Beaumont Hamel

To-morrow Beaumont Hamel will be the scene of a solemn ceremony, when Newfoundlanders and representatives of the Allied powers will assemble to witness the opening of the Park and the unveiling of the Memorial to those who made the Supreme Sacrifice on July 1st, 1916.

Hereafter Newfoundland will possess a dependency overseas, occupied by her heroic Dead, and it will be the proud privilege of the generations to come to cherish and maintain this beautiful memorial, which is a credit to those responsible for its conception and execution, and to which the people of to-day have gladly subscribed.

Such an occasion might surely have been marked locally in a fitting manner, but apparently no arrangement has been made for an observance of any kind. Is it even now too late to hold a joint service, for example, to-morrow afternoon or evening on the plateau of our War Memorial? It would not require any elaborate preparation, but if that is impossible, it is to be hoped that one of the services in our city churches during the day will be made appropriate to the occasion.

Inflammable Material

Nothing is more conducive to an outbreak of fire in the forests than the "slash" which is left lying round after the timber has been felled. The bigger operating concerns, we understand, take measures to have the refuse destroyed, but as there does not appear to be a law to enforce all owners of timber land to take the same precautions, it is left in many cases where it falls, a menace throughout the summer to the standing timber.

During the winter logging operations have been carried on near the railway line in the vicinity of Mount Pearl, and our attention has been called to the quantity of tree tops and branches left lying round. As soon as the warmer weather sets in this country will be frequented by numerous picnic parties, and there will be a great risk of fire unless this "slash" is collected and destroyed without delay.

It is to be hoped that the owners will act promptly in the matter and so guard against a conflagration which, fanned by a westerly wind, would not only endanger the property in the neighbourhood, but might even threaten the western part of the city.

Colonel Franklin's London Appointment

The following is taken from the leading article in a Nairobi journal:

"East Africa will learn with much satisfaction that a decision has been taken to establish an Information Bureau in London as soon as the departmental arrangements can be completed. The necessity for such an office was realized in Kenya some years ago, and has been emphasized on innumerable occasions since its first realization by evidence of the ignorance which exists in Britain on many aspects of the life and aspirations of the community in Kenya."

The movement towards a wider outlook both locally and at home, has resulted, as we expected, in the formation of a scheme which includes the whole of the East African territories. Col. Franklin, H.M. Trades Commissioner in East Africa, who has been selected to take charge of the Bureau in London, possesses a wide knowledge of the commercial position in all the territories, and as such he is qualified to manage on office which has changed its meaning since it was first conceived, and is now more in the nature of an Information Bureau than a Publicity Office. But if his knowledge and experience are properly used, the element of publicity will not be completely lost. In any case, the scheme is still largely an experiment. It is not an investment that will show definite returns which can be checked with expenditure but time will prove its inherent value."

The many friends of Colonel Franklin will be gratified to learn of the honour conferred upon him in being selected as the first representative in London, not only of the Kenya Colony, but of the whole of the East African territories.

Following the distinguished services which he rendered during the War, for which he received the D.S.O. and later was made a C.B.E., Colonel Franklin was appointed Trades Commissioner in East Africa in 1919. In that capacity he has demonstrated his sterling qualities, and it is safe to predict that Kenya and the East African territories will never regret having entrusted to him the responsibility of watching over their interests and directing the policy of the Information Bureau in London.

We heartily join with the gallant Colonel's many friends in congratulating him on his appointment, and trust that the future has other honours in store for him.

Magistrate's Court

A man convicted for a breach of sub-section 3, section 24, of the Alcoholic Liquors Act, was fined $10.00 or in default 30 days imprisonment.

A man convicted of being drunk while in charge of a horse was fined $10.00. This is the first case to come up under the Highway Traffic Act. Judge Morris took occasion to read the section and penalties to be imposed under the Act for the benefit of others. Section 49 reads as follows:—"No person shall drive a horse or other animal on or along a highway while unable through drunkenness to do so with safety to other persons using the highway." The penalty for the first offence to be not less than $10 nor more than $50. Second offence not less than $20 nor more than $100. For a subsequent offence not less than $50 nor more than $200.

Superintendent O'Neill intimated to the court that all persons who appear before court in future on charges under Section 49, will be tried under the Act.

Workman Had Eye Knocked Out

As a result of being hit by a piece of metal, whilst working on the schr. John Llewellyn, yesterday evening, George Kennedy, of Scott Street, lost his eye and received a number of serious cuts about the face. Kennedy with other workmen were engaged at a winch hoisting out molasses and as one of the pulleys was being lowered to the wharf the winch handle snapped off at the turn. The bar of iron about two feet long, hit Kennedy and knocked him unconscious into a dory. The piece of metal fell with considerable force, as it was afterwards picked up about ten feet further forward than where Kennedy fell. The injured man was attended by Dr. MacDonald and he was sent to hospital where an operation was performed and the optic removed. He is doing fairly well at the institution and is expected to make a speedy recovery.

Midnight Blaze at Holyrood

WOMAN AND THREE CHILDREN HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

This morning a message was received by the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs from Holyrood, in which it stated that a house owned by Mr. Walsh, a section man of the railway, was destroyed by fire last night, and Mrs. Walsh with her three children who had retired for the night, barely escaped with their lives. The fire was first discovered by an invalid lady who lived on the opposite side of the road, and although scarcely able to walk, she succeeded in getting out of her home in time to raise the alarm. Had it not been for her promptness, the occupants would have fared very badly, as the rescue party just managed to reach them in time. The fire is attributed to the exploding of a kerosene lamp. The house with its entire contents was totally destroyed.

Child Welfare

HEALTHY BABIES.

"An ounce of Prevention is worth a pound of Cure."

Baby Week.—Baby Week this year begins on June 15, that is on Monday week. The Star Hall will be open for three days, and we hope every mother will visit it at least once during the three days. The details will be in the papers next week, and we are sure you will find something of interest there this year.

The "Mother-Craft Shield" for the Competition has arrived, and it is a possession of which the Welfare Centre is very proud. Come and see it at the Star Hall on June 15.

Baby's Bottles.—Unfortunately many babies are "bottle-fed" so that the kind of bottle becomes quite an important factor. Things to remember when buying a bottle for baby:—

- 1.—One that can be cleaned easily, therefore rounded corners are better than square;
- 2.—One on to which the rubber nipple is pulled on and off easily, so that both the bottle and nipple are thoroughly cleansed before each feeding;
- 3.—If possible a graduated bottle, one on which the ounces are marked clearly, so that Mother can tell the exact amount baby has at each feeding.

Lately we have seen a few really old-fashioned long-tubed bottles. They are one of the worst things baby can have. It is impossible to keep them clean. They ruin baby's digestion. They nearly always give him "Thrush" and they are altogether bad. The way we give baby his meals is very important.

Caplin Plentiful in Placentia Bay

Caplin struck in at Red Island and vicinity during the past week and on Wednesday were very plentiful. Fish is following the caplin and the prospects for the fishermen there are good. A number of "jacks" fishing outside Placentia Harbor had some good fares on Thursday. At Mersheen caplin are not plentiful, but the fishermen are doing exceptionally well with codfish. Boats using jigger or trawls take from four to five quintals daily.

Convicted of Robbery

The young woman belonging to Argentina who was arrested in the city last week by Detective Lee, in connection with a burglary at the store of Philip O'Reilly, Argentina, was tried at Placentia on Thursday by Magistrate Sinnott, and on conviction was fined $50.00. The robbery occurred on last Sunday night and the girl in gaining entrance to the store broke a window and cut her hand. Blood marks left on the glass led to her arrest. After the robbery she fled to the city and was located at an uptown boarding house with her hand in bandage. Most of the stolen money was found on her person.

AMERICAN CONTINENT PROSTRATED BY SIZZLING HEAT.

CHICAGO, June 6.

From the rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard the country sweltered last night in the grip of a record breaking heat wave, while weather reports held out little hopes of relief, and the death tolls and prostrations increased. Tabulations revealed that the hot, wet and violent storms which accompanied the heat wave have taken toll of upwards of 175 lives during the past few days. Weather forecasts indicated that sizzling temperatures would continue until Sunday at least. In many cities the Mercury climbed to a new altitude records, causing additional deaths and prostrations. Starting fires, causing the closing of schools and interfering with business in Chicago. Two fires were attributed to the sun's rays on combustible material. Bathing beaches were opened and people were admitted to the parks to sleep, and ice was given to the poor without charge. Cities along the Atlantic seaboard sweltered in temperatures ranging from 90 to 100 degrees.

TEMPERATURE OF 104° REGISTERED.

NEW YORK, June 6.
 New York City, gasping for breath in a temperature of 96°, reported 15 deaths due to heat, restaurants and 80 cases of prostration required medical attention. Over 15,000 slept in the parks last night. The Government Observatory at Keedyville, N. Y., registered 104°.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

June 5th.—Having my old gray suit new furnished, I was pretty neat in my clothes to-day, albeit the weather such that the oldest clothes are best, and in particular am I disgusted with certain of the city's sidewalks which are more than ankle deep in mud. But Lord, what is still worse is that I am splashed all over with mud by the motor coaches that are on every street in greater numbers than ever before. Indeed, there are now more than 300 of them in the city and every steamer that arrives in this port brings more of them. Povey tells me how many coaches do drive about without identification plates and he thinks it a serious matter that this should be permitted, being that if temporary plates may not be secured, the coaches should remain in their garages until they do obtain them. My wife complaining bitterly of the weather, I did chide her for it, since it is much better that we should suffer the heat than be prostrated with the heat as the public despatches tell us, do now happen in America. Newses of the fishery good on every hand and in particular, the banking vessels do well, which, it is means a revival of interest in this form of fishing, is indeed a good thing for the country.

Met With Tragic Death

Detective Walsh, who was detailed to investigate the tragic death of Grace Williams, of Isle of Valen, on Sunday, May 24th, returned to the city last night's train. It appears that the unfortunate girl was visiting her sister at Mersheen, and spent the Sunday afternoon at the home of a friend. In the kitchen laid on a rack was a breach-loading gun, from which the owner had not extracted the cartridges, owing to faulty mechanism, when he laid the weapon there the evening before. At the time of the accident, the girl, tying her neck-lace, was standing under the gun, the muzzle of which slipped off the strap by which it was supported, owing to jarring of a door. The charge went through the head in which she held the neck-lace, and entered her chest. She died instantly. Both mother and father were grief stricken over her tragedy.
