BOXER'S FLAME-PROOF SOLUTION.

PATENTED 1882.

This valuable FLAME-PROOF SOLUTION is equal to Asbestos for coating over interior woodwork.

In the construction of Saw-mills, Manufactories and Public Buildings, or upon any woodwork near boilers and furnaces, a coating of this solution is preferable to a metal lining.

FLAME-PROOF PAPER.

This paper, which is saturated with the solution, is valuable as a protection against fire, when placed under shingles or under clap boards.

OILY FLOORS.

Floors or wood on which much grease is spilled can be cleaned and rendered unflammable by the application of the solution.

The following certificates will testify to its value as a protection against fire:

MONTREAL, 20TH MARCH, 1882.

We, the undersigned representatives of Fire Insurance Companies at Montreal, having witnessed a test of the flame-proof qualities of BOXER'S FLAME-PROOF SOLUTION, have much pleasure in stating that the test of attempting to burn a house coated over with the Solution, and filled with paper and shavings saturated with coal oil, was very satisfactory.

We therefore can highly recommend it for shingle roofs and wood buildings, and believe that its use in Manufactories, Schools, Public Buildings, Steamboats, &c., would prove the saving of many human lives:
