At the first sitting of the County Court at Sarnia this week, the officers of the Court presented to His Honor Judge MacWatt, and asked to have placed on the records, a tribute of memory of the late Julius P. Bucke who held the office of Crown Attorney since 1877 and whose kindly disposition and gentlemanly bearing towards all was so highly valued.

A town is like a large family. We are all interested in each other's welfare, or should be. A cut-throat, every-man-for-himself policy means ruin for any community. It means retrogression and failure. The first lesson that any family must learn is that to be happy and successful is unity and mutual assistance. The same applies to the business life of a town and the more generally it is obeyed the more abundant will be the town's prosperity. Stand by each other and patronize the home folks.

Your fair ground and cemetery are on the land owned by John Park. What changes since then. Lambton's noble 149 were not born, and the fearful struggle they have gone to settle was only a prophesy."

Siddall—Crawford

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Crawford, Ash Grove Farm, Lobo, on Wednesday, June 7, when their daughter, Christina Isabel, was united in marriage to Wm. Glenn Siddall, M. D., of Watford, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert McCullough, of Ivan, beneath a bower of bridal roses and lilacs prettily decorated with flags, of which a large Union Jack formed a very appropriate background. Amid the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Miss Ada O'Neil, of London, the bride entered and was given away by her father, Mr. Peter A. Crawford. She looked most charming in a gown of duchess satin, with trimmings of georgette crepe and pearls, wearing a bridal veil with coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Crawford, sister of the bride, who wore a most becoming gown of corn colored silk, with overdress of embroidered net, and Miss C. Siddall, sister of the groom, attired in shell pink taffeta, with bodice of lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Little Misses Helen and Virginia Clarke, niece of the bride made delightful little flower girls and ring bearer, the former wearing a dainty white embroidered frock, the latter a pale yellow silk, with overdress of real lace, each carrying a basket of flowers. The duties of best man were performed by Mr. Harvie Siddall, brother of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch, to each of the bridesmaids, gold pins set with pearls to the flower girl and ring bearer, gold signet rings, and to the groomsmen, a gold watch fob. During the signing of the register Miss Mary Sheehottam, of London, rendered a beautiful solo, "The Crown," in a most pleasing and acceptable manner. After congratulations the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. The presents were numerous and costly, including cut glass, silver, cutlery, china, oil paintings and also several checks.

Dr. and Mrs. Siddall left on the evening train for Toronto, Niagara Falls and points east, amid showers of confetti and with good wishes of their many friends. The bride's travelling suit was of green tulle silk, with a French pattern hat of pale pink.

Nearly 150 guests were present from Jackson, Mich.; Toronto, London, Watford, Glencoe and Lobo. On their return Dr. and Mrs. Siddall will make their future home in Watford.
