—The annual meeting of the Christ Church Guild was held in the lecture room last night. There was a good attendance of members. The election of efficers for the ensuing year was held, and the following were chosen: Honorary president, Canon Smith; president, Mr. W. O'Brien; first vice-president, Mr. A. G. McCormick; second vice-president, Mr. J. Pattridge; secretary, Mr. J. T. O'Brien; treasurer, Mr. Chas. Stevens; marshal, Mr. W. Winder; guard, Mr. George Loney. Miss Maggie Brown was subsequently appointed organist. A cordial welcome home was extended to the rector, and a vote of thanks to Canon Smith and family for assistance in the guild during the past year was also passed. The latter was carried by a standing vote.

Very Funny.

Why the play at the Grand last night is called "Chip of the Old Block" the world may never know. It might have been "Block of the old chip" for all the name indicates. The big audience that laughed for nearly three hours last night had no time to think of this between explosive gulaws and paroxyams of mirth. The piece is a nondescript. It has the barest sort of plot. People have a vague idea of an heiress whom a villain is trying to cheat out of her rights, which villain is, of course, foiled every time he tries to kill somebody or steal something. But this server as a clothesline on which some very funny things are hung. The comed is broad, but it is not be enough to offend the sensitive. It is mixture of the sheerest nonsense and little pathos, thrown in to give, audience a breathing spell between vulsions of laughter. The house enjit hugely, and that is the chief purpe Very Funny.

It is one of the best productions in the farce comedy line seen here for a long time. The Postoffice Entrance.

The arrangements for public entrance in-to the postofice here have long been a sub-ject of adverse criticism. The lack of a drop letter-box at the main door has also consaining much incompanione; to citizana drop letter-box at the main door has also occasioned much inconvenience to citizens generally. Some time ago the Board of Trade through its secretary requested the Postmaster-General to remedy these defects. Though she matter since that time has been repeatedly urgsd upon the Ottawa authorites, procrastination has invariably resulted. At the meeting of the board last evening, another of those put-off, do-to-morrow, non-committed letters was read from W. D. Lo Seuer, secretary of the Postmaster-General.
