

Mr. Warren D. Wentz
of Geneva, N. Y.

Tells of His Fearful Sufferings After Gastric Fever and His Cure by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

All who know Mr. W. D. Wentz give him the best of recommendations for honesty and integrity. For many years he has worked for Mr. D. P. Wilson, the harness maker and member of the Geneva Board of Health. He says:

"I was taken sick last October with gastric fever and my chance for recovery was considered almost hopeless. After 7 weeks the fever slowly left me, but I could not eat the simplest food without terrible distress. It seemed that I had recovered from the fever to

Die of Starvation
I took poison compounds, bismuth, charcoal, cod liver oil and malt until my physician considered that his skill was about exhausted and he did not know what else to try. Everything I took seemed like pouring molten lead into my stomach. I happened to think that part of a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla that had been in the house for two or three years, that I found had benefited me previously for dyspepsia. I began taking it and soon began to feel better. I have now taken a little over two bottles and can truthfully say I feel well again and can eat anything without distressing me."

Pie and Cheese
I have been unable to touch for years. The English language does not contain words enough to permit me to express the pleasure I would like to give to Hood's Sarsaparilla."

W. D. WENTZ, 165 Castle St., Geneva, N. Y.

A Good Voucher
"I have known Mr. Warren D. Wentz for many years and can vouch for him as a man of veracity and one well known about here. I have sold him several bottles of

Hood's Sarsaparilla
during the past few months." M. H. PARK-
HILL, Druggist, Geneva, N. Y.

Hood's Pills Cure Liver Ills

PATENT MEDICINES AND SEEDS.

City Merchants Complain to No. 3 Committee and Want the Market

Bylaw Amended—Their Request Granted.

J. S. Pearce complained to No. 3 Committee last evening that on Saturday seeds were sold at 1 cent a package by unknown men on the market. A patent medicine firm had an advertisement on one side of the packages and a Toronto seed firm on the other. He thought it was an outrage on city seed merchants and should be prohibited. As large taxpayers, citizens should be protected.

The patent medicine man did not deny, said A. M. Hamilton, that he was losing money on the seeds. Field and garden seed grain should not be retailed on the market.

Ald. Parnell argued that a grave mistake had been made when the market was made free. The bylaw should be amended so as to prohibit the sale of anything but farm, garden and orchard produce on the market, and sales should be made by the producers only.

Ald. Wm. Heaman moved that the bylaw be amended and framed, and the market free for the sale of farm, orchard and garden produce only when sold by the producers and growers themselves. Ald. Parnell seconded and the motion carried.

The engineer reported necessary repairs to the market amounting to $235. Referred to chairman and Ald. J. Heaman.

Inspector Bell reported that $1,228 had been collected as license fees for 1922. Received and filed.

Joseph Hewitt asked to be allowed to take out an auctioneer's license by paying $20 when it is obtained and $20 at the end of six months. The matter was left with the chairman and inspector.

The wood market clerk reported having measured 559 loads of wood and received $245 fees during April. No. 2 Committee will rule the actions of the clerk during the summer months.

Ald. Parnell asked permission to erect a frame boat house at the foot of Dundas street. The lot is within the fire limits. Referred to the engineer.

W. W. Fitzgerald claimed on behalf of James Bally that damages for injuries sustained by his son when run over by No. 3 horse wagon. He alleged that the boy had received permanent injuries. Laid over.

John Evans et al. petitioned for an electric light on the corner of Grey and William streets. Granted.

A communication from the city engineer regarding the establishment of an electric light plant at Springbank was laid over.

The matter of purchasing a gong and some new fire alarm boxes was laid over.

The petition of Wm. O'Connell to have fish peddlers' licenses renewed was filed.

The chairman and Chief Roe were authorized to purchase some fire alarm supplies, an account was passed and the committee adjourned.

There were present: Ald. Fitzgerald (chairman), Wm. and John Heaman and Parnell, Mayor Spencer, Secretary Bell, Inspector Bell, Market Clerk Wilson and the city engineer.

The Ruling Passion.
Undertaker (to dying editor)—What shall we place on your tombstone? Editor (tearfully)—We are here to stay.

The tramp considers himself a great man in disguise.

A girl less than fifteen years old, in St. Louis, has been already married, divorced and remarried.

HARRY LENOX
MERCHANT TAILOR,
Corner Richmond and Caroline Streets,
Has received four cases of

New Spring Goods, which will be sold at lowest prices.
Call and see them.

QUEEN'S PLATE PROSPECTS.

Chances for London Looking Brighter.

Hal Pointer and Direct Matched—His mare leads the leading at the New York Fair.

THE TURF.
THE QUEEN'S PLATE.

Toronto Globe: Just where the Queen's Plate winner is coming from it is pretty hard to say. As race day draws near, it becomes evident that a good many of the Platers are not of a very high class, and a mile in 1:50 will stop a good many of them even next week, to say nothing of the extra quarter that will have to be covered to reach the judge's box. Most of the horses are backward in their preparation for such a race, and there is little time to key them up. It is reported that O'Donoghue "will not do," and Martello has gone very lame. Terrence has not the speed of her brother. Japonica still has her clambering, awkward style of galloping, and is high in flesh. The chances of the London lot look brighter than they did, for Curtin is said to be getting them fit in time. Albert Victor is by one of the best stallions that has come to Canada, and though a bit green is a pretty fast colt. Baycourt is not so good as when he was wrong and long. Longbeard is well bred, and if he comes down here at all fit will be in the money. He is a large, growthy colt, by Longview, son of Longfellow, and a good racehorse. Longbeard's dam, Mary Williams, is by Barney Williams, son of Lexington, and also a high-class horse herself. The colt was foaled in Canada, of course, and the mare has since produced two colts to Glen Duff, owned by the Messrs. Sage, who own Longbeard. John Dymont's horses are sure to be backward. Gorman will have Gladstone and Bob King nearer fit than most of them, and it begins to look now as if it was largely a question of readiness on the 24th. Heather Bloom looks and gallops well, and her stable has backed her straight and place. Philox has been working in a cart through the spring and is not a likely starter. Harry A. is being trained at Petros, which is against him. Of Charles D., the dark horse from Sandwich, little has been heard lately, but as he is short in his pedigree he is not feared. From the half-bred division, Bismarck is selling along, but has not been asked my question yet. Dom Pedro, whose pedigree on the dam's side does not go far enough, will have to carry 126 pounds. He ran a good race with La Blanche last fall, but he will be another case of "short of work" when the Queen's birthday is here. So the plate is still an open-looking race.

BISMARCK WAS A WINNER.

At the first annual open-air show of the United States Horse and Cattle Show Society at its grounds, on Humber and Fifty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, New York, the day's programme began with a contest for hunters over the jumps. The jumps were of the regulation order, fences, in-and-out, hurdle, brush and open wall.

The Canadian pair, Bismarck and Queensberry, owned by George Pepper, of Toronto, Mayor Grant's gelding Oxford and Molly, a bay mare 15.2 hands high, entered the Sidney Hiller Ripley, were the first contestants. Bismarck proved himself the leader by clearing the fences and hedges as if it required little or no exertion, and when the blue ribbon was fastened to his bridle he seemed to look at his winning prize as a matter of course. Oxford took second prize. The yellow ribbon, given to the winner of third prize, was awarded to Queensberry. Molly got the white ribbon, given to horses very highly commended. The prizes were $100, $50 and $25.

TRIP TIPS.

Ed. Corrigan is so far the largest winner of the Lexington meeting, the earnings of his horse being nearly $10,000.

Hal Pointer and Direct, the famous racing rivals, will meet on the track at Buffalo during the August Grand Circuit for a purse of $5,000. The exact date will be fixed later.

Entries for the 3-minute, 2:35 and 2:27 trotting stakes at the summer meeting of the Woodbine Driving Club have to be made on or before Monday next. The time for naming the horses for these stakes has been changed to the time for making the last payment of entry money on July 15, instead of at the time of second payment as announced in the programme.

THE WHEEL.

The Montreal Bicycle Club is the oldest one in America. It is now eighteen years old, and to celebrate its twentieth they are going to try and have the C. W. A. meet.

BASEBALL.

The shakeup in the Cincinnati team has begun. Barker has replaced Halligan in right. Dickey Johnston is to be signed. Halligan will be released and O'Neil sent to the bench as utility man.

THE CUR.

At Syracuse, N. Y., on Tuesday night, W. H. Clearwater, of Ravenna, Ohio, defeated H. E. Stewart, of Birmingham, in a 15 point pool match for $50 a side by a score of 150 to 103.

Assassinated.

Buffalo, Wyo., May 11.—Another assassination believed to be due to stock troubles is reported yesterday. While coming from the Hoe ranch on Powder River, George Welman was shot from ambush and killed.

Triplets.

New York, May 11.—Mrs. John Schmal, of Woodhaven, L. I., gave birth to boy triplets Friday. Their combined weight was ten pounds. Mother and triplets are doing as well as could be expected. The father is a Long Island Railroad conductor.

Save Firemen Save Six Lives.

New York, May 10.—Fire broke out in a tenement, No. 367 Warren street, Brooklyn, at daybreak. The tenants on the top floor were hemmed in by flames the firemen cutting off escape. Officers Duffy and Goldrick, third precinct, saved six persons by catching them as they dropped from a window.

Starvation in Oklahoma.

Wichita, Kan., May 11.—A fearful state of destitution and starving exists among the colored colonists scattered through the Black Jack country, around Kingfisher, O. T. It is said there are between 500 and 600 families with starvation staring them in the face. The colored people blame the men who organized the colonies in the south, and charge them with misappropriating the funds which, it was thought, would tide the emigrants until they could raise a crop.

Still they come!

Thousands of thousands of smoke and the land, appearing in the high terms of the worth of the same. The popularity of this brand is so great that it is made by H. McKAY & Co., London, a firm possessing one of the largest and best-equipped establishments in Canada.

TERSE TELEGRAMS.

The Boston Evangelical Alliance has adopted resolutions condemning the Chinese Exclusion Act.

The French Cabinet has voted 300,000 francs to pay of indemnities for losses resulting from the recent dynamite outrages.

In Anderson county, S. C., Tuesday Wm. Wilson, a white farmer, cut his wife's throat, killing her instantly. He then cut his own throat and died.

Thomas Mulligan, a Long Island City policeman, attempted to take a horse out of a stable near which a fire was raging. The horse kicked Mulligan in the abdomen and killed him.

The Buffalo Y. M. C. A. central department has now a paid-up membership of 2,023—the largest during its existence.

Treasurer Newell's annual report shows that the receipts and expenditures balanced at $17,524.89.

During the eight years of its existence the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Buffalo has found employment for 2,000 to 3,000 women. Mrs. Elsie J. Shepard, the secretary, said in her annual report, while over $7,600 has been raised for the work.

Notwithstanding a steady downpour of rain Ogdensburg, N. Y., was in holiday array on Wednesday in honor of the arrival of Bishop Gabrielle, the new head of Ogdensburg diocese. There was a procession, a banquet and presentation of $3,000, the gift of the priests.

When the section hands at No. 24, near Lyons, Texas, on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad, returned from work Tuesday they found Mrs. McDonough, the wife of the boss, and the 7-year-old son murdered, the woman having doubtless first been criminally assaulted.

FROM CHATHAM.

Tampering with a Letter—Instantly Killed.

CHATHAM, Ont., May 11.—Alexander Jamieson was fined $150 and costs—in all amounting to $200—for the misdemeanor of tampering with a letter contrary to postoffice law.

Victor Chaine, a young man living near Stoney Point, while walking on the track last night was struck by No. 2 express and killed. The body was torn and horribly bruised. Death was instantaneous.

BUTCHERED FOR HER MONEY.

An Old Colored Woman Found Murdered in Camden, N. J.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 11.—Lydia Ann Wyatt, colored, 78, was found dead in her home on Sixth street, her brains having been beaten out. The man with whom she had lived, James R. Moulton, also colored, is under arrest for the crime.

Robbery was the incentive for the murder, as the woman was reputed to be well off. A week ago she had sold some property for $800. Moulton never had any money, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

Sad Death of a Newspaper Man and His Little Child.

St. Louis, May 11.—Arthur E. Grubb, a newspaper reporter, was taken to the dispensary at an early hour Tuesday morning unconscious. Dr. Fitzpatrick detected the odor of opium and prescribed the usual remedy, but his patient did not survive. The victim was a bright young man, but when arrested $250 was found on him. He denies having killed the woman, and says that she injured herself by falling down stairs.

The room in which the woman was killed was in disorder when the police took possession of it. The store was upset, the table and chairs broken and the walls smeared with blood. Every drawer in the bureau had been ransacked and wearing apparel which they contained strewn about.

The authorities say they have a letter written by Moulton to a Philadelphia physician, offering to sell him Mrs. Wyatt's body, "dead or alive."

"OUR BABY IS DEAD."

ALONG THE RAILWAY LINES.

Annual Meeting of C. P. R. Directors.

Yearly Statement—The Company Still Holds Nearly 7,000,000 Acres of Land—Gould's Latest Gobble.

The Illinois Central has broken ground for a new $1,000,000 depot in Chicago.

Mr. John C. McFadden, of Port Huron, has been made agent of the Grand Trunk at Fort Gratiot.

The Reading Railroad has resolved upon a general reduction of 10 per cent. in tolls on anthracite coal and some other materials on all lines, applicable to all furnaces, mills and manufacturing, to take effect on May 11.

A deputation from the Hamilton (Ont.) Board of Trade interviewed General Manager Sargeant, of the G. T. R., on Wednesday in regard to the traffic difficulty on the Grand Trunk between Hamilton and Barrie. The deputation was courteously received, and left for home, expressing themselves well satisfied with the result of their trip to Montreal.

An Albuquerque, N. M., telegram says: It is reported the Pecos Valley Railway has passed into Jay Gould's control. The possession of this road will give Gould control of all the trade of Southwestern Mexico, which is developing more rapidly than any other portion of the territory.

The yearly meeting of the directors of the C. P. R. was held on Wednesday at Montreal, when the eleventh annual report of the directors was submitted.

Gross earnings, $20,241,063.88; working expenses, $12,231,430.11; net earnings, $8,009,633.77; deducting fixed charges accruing during the year, $4,664,493.45; surplus, $3,345,140.32. From this two supplementary dividends of 1 per cent. each were paid, amounting to $1,300,000, leaving a surplus carried forward of $2,045,140.32; surplus of previous years, $2,656,432.83. Total surplus, $4,701,573.15. The working expenses for the year amounted to 60.43 per cent. of the gross earnings. The company sold 97,240 acres of land for $414,945, and still owns 6,711,508 acres. The old Board of Directors were re-elected. W. C. Van Horne was elected president; T. G. Shaughnessy vice-president, with the following executive: Sir Donald A. Smith, W. C. Van Horne, R. B. Angus and T. G. Shaughnessy.

HAS ENNOBLED LABOR.

The biography of Germany's quaint warrior, Count Von Moltke, has been published. His simple habits were illustrated by the fact