

Regatta Ripples.

At to-night's meeting of the Regatta Committee the following crews entered:—Antares, Mercantile, Football, Factories, War Veterans, and Intermediates.

Crews entering for both Intermediate and Senior races must produce certificates.

The Boulevard, at its lower end in a bad condition and needs repair. A few hours work by the Council employees would make the thoroughfare passable.

Some hundreds of people were at the Lake side last evening and all the boats were out.

The Fishermen crews so far have put in an appearance. Being busy with their avocation, they will have little time for practice.

The Intermediate Fishermen will all probably carry off the laurels this season.

Quite a number of applications for boats have already been received.

The Football crews are practicing and great rivalry exists between the C.L.B., C.E.I., Star and Cadets. The latter had first practice last night but not with a full crew. The "Stars" appear to be making the best according to the men with the best.

It is reported that the Outer Cove fishermen, winners last year in the Peter, will row the Cadet this season.

Harvey's truckmen's crew were out to the lake last night and showed up. This was their first spin this season.

Harvey's Mercantile crew is being coached by the veteran A. G. Williams. The crew practices daily at the lake.

PTURED BY CANADIAN CUSTOMS.

The Newfoundland schooner Sea King fell into the snare of the preventive fleet yesterday afternoon and was taken to the S.S. Margaret.

Another runner's scalp to string the second in twice as many days, says the North Sydney Mail of Monday last, July 17.

The Margaret sailed from North Sydney about one o'clock yesterday and was back in port with her cargo about four. The Sea King was taken between Bird Island and Point St. John's.

She failed to stop when hailed and headed in for shallow water, but the Margaret put on full steam ahead and cut the schooner off in the escape.

The capture is a comparatively small one, amounting to thirty-six gallon kegs of St. Pierre rum and approximately three thousand hundred dollars without the duty, which would run up to almost as much more.

The liquor was transferred to the Margaret on her arrival with her prize.

It is understood that the master, who is also owner, was closely questioned but refused to give any information about the consignors or shippers, or to disclose his destination.

It is thought the schooner was bound to a Bras d'Or lake point. The Sea King belongs to Isle aux Lacs, Newfoundland, and William France is owner and master. The vessel is unregistered, being less than tons.

Salt Ship in Port.

The Seapool, with a cargo of fishery arrived in port at 6:30 p.m. yesterday and anchored in the stream. A large number of schooners which have been for some time awaiting the arrival, immediately hailed the Seapool when the work of unloading began. The Seapool has over tons of salt all of which will be used to relieve the shortage reported from different sections of the island.
