties, when a terrible epidemic of smallpox broke out, and the vessel had to return from Labrador, and be placed on quarantine off Caplin Cove, where the old schooner Samuel was fitted up as an hospital. Fifty years ago Mr. Heath was appointed as Tidewaiter in the Customs Department, Harbor Grace, where he served for about twenty years. About thirty years ago he was transferred to St. John's, where he faithfully and conscientiously performed his public duties here in connection with the Customs. About five years ago his sight became seriously affected, and gradually became worse. He was also stricken with paralysis, but he bore his sufferings with true Christian patience and fortitude. He filled many important positions, everywhere winning the sincerest regard of all who came in contact with him, by his ability, dutifulness and integrity. He was very popular with the officials in the Customs Department, as well as with the public generally, because all knew he was a diligent and faithful officer-a man endowed with necessary tact, experience and a great heart. Mr. Heath was a man who combined, in an eminent degree, in the discharge of his duties, business sagacity and integrity with strength of character, and pleasing social qualities. The deceased leaves a widow, five sons, two daughters and several grand-children, as well as hosts of friends in St. John's, Conception Bay and elsewhere, to whom, the Telegram extends its sincerest sympathy in their bereavement.

Gower St. A.B.C.

Gower Street Adult Bible Class held very successful Rally Day Service yesterday afternoon. Despite the inclement weather there was a record attendance. The programme consisted of several items' from the newly formed orchestra and also a solo from Miss Sylvia Moore. The special feature of the afternoon was an address by Mayor I. C. Morris, who took as his subject "The Years of Jubilee." The speaker briefly referred to the Jubilee of the Old Testament, the Jubilees of the Christian Church, also those of our late Queen Victoria the Good. Special mention was made of the approaching Silver Jubilee celebration of the Dedication of Gower Street Church. Mr. Morris followed this up with a very practical review of the erection of the first Gower Street Church up to the present. Touching reference was made to some of the men through whose efforts the present beautiful structure was erected, many of whom have since entered into rest. He concluded by exhorting all present to enter into the services of next week whole heartedly and not only make them services of outward rejoicing but of real spiritual blessing to all. The address was a masterpiece and Mr. Morris was heartily applauded, many of those present expressing the wish that he would publish it in full.

Marjorie Mahaffety Lost

CREW LANDED SAFELY.

A message from Cape Race to Mr. H. A. Saunders, Superintendent of the Anglo, received yesterday, stated that the schooner Marjorie Mahaffey had gone ashore west of Mistaken Point at noon Saturday and was a total wreck. The message further stated that the crew landed safely. The Marjorie Mahaffey is owned by Messrs. A. S. Rendell and Co., and was bound from Barbados to this port with a cargo of molasses. The schooner was commanded by Capt. Thos. Janes. The Mahaffey left Barbados on Sept. 14th, and some uneasiness was felt about her during the hirricane which visited the place about that time. The captain and crew will arrive here by the Trepassey train to-morrow.
