

- Davin, Nicholas Flood—Editor Regina "Leader"; author of "Eos," and other poetical works, 16, 286.
- Dawson, Rev. Æneas McD.—Well-known writer, 148.
- Devlin, R. J.—Author of "Korn-Kobb" Letters, 102.
- Dewart, Rev. Dr.—Eminent Methodist divine; editor "Christian Guardian," 374, 386.
- Dixon, Frederick A.—"Maire of St. Brieux," and "Masque of Welcome," fugitive verse of merit, 40, 128, 220, 242, 360.
- Donnelly, James—Well-known French writer, 244.
- Dufferin, The Earl of—Governor-General of Canada from 1873 to 1878, 398.
- Duncan, Sara Jeannette—"Garth Grafton"—Graceful and versatile writer on social and literary topics; contributor of "Saunterings," reviews, etc., to the "Week," 408.
- Duvar, Col. Hunter—Fugitive verse of merit, Canadian ballads, etc., 28, 322.
- E. C. P.—Miss Peachall—326.
- Edgar, J. D.—Published "White Stone Canoe," 186.
- "Esperance"—Miss Ardagh—Fugitive verse of merit, 48.
- Evanturel, Eudore—Brilliant and polished writer, 142, 224, 348, 396.
- Falcon, Pierre—A famous raconteur and local poet, 194.
- "Fidelis"—Miss Machar—Published several prose works; much occasional verse of merit, 130, 208, 276, 304.
- Fiset, L. J. C.—34, 164.
- Fraser, J. A.—110.
- Fréchette, Louis Honoré—The most widely known of French-Canadian poets; published "Mes Loisirs," in Quebec, 1863; also, "Pêle-Mêle," etc., etc. M. Fréchette is a Laureate of the French Academy, and has produced the most elegant and polished verse yet given to the world by a Lower Canadian writer, 7, 18, 56, 66, 76, 118, 148, 254, 276, 308, 312, 316, 376, 386.
- Fréchette, Achille—Brother of Mons. L. H. Fréchette; distinguished in art and letters, contributor to periodicals, etc., 134.
- Fuller, W. H.—Dramatic author; "H. M. S. Parliament," "Off to Egypt," etc., etc.; fugitive verse of a comic order, parodies, etc., all exhibiting exceptional brilliancy and powers of satire, 160, 182, 260.
- Garneau, François-Xavier—Distinguished historian and poet, 294.
- Garneau, Alfred—Son of the above; occasional verse, 318.
- Garnier, J. H.—Published "Don Pedro," a dramatic poem, 26, 264.
- Gingras, M. l'Abbé Apollinaire—Published a brilliant and tender volume of verse: "Au Coin du Foyer," 262, 350, 364.
- "Gowan Lea"—Miss Mary Morgan, of Montreal—Fugitive verse of unquestionable merit, 292, 318.
- Griffin, Martin J.—Present Librarian of Parliament, Ottawa; fugitive verse of much beauty, 56, 64, 150, 234.
- Gundry, A. W.—Fugitive verse; translated "Manon Lescaut," 1887, 86.
- Haight, Jennie E.—Well-known teacher and author of many poems of power and devotional feeling, 388.
- "Harriet Annie"—Miss Wilkins—Published the "Holly Branch," in 1851; at one time a most popular writer; the Adelaide Proctor of Canada, 290.
- Heavysege, Charles—Published in 1857, "Saul," "Jephthah's Daughter," in 1865, and many shorter poems; powerful dramatic writer, with a career akin to that of Octave Crémazie. His works were not appreciated till after his death; they reveal exceptional gifts of thought and style, and are cast in the Shakespearian mould, 64, 68, 100, 112, 196, 234, 270, 400.