We have learned that the Telephone Co. has removed the last instrument from this locality. It will indeed prove a great inconvenience to the public in matters of business, and in case of a physician is wanted in a hurry, four miles will have to be travelled to get communication. Is there no place they can put in an instrument for the public's benefit? If not, why cannot the farmers of this locality get together and build themselves a line through this part of the valley, independent of any company or corporation. We think they could.
