WORKERS COME FROM now under consideration by the THE FEDERAL CAPITAL

Ralph Smith, M. P., and William Sloan, M. P., for Provincial Campaign - General Notes of Progress-Esquimalt Liberals Nominate John Jardine

The operations of the Ottawa "ma-schoolhouse. A. W. McCurdy occu-chine" become more pronounced as pled the chair. Two names were mentioned—those of John Jardine and the provincial general election campaign proceeds. It is quite apparent that the Federal authorities have determined to assist J. A. Macdonald, K. C., and his party in their desperate fight for supremacy in British Columbia by every means in .their power When it was first rumored that W. W. McInnes, then governor of Yukon, intended resigning his posi-tion in order to participate in the elec-tion, it was scarcely credited. As soon as definite information to that effect was received it was surmised, not only by Liberal-Conservatives but by the Liberals themselves, that Mr. McInnes had not been altogether prompted by altruistic sentiments in making such a vital change. It was suggested then that the Dominion government, recognizing the growing importance of the substantiation from various sources, the Liberal candidate, H. C. Brewster, For instance, the somewhat startling to the district, had not had the effect announcement was made some days looked for. The people had not ago that Judge Henderson had given up his seat on the bench for the purpose of facing the somewhat uncertain sure—that his constituents would revicessitudes of British Columbia polimain true to him and to the McBride tics. The action of the ex-commissioner of the Yukon taken separately, or that of Mr. Henderson, now one of the Liberal candidates in Vancouver, considered in the same light, might not have caused such widespread discussion. But looked at in the light of other similar events there could be no doubt in the minds of observers that the Ottawa "machine" was being brought to bear upon the present elec-tion to an unusually marked extent.

More Machine Men The conclusion was borne out by an announcement which was made yesterday and which came from auth-

While the latest development is generally accepted as an unmistakable indication that the Federal authorities are interesting themselves in the present campaign, it also shows that Mr. McInnes has failed to sweep through the province like a firebrand, flaming ever fiercer as it progresses.

That was what was expected of the ex-governor of the Yukon but what actually occurred fell very much short of what was anticipated. Mr. McInnes was received coolly. Therefore the aid of Messrs. confident of victory than they are at Smith and Sloan has been requested. That they will come is assured, whether they will do better than their predecessor. Mr. McInnes, is another question. As a matter of fact, it is scarcely likely that they will meet the public issues under discussion may be found by a canvass among local politicians of an unbiased caste, nes was tolerated. The Liberal-Conservatives are pursuing an even course unperturbed. From their view-point the situation is indeed roseate. But, although the outlook is bright, they are not allowing their energies to slackthey are working with enterprise system in every district, and the reports which are constantly being re-ceived, given the most moderate inter-pretation, indicate an overwhelming vic-tory for Premier McBride and his government. Feb. 2, judging from general indications, should be the most triumphant to the Liberal-Conservatives of the West in the history of British Columbia. It is only necessary to "size-up" the situation on the Island and then to note the most successful progress being made by the Premier through the interior to realize the correctness of this conclusion. realize the correctness of this conclu-

No particular enthusiasm was displayed. A short address by Mr. Jardine and equally brief speeches by others present terminated the proceedings.
