Humber District-A Busy and Thriv-

FOUNDING AND MOULDING. The Extensive Works of the Bolt and Iron Co-Remarkable Development of the ing Town Springing up. The annual stockholders' meeting of the Bolt and Iron company was held Friday afternoon at the company's new and splendid workshops near the banks of the Humber. After an inspection of the new buildings the gentlemen as embled were called to order, and much satisfaction was felt when Mr. A. Livingston announced that the earning of the company would allow the pay. The annual stockholders' meeting of the ings of the company would allow the payment of a dividend of ten per cent., which was declared shortly after. The old board of directors were nearly all elected, and upon motion being made full powers were given to the manager, Mr. Livingston, to transact any and all business pertaining to the comany and all business pertaining to the com-pany's affairs. It was also voted to open the stock-books for the sale of the treasury stock remaining unsold. This will shortly done. As this company has had such great success in the past, and is at present erowded to its utmost capacity with railroad work, which compels the running of both establishments, and which bids fair to be one of the largest if not the largest iron works in the dominion, we give a brief description of the establishment.

The Dominion bott works company's principal factory outside of To-ronto is situated upon the banks of the Humber and fronts on the great lake. It is a large one story, 129 x 333 feet, three hip corrugated fire proof iron 100f building, supported in the centre by 42 10-inch iron columns, the building covering a space of 48,762 square feet, with store-house floorage of 12,305 square feet, the cost having been $35,000 for the bare building, which does not include the large engine house and boiler room. Under this roof can be seen either erected or in course fraction 175 belt, making machines of roof can be seen either erected or in course of erection 175 bolt making machines of the latest and most improved description. Some of these machines are of a very large capacity and require the attendance of several hands. To drive this large number of machines about 2 miles of belting and four lines of rakin shafting, in all over 1000 feet in length, are required, which is driven by a 45 foot 22 inch two-ply belt, assisted by 150 feet of 20-inch belting, the power being supplied by a handsome Corliss low pressure, 150 horse-power engine, made by Messrs. Inglis and Hunter, the steam generators being two (100 horse the steam generators being two (100 horse power each) steel tubular boilers with improved smoke consumers. Aside from these bolt making machines a large number of small blast furnaces, supplied with Sturtesvyant blowers are constructed and which are also used in the manufacture of bolts. The G. T. railroad has laid a side track in front of the building capable of holding a full train of cars and which is to be further extended so that coal cars can be run direct to the door of the building and be carried to the bins by tramcars can be run direct to the door of the building and be carried to the bins by tramways. This will cause a saving to the company of $3000 per year on their coal bill.

Not long will the bolt works remain ing glossy, and will also cool the skin.

Not long will the bolt works rema alone upon the Humber, as the construc-tion of two new factories will be comtion of two new factories will be commenced alongside of the above building. The ground has been purchased and the erection of the new paper mills 80 x 300 feet and 3 stories high; also the new foundry and machine shop building 75 x 200 and 50 x 300 feet. The foundations are now being laid for the new rolling mill by the Bolt company and it is expected that before snow flies another fire-proof building will have reared its head, and as these buildings are to be erected immediately the prospects of Humberton are of the brightest. These firms will employ in all about 1200 men, and it appears an assured fact that a small town will be erected in the Humber district before people generally are aware of the vast improvements now taking place in this section.

The Lacrossists and the Sunderland Disaster.
To the Editor of The World.

SIR: I suppose that the telegraphic despatches from here to Canada, and by this lic of the terrible calamity in Sunderland, by which nearly two hundred children between the ages of four and fourteen were crushed and suffocated to death in one mass. Here in England the sympathy is intense, from our ever sympathetic queen down to her humblest subject. Our lacrosse teams representing Montreal and Toronto cities, were invited to play in Sunderland on July 16, and as soon as we heard of the accident we telegraphed to the mayor offering to cancel the engagement or fulfil it, and give the entire proceeds, not deducting hotel and traveling expenses of both Canadians and traveling expenses of both Canadians and Indians, to any fund the mayor desired. The latter offer was accepted. Since then, another invitation has been sent to us from Houghton, five miles from sent to us from Houghton, five miles from Sunderland, which we have also accepted upon the same conditions. Will the press of Toronto and Montreal please copy this letter as if sent directly to each paper, and take up a suggestion I have to make. Everywhere we go, the warmest expressions are heard toward Canada. As predicted, our visit is doing more to put Canada into the minds of the people than years of ordinary work. Cannot we in Montreal and Toronto raise subscriptions from among our schools. raise subscriptions from among our schools, Sunday and day schools, and from other sources among the children, and send the mayor of Sunderland a Canadian contribu-tion from Canadian children to show their tion from Canadian children to show their sympathy? Every parent who has children must feel deeply for the dreadful bereavement in "our old home." I would suggest that the clergy of the various churches organize some system of collection, and that they control the funds, leaving their disposal to the mayor of Sunderland and the committee with him. Her majesty the queen has just given £50.

Canadian Banks in Chicago. The Bank of Montreal and the Canadian Bank of Commerce have begun suits in the United States circuit court at Chicago to recover $50,000 and $30,000, respectively; of J. D. Harvey, collector of internal revenue, for back taxes paid under protest. The banks claim they are only branches of banks in Canada, that they have only a limited capital at Chicago, and do business on it, and that their earnings, though very large, should only be taxed on their capital stock; but the commissioner of internal

An Elegant Blackguard. York Sun says: The Duke of Marlborough lied of heart disease as he was about getdied of heart disease as he was about getting into bed on Wednesday night. He was one of the most respectable members of his distinguished family. He gambled a good deal, but he always paid up, even if he had to sell off the wonderful art trea-

Woodstock, including the residuum of the Sunderland library, et cetera. His present grace married Lady Alberta Hamilton, daughter of the duke of Abercorp, and has by her a son and three daughters. For family reasons she condoned his adultery with Lady Aylesford, a case in which the Prince of Wales was deeply compromised; and she even forgave him for knocking her down at the breakfast table with a blow of his fist. It was only when she discovered his relations with a woman of low station, and found how irreclaimable he was, that the celebrated Blandford divorce case ensued. The decree nisi will become absolute in about three weeks, until when she will be duchess of weeks, until when she will be duchess of Marlborough, relapsing afterward to her former title of Lady Alberta Hamilton, and former title of Lady Alberta Hamilton, and going probably to Canada with her sister Lady Lansdowne. It is understood that the new duke intends to marry his present mistress, by whom he has two children. She also has two others, acquired earlier and more promiscuously, toward whom his grace will perform the duties of a stepfather.

Hints for a Lady's Toilet. Wash in rain water, if possible. It soft ens the skin and needs but little soap. Bathe the face and hands every evening with milk, and rub with lemon. This prevents sunburn.

Do not pinch the hand up in hot mous-quetaire kid gloves. The silk ones or lace will look as well, are as fashionable and twice as comfortable.

Do not lace unless you wish to suffer un-told misery, or wear right slippers or shoes. Wear slippers whenever you can, as they are always the coolest. Wash the front hair in soap and water every evening before retiring. This opera-tion keeps it dry and gives it a crisp look, which effect is so much sought after, and i the hair comes uncurled it will not hang

On rendering judgment the learned judge, Vice-Chancellor Ferguson, said: "After hearing all the evidence on the subject, and looking at the two books, and hearing all that was, and, as I think, could be urged on behalf of the parties respectively,

And mislead them into the belief that when they purchased the Defendant's book they were getting the plaintiff's book.

I do not think this a case at all of a different book, alleged to be a better one, being published with the view of its eclipsing a rival book of fair competition in the business.

The book was put upon the market and furnished to others to be sold by them.

And exhibited to the public for sale in such a form and manner as to deceive people into the belief that the one book was the other book.

The defendants must have known this would be so, and I have no doubt they intended it should be so. The preparation of the books was, I think, a part of the scheme and I incline to the opinion that, on the mrits, it is 3-called novelties and improvements are more colorable changes.

After an attentive consideration of the subject I am of the epinion that the plaintiff has succeeded in establishing the collusion and fraud that he has changed against the defendants in this respect, and I think it my plain duty to express this finding in unmistakable, however strong the desire to avoid the necessity of so doing."
