

Applications for incorporation has been made by the Compagnie Electrique, St. Jean Baptiste, Montreal, for the purpose of doing a general electrical business, supplying light, heat and motive power, and manufacturing electric appliances in the Province of Quebec; also for the construction of underground conduits for electrical wires in public streets and roads. The capital of the company is to be $100,000. The names of the directors are as follows:— Messrs. Onesime Marin, notary; Hon. Louis Tourville; Arthur Caron, gentleman; Raymond Prefontaine, Montreal, M. P.; Israel Charbonneau, manufacturer; Joseph E. Pare, manufacturer; Joseph Lalonde, manufacturer; and Damien Lalonde, manufacturer.

The Beacon Lamp Co., of Boston, are contesting the suit for the infringement of the Edison patent, brought against them by the General Electric Co., with the claim that Henry Gobel, a German American, invented and used an incandescent lamp prior to Mr. Edison's invention, and that consequently the Edison patent is invalid.

S. R. EARLE, Esq., Belleville, Ont. Port Hope, June 23rd, 1892.

DEAR SIR,—We have had in use for some time, your Combined "Air Injector or and Exhauster" and with pleasure we state that it is giving us the most complete satisfaction. Regarding the saving in fuel, we were burning, before using the "Injector," two tons soft coal per week, at a cost of $9.00; after we put the Injector in, we burn two ton hard coal screenings per week at a cost of $2.00 making a saving of $7.00 per week, which speaks for itself. We have a much cleaner and better fire and far less trouble in keeping steam. We consider your invention a boon to all parties using steam boilers. Wishing you every success, we are,
Yours truly, (Signed) THE CANADIAN OILED CLOTHING CO.
